

NIGHT EDITION CHARTER BILL

Substituted for the Adverse Report in the Senate Today

Senator Hibbard Has Original Bill Substituted by an Almost Unanimous Vote—Further Action on Monday

In the senate this morning the Lowell charter bill was substituted for the adverse report of the committee on cities by practically a unanimous viva voce vote.

The committee's report was presented by Senator Joseph Lomasney, acting on behalf of the committee, and Senator Hibbard immediately moved the substitution of the original bill to submit the proposition to the people. Senator Hibbard then addressed the senate briefly, stating that the people of Lowell simply wanted an opportunity to voice their sentiment on the new charter proposition and determine whether a majority of the citizens of Lowell wanted a new charter or not. He stated that the people of Lowell believed that they were entitled to the right to decide for themselves on such a matter.

Senators Newhall and Denny also spoke in favor of the bill. Senator Lomasney spoke briefly for the committee, but had nothing to say against the charter itself. A viva voce vote was then taken, and it was voted by all with the exception of Senator Lomasney to substitute the bill for the report.

The bill will come up for a second reading on Monday and Senator Hibbard expects that it will go through that body with flying colors. He will then ask for a suspension of the rules so that it may go to the house without further delay.

Rep. Barlow is of the opinion that the bill will pass the house.

TWO LOWELL BOYS

PRO. JAMES MCCARTIN

REV. DANIEL A. BARRY, O. M. I.

Were Ordained Priests in Cathedral in Boston Today

At a mass celebrated at 8 o'clock this morning at the Holy Cross cathedral in Boston, Rev. Bishop Joseph G. Anderson ordained to the priesthood two Lowell boys, Rev. Joseph Henry Filion of the Brighton seminary and Rev. Daniel A. Barry, O. M. I., of the Tewksbury novitiate. A number of brothers from the latter place were ordained deacons and sub-deacons. The deacons are: Rev. Anthony Swenczek, O. M. I., of New Westminster, B. C.; Rev. Robert J. McCoy of Chest Springs, Pa.; Rev. Daniel McCullough of Lonsdale, Ont.; and Rev. Herbert Blissett, O. M. I., of White Valley, B. C.

The sub-deacons are: Rev. Joseph Holde and Rev. James McCartin of Lowell; Rev. Charles Wedd, O. M. I., of Buffalo.

Minor orders were conferred upon the following: Rev. Rosario Jalbert of Lowell; Rev. William Hiley of South Boston; Rev. Charles Fallon of Kingston, Ont.; Rev. Terrence Loftus of Philadelphia, Ont.; and Rev. James McLaughlin, O. M. I., of Roxbury.

The new Oblate father has a brother in this city, Mr. Michael Barry, of 21 Dracut street, and two sisters, Minnie and Catherine Barry; also two other brothers, Michael of New Haven, Conn., and Thomas of Ireland. He will sing his first mass at the chapel of the Tewksbury novitiate Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., of the Sacred Heart parish of this city. A large number of friends and relatives of the young priest will be present at the ceremony.

Rev. James McCartin, O. M. I., who was made sub-deacon is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McCartin of Phoenix street. He is a graduate of the Immaculate Conception school and is a close student. At present he is stationed at the novitiate in Tewksbury.

Rev. Joseph Henry Filion is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Anadict Filion, the former the well known Central street jeweler, and their home is at 245 Middle street. He was born at Nashua 24 years ago, and at the age of 12 years he had completed his commercial course at the parochial school of his native city. Shortly after he left for St. Hyacinthe, Que., where he made his classical studies. After six years, he entered the seminary at Brighton, where he pursued his theological and philosophical studies.

Rev. Fr. Filion is the oldest of a large family, and he enjoys a large number of friends. He will sing his first mass at St. Louis church Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The preacher for the occasion will be Rev. Thomas Marie, of Montreal.

After the mass a grand banquet will be served to several hundred people at the large hall of St. Louis school. The banquet will be followed by a large reception at the home of the young priest's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Anadict Filion, 245 Middle street. The many friends of the young priest will present him a beautiful gold chalice and a purse of gold. The chalice cost $130, and the presentation will be made at the reception held in the afternoon.

THE CATHEDRAL Was Badly Damaged by Earthquake

TUXPAN, Jalisco, Mexico, June 9.—Blas Ruiz, a merchant, is the first to arrive from Colima, the region said to have suffered the greatest shock from the earthquake. He reports the railroad blocked by landslides and that there were only two or three victims at Colima. The roofs of the cathedral and the church of La Merced fell in. The principal damage other than this was a number of small houses. The principal buildings suffered little damage.

SAFE ROBBED

PITTSFIELD, June 9.—A safe in the William Conley Co.'s store was robbed of over $500 in money and non-negotiable paper early today. A stranger representing himself as a dealer in safes, who had been in Pittsfield lately is being searched for. The safe is of an old lock and key affair.

LOWELL WOMAN

Arraigned in Superior Court Today

Mrs. Edith Butterfield, of this city, appeared at the criminal session of the superior court at Cambridge this morning and was given a hearing on an appeal of a fine of $85 for alleged illegal keeping of liquor. Lawyer Joseph E. Longman appeared for the defendant. Mrs. Butterfield, who conducts a lodging house at 42 Tyler street, came into prominence recently when Helen Huchett, aged 14 years, who had been missing from her home in Haverhill for several months was located at the house in Tyler street and as a result of what the girl told the police Mrs. Butterfield was arrested. The principal witness for the government was the Huchett girl.

HIGHLAND HEIGHTS

City Gets Park in New Residential District

HIGHLAND HEIGHTS AND HARRIS PARK

Frank E. Harris, Developer of "Highland Heights," Gives Harris Park to the City—Building Boom in Vicinity of St. Margaret's Church—Notable Restrictions on Land

Through the coming of St. Margaret's Catholic parish to the Highland lands and the advent of Frank E. Harris into the real estate business in the neighborhood a new and booming territory has been opened up in that attractive part of the city while the city of Lowell gets a brand new park into the bargain.

Mr. Harris, who started the development of the new district, has called it "Highland Heights" and therefore that's the name by which the new district will henceforth be known. A new Catholic church is being built on one side of it and a new Protestant church has only been completed on short time on the other side. The Washington and Highland schools are within a stone's throw and thus it is well fixed at the start for religion and education.

The establishment of a new Catholic church in any locality is also followed by an increase of the number of Catholic families in that locality for attendance at church being obligatory on Catholics they naturally like to locate within reasonable distance of the church. Then the district has its own natural advantages while Mr. Harris, who has certain ideas of a high plane in regard to localities, has spent a large amount of money in developing that portion of the district controlled by him according to his ideas and he has placed restrictions on the property owned by him that will insure a first class residential district for years to come.

The Highland Heights district is the district lying between and adjacent to Stevens, Pine, Wilder and B. streets. Mr. Harris' property lies within these bounds and in starting to develop the territory he constructed several new streets, three of which have already been accepted by the city.

In the center of his lot at the junction of D street and Harris avenue is Harris park which Mr. Harris has turned over to the city. The park is oval shaped with broad roadways all around it. It is planted with grass and flowers while the park board intends to further beautify it.

and the bungalow by Mr. Charles F. Libbey. Dwellings are now under construction by Alfred F. Prescott, and A. J. Phinard while S. D. Breen of Pawtucketville is about to build three two-family dwellings. As fast as Mr. Harris disposes of his houses he will build more until the locality is comfortably filled.

Building Restrictions
The restrictions placed on all land by Mr. Harris are as follows: All houses must be either one or two family houses, nothing larger. Each house must set at least 20 feet back from the sidewalk. Each house must have either an asbestos or slate roof. Telephone and electric light poles are being put down in the new district and there are even restrictions on these for they may be laid between the lots instead of on the sidewalk in front of any particular residence.

Mr. Harris' Hobby

Mr. Harris has a hobby and that is poultry farming and he has about completed an immense set of hen houses along Shaw street in which he expects to install 2500 hens and as many more as poultry farming and he has about completed an immense set of hen houses along Shaw street in which he expects to install 2500 hens and as many more as poultry farming and he has about completed an immense set of hen houses along Shaw street in which he expects to install 2500 hens and as many more as poultry farming.

Geographical Advantages

Real estate men almost without exception look upon the corner Highland district as the next part of Lowell to have a building boom. Located in the extreme western part of the city that district is free from smoke at all times. Its height gives it another advantage, that of pure air, for according to the records in the city engineer's office that part of the district in the vicinity of St. Margaret's church is within six feet as high as Fort Hill park. The Highland line of cars runs through the district, while the Westford street line is but a few minutes' walk distant.

At St. Margaret's

which will take place on Sunday afternoon, June 18th at 3:30 o'clock. As was previously announced, Bishop Anderson will officiate and the sermon will be by Very Rev. Dr. Supple.

SMALL DOCKET BEFORE JUDGE HADLEY

The police court session this morning presided over by Judge Hadley was very brief, as there were only drunk cases, and the court disposed of them in 10 minutes. Fourteen altogether were arrested for indulging too much of the "foamy," six first offenders were released this morning by the probation officer, two were fined $2 each and the others were sentenced as follows: James Burns, Edmund J. Champagne, Samuel Adams and Hannah Sears were fined $5 apiece, while Patrick Conley and Patrick Lynch were both given a sentence to the state farm at Bridgewater.

BOATS DAMAGED

They Were Caught in Heavy Gale

NANTUCKET, June 9.—Eleven boats of the Nantucket mackerel fleet were caught southeast of Nantucket Wednesday night and yesterday in the worst northeast gale of the season, and they were struggling into port all day. At dark last night two of the fleet had not yet been heard from. Of these that have arrived one was considerably damaged by being driven ashore on Ed point, another damaged her rudder by striking a jetty, and nearly all the others met with injury to masts or nets. All the boats had heavy fares.

The storm continued heavy last night and yesterday on the boat from New Bedford reported the trip across the sound far from comfortable.

AIDED BY WIND

Aviators Beat Mile a Minute

BOSTON, June 9.—Charles K. Hamilton and Harry Atwood, aviators, who made a sensational flight from Atlantic to Marblehead on Wednesday, made a return flight yesterday in even better time. Borne on the wings of an 18-mile wind, they soared from the Tedesco club in Swampscott to the aviation field at Atlantic, 23 miles, in only 29 minutes, considerably faster than a mile a minute. All along the route they were watched and cheered by thousands.

More than 500 prominent spectators went to the Tedesco club yesterday afternoon to see the start of the flight. At 4:59 o'clock Atwood took the machine aloft. It is Hamilton's little biplane, the North.

After getting the engine running in good shape, Atwood began circling the club and climbed until at one time he was soaring around 1200 feet above the crowd. Then he swooped down and at a much lower level circled the club several times before beginning preparations for descent. One attempt to alight was spoiled by the crowd, which pressed too close, and the aviator had to ascend again. On his next trip round he waved and shouted to the spectators to give him more room, and they did—a little.

Coming round again, he glided for a time. That particular field is a part of the Tedesco golf links, and near the spot Atwood picked out is a high bunker. In swooping down the machine fitted and the left wing missed the top of the bunker by scarcely more than an inch. Then the biplane righted itself and Atwood alighted safely.

When the petrol tank had been filled Hamilton came out and got into the machine, and the flight for home was begun at 5:20. The get-away was without mishap, and the machine soared upward, the crowd cheered. Some one telephoned to the Swampscott police, and the fire bell was rung, calling on every one within hearing to see the air machine. The aviators circled over Swampscott several times, then headed for Lynn.

Crossing over that city they were again the exposure of thousands of eyes. From there they followed the tracks of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn to East Boston, and then across the harbor to Squantum, where they landed at 5:40.

After the flight was over it was learned the machine had made but the trip with but three of its four cylinders working. One had blown a spark plug, temporarily disabling it. Both Hamilton and Atwood expressed themselves highly pleased with their achievement. During the flight it was bitterly cold above, but both the men were heavily dressed and enjoyed it immensely.

CHANGE IN PRICES

OF LEADING ARTICLES OF EXPORTATION AND IMPORTATION

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Domestic prices of leading export commodities in the United States during April were considerably lower than in April of last year, while prices abroad, so far as ascertainable from the record of imports, are less deflated in their tendency. Of the 45 articles of exportation whose monthly export prices are recorded by the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, 22 show lower prices, 2 show higher prices, and 5 show no change. Of the 33 articles enumerated in the table of monthly import prices, 17 decreased in price, 15 increased, and 1 showed no change, comparing April, 1911, prices with those of April, 1910. As the prices of articles exported from the United States are based upon their actual cost, or wholesale market price in the respective domestic ports at the time of exportation, and as the prices of articles imported are those in the country when exported to the United States as stated in the sworn invoices filed with American consuls at foreign ports of shipment, the above citations would seem to justify the general assertion that domestic prices are, for the most part, lower than in April last year, while prices abroad are almost equally divided between increases and decreases.

The export commodities in which the prices were lower in April than in the same month last year include corn, wheat, flour, meats, dairy products, sugar, glucose, cotton seed, oil-cake and meal, bituminous coal, copper ingots and bars, raw cotton, bleached cotton cloth, hay, hops, silk, leather, mineral oils, both crude and illuminated, paraffin, starch, and various manufactures of iron and steel. Higher prices, on the other hand, were reported in anthracite coal, unbleached cotton cloth, canned salmon, rosin, spirits of turpentine, flaxseed, leaf tobacco, and plug tobacco. Dried, colored, and printed cotton cloths, canned beef, and flaxseed oil-cake are unchanged in price when compared with April of last year.

Comparing April prices with those of the corresponding month last year, the export commodities showing the largest percentage decreases in value per unit of quantity were: Butter, 25 1/2 per cent; lard, 23 1/2 per cent; hops, 20 1/2 per cent; cotton seed oil-cake, 20 per cent; illuminating oil, 10 per cent; pickled pork, 17 per cent; corn, 17 per cent; billets, 16 1/2 per cent; cheese, 16 1/2 per cent; tallow, 16 per cent; hay, 15 per cent; hams, 10 per cent; flour, 8 1/2 per cent; wheat, 8 per cent; wire, 8 per cent; and fresh beef, 5 1/2 per cent. Decreases of from 3 per cent to 5 1/2 per cent occurred in copper ingots, refined sugar, beacon, pig iron and bleached cotton cloth. The comparatively few articles whose export prices advanced included rosin, in which the April, 1911, price shows an increase of 62 per cent; spirits of turpentine, 44 1/2 per cent; flaxseed, 29 per cent; canned salmon, 29 per cent; and unbleached cotton cloth, 10 per cent. Plug tobacco, leaf tobacco and anthracite coal were higher in price this year, but in no case did the appreciation average more than 5 per cent.

In imports the largest price increases occurred in lute, 50 per cent; flax, 24 per cent; lin plate, 31 per cent; tin in bars and blocks, 27 per cent; bitu-

LOBBYING CHARGE

MADE BY MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE

BOSTON, June 8.—Charges that persons were on the floor of the house during the debates on the Boston fire hazard bill, the bar and bottle bill and the condensed milk bill lobbying on those matters were presented to the committee on rules yesterday by Representatives Norman H. White of Boston and George T. Daly of Boston.

The committee had under consideration an amendment of the rules proposed by Representative Conway, providing that persons making offensive remarks to members may be removed from the floor of the house. He said his reason for offering the amendment was that during the debate on the condensed milk bill, after making a speech in support of the measure, he went to the side of the chamber to speak to another member, and was then accosted by a stranger, who informed him that he didn't know what he was talking about, and finally in a heated way.

Representative Daly said he had noticed during the year that the rules of the house are being constantly violated. "When the house was debating the bill to repeal the bar and bottle bill, men were sitting in practically every part about the side of the house, urging members to vote for the repeal. The same thing happened when the fire hazard bill was under debate. Men came in then to induce members to vote for the bill."

DIAMOND NOTES

Ouch, a couple of times!

Lynn today at Spalding park and Worcester tomorrow.

Stop the elevator on this floor, boys. Never mind looking for Brockton. Keep up near the roof.

Guy Ringrose is warming up every day with the Burkett bunch, and it won't be long before the youngster will get his tryout. "Primrose," as the boys already call him, is reputed to have a fine assortment of curves, plenty of speed, and, best of all control. Worcester Gazette.

Set him on us tomorrow and see what'll happen.

Mr. Murnane had a birthday a few days ago and informed his friends that he is 42 years of age. And yet my grandfather used to tell about the great game. Tim used to play for Providence when baseball was young.

Halstein, the University of Vermont infielder, is claimed by Manager Gray. Halstein accepted Manager Gray's terms but now says he is not going to play professionally. As he has been registered with Lowell he cannot play professionally outside of Lowell unless Manager Gray permits him to.

Detroit features the July Baseball Magazine. Hugh Jennings, Ty Cobb, Capt. Morarty of the champion Tigers have written their views on fine points in the game. William Phelon, Fred Lieb, Jake Morse, Jack Chapman, Ed. Ashbach, Percy Harrison and a host of well known writers have filled the remaining pages to the brim. Altogether the issue is a live wire and veritable peanut winner among magazines.

Mike Donlin joined the Giants here yesterday, but not until last night did the star slugger secure formal admission. With McGraw. When Donlin reached the hotel this morning at which the New Yorks are stopping he found that McGraw had left word not to be disturbed before noon. Mike was in uniform before the game with the Pirates yesterday. The result of his talk with McGraw last night is not known and probably will not be until the deal is closed that will fix Donlin's baseball destinies. Under the rules of the national commission Donlin was forced to report formally to McGraw before he could accept an assignment to any other club.

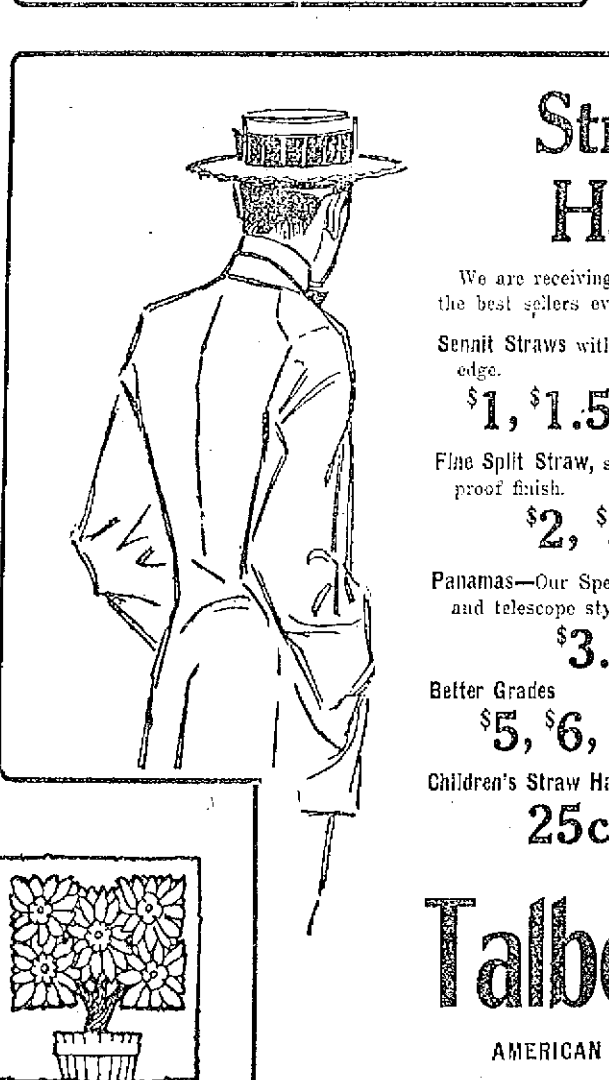

Donlin declared last night that he is as much in the dark as to where he will play as anybody else. They have been talking about sending me to St. Louis or Cincinnati," said the former great outfielder, "but I don't suppose anything is settled yet. I don't mind St. Louis so much, but I would rather go to a minor league club than be sent to Cincinnati."

Donlin appears to be under his old playing weight, but he laughs at this and says he would rather be under than over.

Supremacy in errorless games is anything but coincident with a winning career, taking the games in the big leagues as they have gone so far this season. Including Tuesday's battles each league was led by a second division team. The Clevelanders in the American league had played the most games without a blemish of their defensive record—fourteen. The Brooklyn's had gone through the most encounters in the National league without an error—thirteen. The Pirates must play some part in a team's losses and it may be that these two teams have been making their errors at critical moments. Brooklyn's record of thirteen, by the way, includes five games in succession without an error.

The Highlanders have played eight games without a miscue on the defense, the White Sox nine, the Washingtons three, the smallest number of the lot; the Athletics seven and the Browns five. Next to the Brooklyn's in the National league the Phillies and Pittsburgh have the best record, each having played nine games sans errors. The giants have played seven, the Cincinnati five, the Cardinals eight and the Cubs six. The Pirates played both of their Memorial Day games without an error.

Games in which there was no error on either side number four in the American league and seven in the National. These contests in the Amer-

OUT ON STRIKE

MOTORMEN AND CONDUCTORS HAVE QUIT WORK

NEWYORK, N. Y., June 8.—The motormen and conductors of the Orange County Traction Co. quit in a body today. The men demanded of former Gov. Odell, the president of the company, that the discharge or transfer of William E. Martin, assistant superintendent of the road, who is offensive to them. Mr. Odell declined to get rid of Martin. The Orange County Traction Co. operates the city and suburban trolley lines, all of which are temporarily tied up.

POLLARD AVENUE

N. H. Still Withholds
Permission to Close It

Albert S. Howard of this city went to Manchester, N. H., Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of obtaining the consent of the state of New Hampshire to close Pollard avenue, in Lowell, in order that the Hildreth estate may be extended back to Pollard street. While he received no definite promise he returned much encouraged and believes that the desired permission will be forthcoming.

Pollard avenue lies between Merrimack and Paige streets and separates the Hildreth building and others on the Merrimack street side from property on the Paige street side. For a long time it has been the plan of the Hildreth estate to continue its building back to Paige street, and for this reason in this work, it was decided that Pollard avenue must be closed.

As this avenue has always been a private way, it was necessary merely to secure the consent of the abutters, and this was done, with one exception. Under the will of John Nesmitt, who owned property abutting Pollard avenue, his children were to receive the income from the property while they lived, and upon their death, to the state of New Hampshire was to come into possession. A bill was put through the New Hampshire legislature, authorizing the governor and his council to act, and these men will determine whether or not the avenue is to be closed.

The city of Lowell has voted to lower the sewer in Pollard avenue as mentioned for this was deemed necessary in the extension of buildings from Merrimack to Paige streets.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Mortimer Shaw & Co., presenting "in the North," a comedy drama containing numerous interesting situations and climaxes, is the star feature at the Merrimack Square theatre this week. The play, introduced by three people engaged in its presentation in a manner that brings out their best work and makes it one of the very best offerings of the season. Prof. Dodd and his talking dog, "Fido," is another of the good things of the week and Clarence Wilbur, comedian, sings and talks humorously in popular favor at each performance. This Lowell friends are turning out in large numbers daily to greet him. The daylight motion pictures are absolutely the best shown in the city. "The Summer Girls" in a new and original operetta by G. Wilkins and J. Ecker, introducing seven young women and a clever comedian, will be the feature act for the week. The sketch is a decidedly good one and should meet with the hearty approval of the patrons.

COAT COLLAR WHITE WITH DANDRUFF

Scalp Badly Affected, Itched Terribly, Hair Fell Out. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Now Has Thick Growth of Hair and Is Never Troubled with Any Dandruff or Itching of Scalp.

"I am more than gratified by the successful results I obtained by the use of the Cuticura Remedies. For several years my scalp was very badly affected with dandruff and scales. My scalp itched terribly at times and my hair fell out. My coat collar would be entirely white with the dandruff that had fallen from my head. My profession being that of a barber, I was particularly annoyed by this condition. I was in a position to try many lotions, etc., for the scalp, but with little or no effect. I had heard so much about the Cuticura Remedies that I resolved to try them. I obtained my first supply of Cuticura Soap and Ointment from the Boston branch of the Cuticura Co. and after using them thoroughly, I noticed that my scalp was becoming much better. I was pleased to find that the Cuticura Remedies had cured me. I frequently recommend them to my customers, and they think a great deal of them." (Signed) John V. Wilbur, 307 North Main Street, Boston, Mass., July 28, 1910.

ALDERMAN BARRETT

Says Lowell is Fine Type of American City

The special joint committee on the proposed observance of the 75th anniversary of the incorporation of the city of Lowell met at city hall last night.

Chairman Corbett called to order shortly before 9 o'clock. Secretary Murphy of the board of trade said a committee had been appointed months ago to consider an industrial exposition here, beginning Oct. 12, but that the committee was unable to do anything because of the celebration of April 12.

Mayor McMan said he believed the industrial exposition should be financed by the board of trade. Secretary Murphy of the board of trade said the matter properly belonged to the city government inasmuch as it is an anniversary of the city. He said there was no doubt that the board of trade would do all it could to push the thing along, but he believed it ought to be financed by the city. He felt that the board should not be expected to stand back of the whole thing. Questioned as to the Fall River cotton exposition which opens on June 19, Mr. Murphy said that the project has been one largely backed by public subscription, although the city has spent some money to help it along. That, he said, would be largely a cotton exposition, while any industrial exposition which would be held in Lowell would show general manufacturing. But 43 per cent of Lowell's manufacturing is of cotton cloth, he said. In textiles of all kinds, it rises above 50 per cent. Machinery and foundry products come second. There are dozens of small manufacturers here who would be given an opportunity in an industrial exposition to show their wares. Middlesex street has many of them, the average citizen here knowing nothing of their existence. Such manufacturers would get a good opportunity to open the eyes of the average real estate holder here to the dozens of little but very profitable businesses which have been established here in recent years. He mentioned one place where all of the hat frames which are used for miles around are manufactured, and another where children's rompers, which have an immense sale, are made.

Mayor McMan was averse to any parade, inasmuch as the city has had quite a number of parades lately. He said that no parade of any account could be held unless $2500 was spent.

Mr. Barrett believed in a dignified observance of the occasion. "Lowell to me," he said, "is a mighty fine type of the American city, which grew around a business proposition and the founders of this city are mighty fine types of men. We don't know enough about them. Take Lowell and Jackson and Deett and Francis! More than anything we want to hold up the lives of those men to the young men of today. Those men had foresight, great judgment, were excellent organizers. And Dr. Theodore Elston! Another who should be remembered in every school in this city. The founder of the public school system here. He fought almost single handed for it. And the first principal of the high school here afterwards became the first Protestant Episcopal bishop of Rhode Island, Bishop Clark. And in the first class which graduated were B. F. Butler and Gustavus Vasa Fox, national figures. We understate this city when we don't want to observe its anniversary. We have a whole lot to observe and to think about. I would have an oration which would carry us back to the days when Lowell had its beginnings, when men came here from Lancashire and from Waltham, when Whipple's mills were turning out cloth here for the American soldiers in the war of 1812 and when the first cotton cloth all finished in one building was made in America."

It was finally decided to appoint a special committee to attend the Fall River cotton exposition, on Tuesday, June 20, with the committee of the board of trade. On that sub-committee were appointed Messrs. Connor, Chapman and Barrett.

BANK SUSPENDS

The Deficiency May be $3,750,000

LONDON, June 9.—The Birkbeck bank in High Holborn, which withstood a run last fall caused by rumors that the institution was in trouble, suspended payment yesterday.

The directors estimated the deficiency at $3,750,000, but the actuals think that $3,750,000 will be nearer the amount.

The total liabilities of the bank are $43,350,000.

An official receiver has taken charge of the affairs of the institution.

The directors in a circular issued yesterday say the depreciation in the market price of the bank's securities has been so great that they do not feel justified in continuing the business without a reconstruction.

A petition asking that the affairs of the company be wound up will be presented to the court with a view to reorganizing the bank.

NURSES' ALUMNAE

HELD REGULAR MEETING AT GENERAL HOSPITAL

The Nurses' Alumnae of the Lowell General Hospital held their regular monthly meeting at the Nurses' college, Wednesday, Dr. J. Arthur Gage delivered an interesting and instructive address which was received with much appreciation. The musical program consisted of violin solos by Miss Gretchen Carr, accompanied by Miss Irina Carr. A dainty lunch was served by Misses Holden, Dewhurst, Olson and Campbell, the committee in charge of the meeting.

The annual alumnae picnic will be held at Willow Dale June 28th. The September gathering will be held at the home of Mrs. William Rodden in Varnum avenue.

LOWELL PASTOR

Spoke at Banquet in Nashua

NASHUA, N. H., June 9.—The first laymen's banquet of the three Baptist churches of Nashua was held last evening in the vestry of the First Baptist. One hundred and fifty men attended. The arrangements were entirely by men, but the women of the church assisted in serving the dinner.

Frank Lavene was toastmaster. The principal speaker was Rev. Solon W. Cummings of the First Baptist church of Lowell. Other speakers were Rev. J. Bruce Gilman, Rev. Stephen S. Huse, Jr., of the Crown Hill Baptist church, Rev. H. J. Tetraault of the French mission, and Rev. Harry I. Marshall of Burnham. The Vesper quartet, composed of William H. Lovejoy, Walter D. Littlefield, Leroy K. Moulton, and George Bustin sang.

LEPER BOY

WILL BE SENT TO DETENTION HOSPITAL

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 9.—After failing to get permission for the admission of Harry Sheridan, the boy leper of this city, to Fenwick Island, the board of health yesterday decided to isolate the lad at the detention hospital here in this city. This building has been used for pesthouse purposes in the cases of smallpox from time to time, but is now unoccupied.

The health board takes this action after receiving from Governor Potter a communication that his efforts failed. The boy is the son of Edward P. Sheridan of 55 Kenyon avenue, and has been at his home ever since the agitation of his case has been under way. The arrangements for the transfer are not yet made, but will be in a few days. In the meantime the home of the boy is under close quarantine, police officers guarding the doors.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Educational club the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. A. C. Huston; vice president, Mrs. G. L. Ames; secretary, Mrs. W. Z. Smith; treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Clements. All reports showed an encouraging condition. Mrs. F. E. Varney, in giving a retrospect of the club year, presented to each of the hospitality committee a dainty cut-glass bon bon dish, as tokens of appreciation of their services.

Luncheon was served after the meeting and a pleasant hour was spent. The next meeting will take place next week at the home of Mrs. P. P. Crawford, 610 Varnum avenue and will be a "plaza party."

Warnetta's dance, tonight, Lakeview.

JUSTICE'S SON

Is Accused of Robbing Friends

NEW YORK, June 8.—Merritt Trimble Wyatt, son of Justice Wyatt, of special sessions, was arraigned yesterday in the Jefferson market court on a charge of grand larceny. Although young Wyatt is said to have a large income, he is alleged to have run up bills of various kinds, but for comparatively small amounts, and to have charged them to his best friends.

Saunder C. White, floor manager of a Fifth avenue department store, appeared against the prisoner. The evidence offered by Mr. White had been obtained by John P. Larkin, the store's detective. It was alleged that the young man represented himself to the store manager as the son of Mrs. E. J. Jenkins, of No. 11 Riverside drive, and upon this recommendation obtained a variety box, a mirror, face powder, three silk vests, a quantity of silk underwear, a cane, a clock and other articles classed as "fancy goods."

Nearly all of the things obtained by Wyatt from his store were found in his apartments, at Fifty-ninth street and Madison avenue. There, too, was discovered twelve yards of the most expensive satin, which was afterward claimed by another department store. For what use the satin was intended could not be learned.

That Wyatt intended to make gifts to women friends of these things, which were of a nature to appeal to woman's fancy, was denied by the detectives. They said, furthermore, that he had apparently made no attempt to pawn the articles, although admittedly hard up for money at times.

Mrs. Juddkins, telephoned to the court she would not prosecute the youth. Nevertheless, he was held in $1000 by Magistrate McAdoo for examination next Thursday.

"While seem incredible," said Mrs. Juddkins to a reporter, "Mr. Wyatt has been regarded by me as one of my best friends. Why, he had dinner here only last Sunday. It must all be a mistake."

Only last Saturday young Wyatt was arrested on a charge of attempted petty larceny in obtaining theatre tickets which were alleged to have been charged to Livingston Watrous, of No. 262 Lexington avenue. Mr. Watrous, like Mrs. Juddkins, is one of Wyatt's "best friends." Wyatt is courted absolutely he had applied for tickets in any other person's name.

Rastus Goes Fishing.

Mr. Henry—"Going fishing on washday, Rastus? I thought Melissa needed you to gather wood and make a fire to boil the clothes."

Rastus—"Yes, sah, Marse Henry. But Anty Drudge here, she done sho'd M'Lissy how to wash de clo's without no fish an' M'Lissy she say hit's as easy as rollin' off a log."

Anty Drudge—"That's right, Mr. Henry. Rastus had better be working than fishing, but Melissa doesn't need him. Fels-Naptha makes the biggest washing easy for one person in less time than the old way."

Do your washing without a fire next time. Save the bother, the discomfort and the cost of fuel.

Wash your clothes with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, in summer or winter.

It's much easier—no hard rubbing is needed.

It saves the clothes because there's no boiling to weaken them and no hard rubbing to wear them out.

It takes less than half the time of the old way.

And this Fels-Naptha way of washing in cool or lukewarm water makes your clothes cleaner, sweeter, and fresher than if you boiled and hard-rubbed 'em till Doomsday.

Don't take a substitute for Fels-Naptha because it will not do the work.

Look for the red and green wrapper and follow the directions printed on the back.

40 HOURS' SERVICE

OPENED AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH TODAY

A very imposing ceremony is that of the 40 hours' devotion which opened this morning at St. Mary's church, Collinsville. The service was opened at a high mass celebrated at 8 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Walsh, pastor of the parish. He was assisted by Rev. William H. Coyle, S. J.

The little church was packed to its doors, many faithful coming from the

Spellman, Rosa Costello, Alice Gleason, Irene Fogarty, Cecilia Fogarty, Helen Willett, Vivian Willett, Lena Culbert, Beatrice Gordon, Annie Sullivan, Susie Gorman, Mary Tezey and Christabelle Gormley.

These little girls were all neatly dressed in white and they were under the efficient eye of Miss Catherine Burke of Cottage street, who trained them for the occasion.

The altar boys taking part in the procession were the following: Angelo Colipi, cross bearer; Robert Cahery and Fred Godfrey, acolytes; Arthur Cullinan, censor bearer; Francis Cull-

nan, incense bearer; Leo Marshall, book bearer. The choir under the direction of Miss Susan Fenlon, who also presided at the organ, sang appropriate hymns during the service. Misses Catherine and Sarah Silk sustained the solos.

The devotion will close Sunday morning at a high mass celebrated at 9.15 o'clock, when a procession will be held.

Yesterday afternoon another imposing ceremony was held at the church, when Rev. Fr. Coyle, S. J., blessed the babies. There was a large number of them present with their parents, and the officiating clergyman delivered a fine address to the latter, congratulating them on the large number of little ones in the village. Each little one was decorated with a pretty medal.

The same babies will take part in a baby contest to be held on the land adjoining the church on June 17. Prizes will be awarded to the heaviest, prettiest and best dressed "tots." The babies must not be over two years of age to be eligible for the prizes. The judges will be three Lowell ladies.

The month's mission, which is being held this week, is largely attended every night, and the officiating clergyman, Rev. Fr. Coyle, S. J., is very much pleased over the large attendance. This retreat will come to a close Sunday evening at 7.30.

THE GRAND JURY

Investigating Affairs of Coal Companies

PITTSBURG, June 9.—The federal grand jury today continued its investigation into the affairs of the Pittsburgh Coal Co. and the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Co., relative to the transfer of coal and coke properties valued at $17,500,000 to the H. C. Frick Coke Co., a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, to ascertain whether there has been any attempt to create a monopoly in the coking industry.

The transfer negotiations were officially approved late yesterday, notwithstanding the fact that the government probe into the matter had started by the house reassembling the May grand jury.

Engrossed Direct Nominations Bill

BOSTON, June 9.—The direct nomination bill, providing for the direct nomination of all state and county officers, is ready for Governor Ross. The bill was engrossed in the senate today.

MYSTIC NOBLES PLANNING FOR BIG EVENT IN BOSTON

To formulate plans for a monster initiation in July, Lowell caravan, No. 3, Mystic Nobles of Granada, will meet tonight, at which time it is planned to complete all details for the big event. A list of candidates will go down to Boston, where the initiatory degree will be exemplified. At the hub, the Boston nobles are preparing a banquet for the visitors that promises to eclipse anything ever served in Boston. While comparatively new to Lowell, the Mystic Nobles of Granada, whose aims and purposes are of a most laudable nature, have started out under most auspicious conditions and gives promise of being one of the most progressive branches of the order in this section.

SEEKS LIBERTY

Woman Has Been Married 5 Times

NEW YORK, June 9.—Mrs. Margaret E. Fauser, wife of Gustave M. Fauser, an artist of No. 41 East Twenty-first street, has filed a separation action in supreme court. He is her fifth husband. She married first when sixteen years of age, divorced three husbands for desertion and was divorced by her fourth husband. She lives at No. 1 West Eighty-fifth street.

Mrs. Fauser has been married and divorced so often that she admitted to her own attorney that it was exceedingly difficult for her to remember the names of some of her husbands, and as to dates, they entirely slipped her mind. Her application for $400 a month alimony will be argued in supreme court Monday.

Walter E. Kountze, the third husband, shot the present Mrs. Fauser three times and killed John E. Walsh, a Pittsburg contractor, in 1903. Kountze came upon Walsh and Mrs. Kountze together and opened fire. After Mrs. Kountze recovered, she divorced her husband.

Mrs. Fauser charges her husband with abandoning her and also with making the accusation against her that she is insane. In order to dispose of this charge, Mrs. Fauser submitted to an examination by experts and was declared sane.

Herman Fromme, attorney for Mr. Fauser, denies that his client is as wealthy as his wife claims, or that he is able to pay her $400 a month alimony. He declares Mrs. Fauser forced her husband to separate from her by her charges that he was friendly to other women and too fond of her nineteen-year-old daughter by her first marriage. The girl is in a convent.

FRAUD CHARGED

Two Men Before U. S. Commissioner Hayes

BOSTON, June 9.—On a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, Warren R. Wheeler and Stillman Shaw, who surrendered to the government April 7 after warrants had been issued for their arrest in connection with the flotation of the North American Rubber Co., appeared today before United States Commissioner Hayes at a continued hearing.

L. R. Armister, who purchased ten shares of stock at $3.50 per share, was the first witness. He testified that he received two letters from Wheeler & Shaw, incorporated.

HUSBAND'S PLEA SAVED MAID WHO ROBBED NEWPORT WOMAN

NEWPORT, R. I., June 9.—Mary Gorry, until a short time ago maid for Mrs. William P. Buffon, of Newport, and whom the police in Philadelphia arrested last Tuesday for the theft of gowns and jewelry, will be given her freedom providing she returns the plunder, through the pleading with Mrs. Buffon yesterday by Chas. White, who married the maid last week and who narrowly escaped death in the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad wreck at Fairfield, Conn., Wednesday, coming here to plead forgiveness for his wife. He is on his way home with the good news.

WILL SHE HATCH OUT THE OTHER EGGS?

MASTER COLT

Finds in Favor of the Whittenton Manufacturing Co.

BOSTON, June 9.—In view of conditions and needs at the big Taunton cotton mills, the proposition of the Whittenton Manufacturing Co. to raise $200,000 by the issuance of new stock is found to be reasonable and proper by James D. Colt, a master appointed by the supreme judicial court. He filed his report today.

Master Colt finds that if the proposed plan is carried out it will result in no pecuniary gain to the Lyman family who are deeply interested in the mill, except insofar as it enables the company to conduct its business profitably in the future.

The appointment of the master was the outcome of a suit brought by Edward Page and other minority stockholders against the company and Arthur Lyman, Arthur T. Lyman and Ronald T. Lyman. The court issued a temporary injunction restraining the defendants from carrying into effect a vote of the directors to change the capital stock in a plan of re-organization.

Mr. Page, the complainant, is the senior member of the firm of Faulkner Page & Co., which for ten years was the selling agent of the mills and during that time is said to have dictated its policy, Page being a director. Master Colt finds that while Faulkner, Page & Co. were selling agents, the company's plant became less and less efficient.

When the Lymans in March, 1909, he says, obtained control of the company they transferred the selling agency to another firm. Page ceased to be a director. The Lymans, the master says, ordered and have installed much new machinery and are rapidly modernizing the plant—a great benefit to the company. In order to continue this policy Mr. Colt reports that the amount of money they propose to raise is necessary.

SEVEN SENTENCED CHARGED WITH PLOTTING TO GET PRINCE'S ESTATE

ST. PETERSBURG, June 9.—Seven of the 12 men, including two noblemen, a lieutenant, a clergyman and four lawyers, charged with conspiring to get the fortune of the late Prince Bohdan, were sentenced yesterday.

Staff Captain Dmitry von Liarlarsky was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and his accomplices were deprived of their civil rights.

Von Liarlarsky and his stepfather, Col. Vladimir von Liarlarsky, who until his arrest was master of the horse at the imperial court, were the chief persons accused. The Oginsky family is one of the oldest and richest of the Lithuanian nobility. Its last representative, Prince Bohdan, died childless.

Capt. von Liarlarsky soon appeared in St. Petersburg with what purported to be Prince Bohdan's will, appointing Gen. Nikolai von Liarlarsky the sole heir of his estates and providing that should Gen. Nikolai predecease, the testator then Capt. Dmitry was to be sole heir.

He produced proof of the death of Gen. Nikolai and secured permission to use the title of Prince Oginsky without waiting to prove the will. Princess Oginsky brought an action which established the alleged will was a forgery.

dan Oginsky, were sentenced yesterday.

Staff Captain Dmitry von Liarlarsky was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and his accomplices were deprived of their civil rights.

Von Liarlarsky and his stepfather, Col. Vladimir von Liarlarsky, who until his arrest was master of the horse at the imperial court, were the chief persons accused. The Oginsky family is one of the oldest and richest of the Lithuanian nobility. Its last representative, Prince Bohdan, died childless.

Capt. von Liarlarsky soon appeared in St. Petersburg with what purported to be Prince Bohdan's will, appointing Gen. Nikolai von Liarlarsky the sole heir of his estates and providing that should Gen. Nikolai predecease, the testator then Capt. Dmitry was to be sole heir.

He produced proof of the death of Gen. Nikolai and secured permission to use the title of Prince Oginsky without waiting to prove the will. Princess Oginsky brought an action which established the alleged will was a forgery.

LONDON PEOPLE WATCH AMERICAN ENVOY AND FAMILY AT DINNER

SORE FEET GO

Drives Pain from Feet and Banishes all Agony from Corns, Bunions and Callouses.

Rejoice and be glad all ye residents of Lowell who suffer from sore, painful, burning or smarting feet, for all up-to-date drug stores everywhere now sell EZO, the different remedy that relieves all foot misery in five minutes and makes feet good as new, even a night.

EZO is a refined, odorless, very pleasant to use, and a good shield for only cents 25 cents. It surely is the finest thing on earth for swollen or aching feet, and it promptly extracts the soreness from corns, bunions and callouses.

If you want a pair of comfortable feet that won't give you any bother throughout a strenuous day, get EZO and rub it on, that's all. And EZO is mighty good for other things, too, such as for instance, and chafing, and is very soothing and healing in skin diseases. Mail orders filled. Charges prepaid by Ezo Chemical Co., Rochester, N. Y.

dining room tightly, could be seen dining by those who became inquisitive enough to stand at their tables and look in at the window.

The number of persons who have done this became so numerous last night a policeman was stationed at the corner to see that the American envoy and his family were not annoyed further.

Londoners who had tipped up to get a glance told others who stood nearby that there were no persons in the table and described what the persons in the dining room were wearing.

King George yesterday appointed Baron Sandhurst as civil attaché and Lieutenant-Colonel Bernard H. James, formerly British military attaché at Washington, and Captain C. F. G. Sawyer, the British naval attaché at Washington, as military and naval attachés respectively to Mr. Hammond while acting as special ambassador.

Baron Hamilton of Dalzell was originally chosen as civil attaché to Mr. Hammond, but the continued illness of Earl Spencer made it necessary to continue Lord Dalzell as acting Lord Chamberlain to His Majesty.

Getting From Under

Impending Tariff Changes Have Demoralized Prices On Woolens

Woolen clothing is going to be cheaper, whether Schedule K is amended at this special session or not. Clothing manufacturers are "getting from under" and clearing their counters of piece goods.

The effect of the tariff legislation is felt already in the forcing of these surplus woolens on the market. The makers' selling season is about over—ours is at its height. Plenty of men haven't bought their spring suits yet. These conditions favored us in getting in a bunch of splendid suits and are in your favor if you can use one.

This Week You Can Pick $20.00 to $25.00 Spring and Summer Suits at

We didn't "close out the entire stock" of any manufacturer—we skimmed the cream from the offerings of several of our regular makers—so that the lots we offer are choice and high grade. In addition we have scaled down the prices on our own surplus lots in order to make this $17.50 sale really worth while.

In the group are Stein-Bloch suits, College Brand suits and other high grade makes: Three-piece suits, coats full lined; two-piece suits with coats full lined, half lined or quarter lined; three-button, two-button, outing and Norfolk coat models.

There's as great a variety of fabrics as of models; fancy worsteds, serges and cassimeres in the spring suits, and wool crush homespuns and cassimeres in gray and tan shades in two-piece suits.

If you need a suit for any purpose and there's one in this lot that pleases you, there's a saving of $2.50 to $7.50 on whatever you pick.

Worth looking into, isn't it?

220 GRADUATES

From the High School This Year

Owing to a vote of the school board taken last year the exercises of graduation of the Lowell High school will be held one week later than usual this year. The exercises will be held in the Lowell Opera house on the evening of June 28, the vote of the board being that the exercises be held on the last Wednesday of the month.

There will be about 220 graduates. The high school last year graduated a class of 216. The exercises were held June 21. The entire program for the graduation exercises this year has not been completed. The address will be by Pres. W. H. P. Francis, D. D., of Brown university. Lauriston Knowlton will be the valedictorian and the salutatorian will be Miss Gertrude Bush. The class ode will be by Miss Marion Martin. The president of the class is Joe V. Meigs, 34.

NEW YORK CITY

TO HAVE INEBRIATES' HOME TO COST $500,000

NEW YORK, June 9.—The board of estimate and appropriation will authorize the appointment of a board of inebriety and appropriate $500,000 for the establishment of a hospital and industrial colony in which habitual drunkards may be cared.

The plan was outlined in a report submitted to the board yesterday by Borough Presidents McAdams and Cronwell. It was laid over until next week, when it probably will be adopted.

President McAdams declares the step is necessary to end these unfortunate and that it will save the city large sums of money annually. He says 20,461 persons were arrested and arraigned in the police courts last year on charges of intoxication, of whom 20,291 were held for trial and about 15,500 committed to the workhouse.

"There is no pretense," he says, "that the individual is helped. He is rather confirmed in his habits of inebriety and is permanently added to the community as an expense and as a bad example."

"These people become intoxicated, are arrested, arraigned in courts, fined or sent to prison. On being released they repeat the offense, are again arrested, sent to prison, and so on indefinitely. This in-and-out of prison method leads nowhere. It offers no protection to society and no help to the inebriate."

"It is a wrong method due to a misconception of inebriety as a purely moral offense. Inebriety is now recognized by the best experts as quite as much a medical as a penal problem."

The new plan has been in use in England, Germany, Massachusetts, Iowa and Minnesota. Under it persons arrested for intoxication will be sent direct to the hospital for treatment. A regular ambulance service for this class of cases will be established.

YOUNG WOMAN SHOT

Chinese Student is Held by the Authorities

SALOON CROWDS

Were Scared Away by Snakes

PORTLAND, Me., June 9.—Two employees of an express company made a great sensation last evening and captured two saloons of a crowd of customers at a moment's notice. A non-resident, whose name was not given, ordered a box of snakes sent to him from the south for the purpose of cleaning out a vast number of rats from his place. The snakes reached here in rather a bad condition, and all but two died.

No one here with the exception of soldiers are familiar with southern snakes and they only recall the rattlesnakes and moccasins, and the two living snakes are not of either species. One is a dark brown snake and the other, perhaps seven feet long, of the blue type, it is said, and a great rat killer.

The owner was notified of the arrival of his snakes and of the fact that only two were living. He directed that the remaining two should be warned and assured the express people that they were entirely harmless.

The large snake was given a chance to demonstrate its rat-killing ability, and destroyed 15 in a few minutes. The other snake remained torpid and will, it is expected, die. The two men took the snakes and went to a saloon. One look at the big fellow was enough and the crowd bolted for the door.

A visit to a second saloon was equally successful and the crowd vanished at once. Patrolmen Keating and O'Brien tried to arrest the men, but they did not venture too near the snakes and after paying a visit to the office of a local paper, the two went back to the express office and left the snakes.

There seems to be no doubt of the harmless nature of the snakes and there is certainly no doubt whatever of the rat-killing ability of the larger of the two, but they will be sent to the owner at once. The two employees of the company are well satisfied that the snakes are not poisonous, and wanted to see it said if there are actually open saloons in Portland.

A BLOOD GAME

Edsons and Bartlett's at Spalding Park

If you want to see a real hot base ball game, get out to Spalding park early tomorrow for the Edsons and Bartlett's of the Grammar school league will play against the Edsons and Bartlett's of the Grammar school league. The regular game is called, the school boys starting at 12.30 o'clock. The last game played by these two teams ended disastrously and was thrown out by the judges. It was deemed unsafe to have it played off on either common account of the intense feeling among the partisans of both teams. Hence, it was decided that the game should be played on neutral ground with an umpire selected by the judges. The latter made arrangements with Manager Gray whereby the game will be played at 12.30 tomorrow. This will give the boys ample time to play nine innings before the big game. Mr. John Nelson will umpire and those who have seen him direct a game know that he is strong on the rules and impartial in his decisions. One admission admits to both games. Players of both teams are requested to be present in time to start the game at 12.30 sharp.

A "SANE FOURTH"

PICTURES SEEN BY MINISTERS AND OTHERS

A special film entitled "A Sane Fourth of July," which is of an educational nature was displayed at the Theatre Vovons yesterday afternoon and witnessed by a delegation from the Ministers' Federation, members of the school board and of the Women's club, school teachers, principals and members of the press, together with a number of representatives of business men.

This is the latest Edison film of purpose and carries its lesson by means of vital, human emotions which accentuate the idea as well as add to the popularity of the film. It is confidently expected that the little drama here unfolded will set some millions of Americans to thinking seriously on a subject which really calls for some attention.

The mayor of a small and well-to-do suburb of New York is asked to act in the work in the "Sane Fourth" propaganda, the leader of which is a young widow with whom he is already somewhat in love. She pleads for the Fourth without explosives for the sake of her own boy and the mayor's motherless little girl. He is rather inclined to accede to her request, until he finds that the political bosses of the town are mixed up with the dealers in fireworks and that his chances for re-election to the office of mayor may possibly be endangered if he takes a positive stand in favor of the ordinance prohibiting the sale of explosives to the young people.

The mayor is very careful about what his little girl buys to play with and she has nothing but little firecrackers which seem to be quite harmless. But the widow's little son slips into the store secretly and buys a good big cannon-cracker to add to his other stock and then the trouble begins. The little girl hurts her finger with a small firecracker and the hurt seems very slight. Then the little boy climbs over the fence from the next yard and brings his big cannon cracker, or which he proceeds to set off for her edification. It explodes prematurely when he thinks the fuse has gone out and he is apparently blinded for life. A week later the mayor finds that he is in trouble indeed, for symptoms of back-pain have developed from the slight hurt in his little girl's finger. When the crisis has passed and he knows that she will recover he shows his gratitude by calling the rival committee together and announcing his determination to help the ordinance for a "Sane Fourth" year.

The widow is grateful but cannot forget that her son still lies in danger of loss of his eyesight because of the mayor's attitude. Then follow successive scenes a year later, showing the joys of a "Sane Fourth." There are all kinds of games, dances, parades and processions and at night a remarkable exhibition of fireworks under the city's own control.

TRUSSES AND ELASTIC HOSIERY

Some are unfortunate enough to be obliged to wear Braces, Supporters, Elastic Hosiery or Trusses.

If you are one of these you ought to provide yourself with the best device of its kind.

Our Truss and Elastic Hosiery Department is for this very purpose. We have a complete line of the best varieties of all such goods—and with surprisingly low prices.

The male and female attendants in this department are all experts, and the women trained nurses as well. We guarantee the quality of the goods, that the fitting is perfect, and we can supply special orders at exceptionally short notice.

Directions for taking measurements

We always recommend, if it is convenient, for a person to be measured for elastic hosiery in our stores by our attendants. If this, however, is not convenient, measurements may be taken at home and the figures placed opposite the letters on the diagram. Measurements should be taken at the different points as indicated, preferably in the morning on rising. The actual measurements of the limbs should be given. We make the proper allowance for pressure.

A $20,000 GIFT

Has Been Made to Yale University

NEW HAVEN, June 9.—A gift of $20,000 to be devoted in aiding original research in the study of diseases at the Yale medical school was announced by Secretary Phelps Stokes, Jr., of Yale university, today from Francis G. Lewis of the class of 1884. Further gifts of $10,000 toward the endowment of the university clinic and $12,000 to the Yale expedition under Assistant Prof. William Bingham were also announced. The Wright memorial committee has turned over to the treasurer of the university $12,500 toward the amount subscribed for the Wright memorial dormitory.

KNOWS WHAT CURED HER

This Maine Woman Does Not Hesitate to Recommend the Remedy She Used.

A high endorsement is given Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by Mrs. Albert Bennett, of No. 124 Palm street, Bangor, Maine. She says:

"For fully eight months I was in a general run-down condition, which I think may have been due to my age. The doctor said my sickness was caused by the condition of my blood. My appetite was poor and I would feel faint or my stomach. I was so short of breath I couldn't walk much. I lost several pounds in weight and could not do my housework. It was a burden for me to get around and many people would have given up and gone to bed. My blood was in a poor condition and a rash broke out all over my body.

"I was treated by two doctors but their help was so slow that I gave up taking their medicine and used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In two weeks I felt better and as I continued using the pills I improved until I was cured. I took no other medicine while using the pills and give them the credit for the cure. A great many people, who know how badly I was, have asked me what cured me and I am constantly recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

To avoid ill health and suffering at the critical time, a woman should make every effort to keep her general health in the best possible condition. If you are approaching the fortieth year or already passing through the change and your system is not strong enough to bear the strain, you can get no more certain or quick relief than through a thorough trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They quickly build up and purify the blood, which, in turn, tones and strengthens the nerves and every other part of the body until robust health is restored.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are guaranteed to be safe, harmless to the most delicate constitution. They do not act on the bowels but they actually make new blood and strengthen the nerves. If you want good health you must have good blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Should Earn at Least $12 a Week

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 9.—That some unauthorized person is possessed of a key that will open Uncle Sam's mail boxes is evident by the mysterious pilfering and juggling of letters containing checks which have been dropped in the street boxes.

A South End produce dealer recently mailed two checks, one for $2 and the other for $5.25, at the corner of Elm and Granite streets, addressed to two firms in Boston with whom he was doing business. Neither of the checks arrived on time, a fact of which the Manchester party was notified by the Boston exchange, and he at once made good.

Later one of the Boston firms received one of the letters under cover of a separate envelope, but missing the check. It did, however, contain a letter written in Greek, which on being translated was found to be a communication saying that the writer was a member of the Black Hand, and traveled from city to city "to find rich things."

A few days later one of the Boston firms received a letter mailed in New York city and containing the larger check which was indorsed on both the front and back with the name "Basilis Gregorides, Chrystie street, New York." The check was, however, made out to the second party.

A few days later the other check turned up in the mail of the other firm, the sender evidently in some manner making them up in mailing. The matter was reported to the postal authorities, but as far as known, no clue to the perpetrators of the robbery has been obtained.

FOUNDERS' DAY

WAS OBSERVED THROUGHOUT RHODE ISLAND TODAY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 9.—The advent of Roger Williams and his sturdy band of settlers into Providence plantation 275 years ago was commemorated today in this city and in the schools throughout the state. The observance of the event was launched by the descendants of the founders of the city and the day christened Founders' day.

While the city took no official cognizance of the occasion, exercises of an historical nature were held in all the public schools, where the children were told the story of the banishment of Roger Williams from the Massachusetts colony by the Puritans, of his arrival here, where he was met with the memorable greeting "What cheer, Nectop?" from the Indians, and of the establishment of the state "to hold forth a lively experiment, that a most flourishing civil state may stand and best be maintained with full liberty in religious concerns."

JOHN DILLON

IS ON THE ROAD TO RAPID RECOVERY

BOSTON, June 9.—John O'Callaghan, national secretary of the United Irish League of America, received yesterday another cablegram from Joseph Devlin, M. P., national secretary of the United Irish League in Ireland, stating that John Dillon, M. P., who was severely injured in an automobile accident on Monday night while on his way to the railroad station at Dundalk, is recovering rapidly.

Mr. Devlin's message read: "Dillon making splendid recovery. Cardinal Lecky was among callers to see him today."

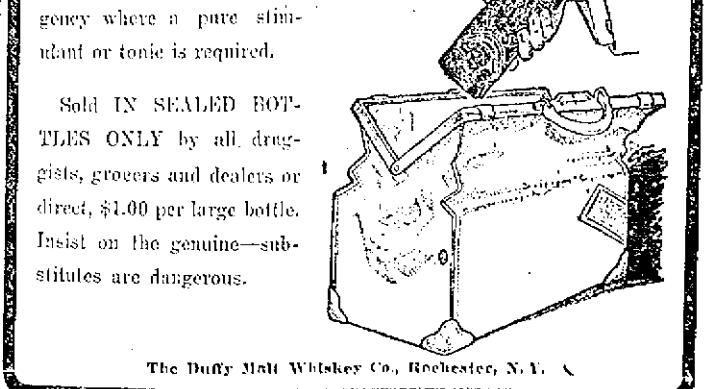

Strange to say Mr. Dillon has always been averse to riding in automobiles and only used them when no other method of locomotion was available.

DIAMOND STOLEN

But Lowell Man Captured Alleged Thief in Boston

BOSTON, June 9.—A Lowell man, Frank E. Adams of 1295 Middlesex st., proved to the Boston police yesterday that he is a good detective. When he came to Boston today and found that the police had not recovered a $200 diamond ring which was snatched from his hand in Dewey square last Saturday, he started on a quiet hunt of his own. By removing his spectacles and changing his straw hat for a black derby he disguised himself. Then he sauntered down into Dewey square. He had been there but a short time when his man came along. Adams called a policeman and had the man arrested but the ring has not yet been recovered. The prisoner is John E. Murphy of the South End. Adams later returned to Lowell.

BIG STEAMSHIPS HELD UP

SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 9.—A strike of coal porters broke out here today. The American line steamer St. Paul, scheduled to sail for New York tomorrow, will be delayed and the mammoth White Star liner Olympic is having difficulty in obtaining a crew. A whole fleet of ships, chartered by the government, and others by the naval review, are lying in the port unable to take on coal.

When the coal ports decided to go on strike today the St. Paul did not have a bunker of coal on board. The firemen threaten to desert if strike breakers are employed.

The American line officials hope to be able to get the vessel started on her voyage to New York by way of Cherbourg on Monday.

When the officers of the Olympic, which is due to sail for New York by way of Cherbourg and Queenstown, June 14, tried to engage a crew this morning the men demanded that their wages be increased to $30 a month. The White Star officials refused this demand and the men marched ashore.

PLAYED "HOOKEY"

TO BE PUT UNDER WOMAN PROBATION OFFICER

NEW YORK, June 9.—"Judge, I played 'hookey' because I wanted to be put under the care of Mrs. Read again," said George Brooker, thirteen years old, of Broad and Fifth streets, Masefield, L. I., when he was arraigned in the children's court at Jamaica yesterday, charged with truancy.

Mrs. Gertrude Read is the probation officer and is a favorite with juvenile delinquents, but she was much surprised at the manifestation of affection shown by young Brooker, and so was Justice Ryan.

"I'll promise to go to school if you'll let Mrs. Read look after me again," the boy added. Justice Ryan, however, thought severer measures necessary, and committed the youngster to the Parental Training school at Flushing.

FACE SLAPPED

Man Accosted Woman by Mistake

NEW YORK, June 9.—Frederick Berg, a young electrician of No. 437 West Forty-fourth street, who was slapped in the face by a woman who alleged he accosted her on the street, was vindicated yesterday on the charge of disorderly conduct when Chief Magistrate McAnoon, in Jefferson market court, discharged him.

The complainant was Miss Margaret Stewart, who gave her address as No. 359 West 115th street. She said Berg came up to her while she was looking into the show window of a Sixth avenue department store at noon yesterday and took hold of her arm, at the same time saying: "Come on, sweetheart." She said she had never seen him before, and when she turned around she slapped him in the face, grabbed him by the coat-collar and coat-tail and started off for the West Thirtieth street police station with him, with a crowd following.

Berg said in defense that he had been looking in at the show windows with a woman friend, and had moved to the next window and then back to where he had left his friend and had reached out and taken her—or the woman he supposed to be his friend—by the arm and had said: "Come on, sweetheart."

"Then," said Berg, "this woman turned around and slapped me in the face before I knew I had made a mistake. I apologized, but she grabbed hold of me and pushed me along amid a jeering mob."

Miss Elsie Weller, an actress, No. 332 West Sixteenth street, testified she had been looking into a show window with Berg, but had gone into the store thinking he would follow. Then, after she had reached the elevators, she missed him.

FOUND A PEARL

BUT IT RESTED AGAINST BLACK PART OF SHELL

NEW YORK, June 9.—Because a pearl lay against the black part of the inside of a clam shell, the Rev.

F. E. Grunert, pastor of the Moravian Episcopal church at New Dorp, S. I., today has about $500 less than he would have, had the pearl rested against the white part of the shell.

Mr. Grunert bought clams about two months ago and Mrs. Grunert served them on the half-shell for luncheon. As the clergyman was about to eat one of the bivalves he observed a shiny object in the shell. He pulled it out and found it to be a black and white pearl.

Mr. Grunert held the gem aside for several weeks, and yesterday sent it to Read Benedict, of the firm of Benedict Brothers, jewelers, Broadway and Liberty street, for appraisal. Mr. Benedict found that the pearl weighed 43 grains. He went over to the case and produced a pure white pearl hanging in a pendant. The pearl was about the same size as that which Mr. Grunert had found in the clam.

"This pure white pearl," said Mr. Benedict, "is worth $7,000. The one you found would have been worth as much if the clam had not allowed it to rest against the black. As it is now, white and black, I think it's worth about $100."

BRAVED DEATH

To Administer the Last Rites

NEW YORK, June 9.—While a crowd of ten thousand persons were shouting in the street below, Fr. Duffy of St. Ann's church, No. 112 East 12th street, crawled beneath a car of an uptown Third avenue "L" train at the 14th street station last night and braving the third rail administered the last rites to John Brennan of No. 417 East 12th street.

Brennan had fallen from the platform in front of a moving train and lay dying for 15 minutes, wedged between the brake shoe and the shell box of the forward truck.

Beneath the "L" structure a small pool of blood was forming on the street. A watch that Brennan carried in his pocket fell from his vest, through the opening between the ties, and crashed to the street near the growing pool of blood.

The crowd that had been attracted to the scene by the cries of "Man killed!" fought to gain the stairs leading to the "L" platform, and the police were overpowered.

Upon the arrival of a wrecking train the car beneath which Brennan lay was raised with hydraulic jacks and the mangled, unconscious form was taken out and laid upon a stretcher. Scores of persons volunteered to carry the stretcher to the street below where an ambulance from Bellevue hospital was waiting.

At the foot of the stairs the crowd that struggled to get a glimpse at the dying man crowded against the windows of neighboring shops, crushing several plate-glass windows. The arrival of police reserves enabled men to carry the stretcher to the ambulance, and Brennan was rushed to the hospital dying. He cannot recover, the physicians say.

JOHN BIGELOW, DIPLOMAT AND AUTHOR, AT POINT OF DEATH

JOHN BIGELOW

NEW YORK, June 9.—Friends are anxious over the condition of John Bigelow, author and diplomat, who is seriously ill at his home, the Squirrels, Highland Falls, N. Y., as the result of a paralytic stroke. Owing to his advanced age (he is 93) it is feared he may not recover. Dr. Milton Howell of New York, who is attending him, refuses to discuss his patient's condition, but a member of the Bigelow family said: "Were Mr. Bigelow a younger man he would be out in two days, but you must remember he will be 94 years of age in November. He is very weak, but very cheerful. On Sunday, with his children and grandchildren all at the house, he talked cheerfully to them. Mr. Bigelow's children—Poultny Bigelow and Major John Bigelow, Miss Bigelow and Mrs. Annie Bigelow Harding—have been at his bedside continually since he was stricken. Mr. Bigelow has not been in the best of health for some weeks, but he has attended regularly to his literary work, setting apart certain hours each day for completing his "Retrospections of an Active Life." Mr. Bigelow's life has been active, and to this he ascribes the fact that he never really feels old. He was born in Ulster county, N. Y., Nov. 25, 1817. Mr. Bigelow is a trustee of the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art, president of the Lenox, Astor and Tilden foundations, president of the Tilden trust, a member of the art commission of the city of New York and an honorary member of the New York chamber of commerce. He was the first president of the New York Law school.

Governor's Veto of Bill Sustained by One Vote

Sen. Lomasney Made an Attack on Gov. Foss—Senator Hoar Defended the Executive—The Gallery Was Thronged With Teachers, Who Watched the Battle

BOSTON, June 9.—After a debate in which Senator Lomasney accused Gov. Foss of "insincerity, chicanery and hypocrisy," and of having used his executive clerk as a lobbyist and of having broken his pledges to the democratic party, the senate yesterday sustained the governor's veto of the Boston elementary teachers' salary bill, 14 to 23, a margin of one vote.

The bill is now dead, unless upon reconsideration today, notice of which was given by Senator Hutton, one of the 14 opposing senators should change his mind or remain away—a contingency not anticipated by even the most sanguine of the teachers' friends.

Never within the memory of any one on Beacon Hill has a governor been so house this morning," he said, "I was not with the story that the governor was sending his secretary, eye, and an honorable senator, too, to lobby against these 2000 hold women. I cannot remember the time when another governor of Massachusetts has sent his secretary or even a member of the legislature to lobby in this manner."

The president again called the senators to order, reminding him that he was not continuing to obstruct parliamentary procedure. "I understand," he said, "that the honorable senator is basing his remarks on hearsay."

"Many of the things of which I speak," said Mr. Lomasney, "I saw with my own eyes. I have no desire to criticize the governor unjustly but I think it is in the public interest that the executive in the functions of the legislative body."

Mack Defends Veto

Senator Mack of North Adams said he believed the governor's veto was sound. Senator Hutton asked him what difference there was between the home rule principle in this bill and in the bill to increase the wages of metropolitan park employees, the veto of which he voted to override. Mr. Mack said he had voted for that bill at the request of a senator, and had not looked into it closely. He understood, however, that the principle was different.

Senator Doyle said the difference in principle between the two bills lay in the fact that the metropolitan park commission was appointed by the governor, while the school committee of Boston was elected by the people of Boston.

"Personally," he said, "I do not like the members of the school committee, but I respect the will of the people who placed them in office."

Senator Newhall of Lynn, chairman of the committee on cities, explained why the committee had favored the bill unanimously. The school committee a year ago, he said, told the committee that if the matter was put over a year they would submit a bill. They had a year to think it over, but failed to keep their promise. Senator Barnes of Weymouth closed for the bill.

BRICKS WERE THROWN

Strike-breaker Pulled Revolver and Knife on Strikers

BOSTON, June 9.—Foreign workmen, chasing and hurling bricks at one of their own countrymen, furnished an unwanted spectacle for the quiet Back Bay district today. A strike of about 1000 laborers on the work of constructing a new hotel on the site of the old Art museum has been under way for some time. A gang of 35 strikebreakers, reported for work this forenoon, about 75 of the strikers were nearby and following an argument one of the strikers threw a brick at a strikebreaker. Angered at this, the strikebreaker pulled a revolver and a knife but before he had time to use either weapon he was the target for various missiles thrown by the strikers. The strikebreaker fled to one of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology workshops nearby and hid on top of a boiler, where he was found an hour later by a policeman.

FIREBUG BUSY

He Resumes His Work in Boston

BOSTON, June 9.—Although one man is in Charles Street Jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of having set fire to the building at the crowded tenement districts downtown. The fire yesterday at 5 Prince street was on the second floor, occupied by Pasquale Della Russa. It started in a feather bed in a rear room that looks out on a shed. The Russo family were absent, but the window was open. The police say it would be an easy matter for the firebug to have scaled the shed and entered the room or to have thrown a lighted torch through the window. The damage was slight. The building is of four stories and occupied by three Italian families. With the arrest of Giuseppe Marallo, a baker, living at 61 Shawmut avenue, the police thought they had solved the mystery attached to the long series of fires in the North End. Marallo was arraigned in the municipal court last Saturday and held for the grand jury. He recently finished a three-year term for setting fire to a building on Harrison avenue. He had been employed as a baker in the North End. Since yesterday's fire the police have redoubled their vigilance and last night extra men were sent to the North End.

SAVED BY POLICE

"Ty" Cobb Threatened by Mob

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Ty Cobb had a narrow escape from personal injury at the hands of an incensed mob in the game here yesterday which Detroit won handily by 8 to 3. A record midweek crowd of 22,000 witnessed the game and, becoming thoroughly enraged over Cobb's unruly actions toward Baker and Plank and the right field bleachers, many thousands of the rioters tried to mob Cobb when the game ended. It required an extra force of police and ground attendants, aided by the rest of the Detroit players, to plough a way through the human wall and get Cobb to a waiting taxi-cab. Cobb had a run-in with Plank in the first inning over a ball and the two never lost a chance after that to peek away at each other verbally.

The right field bleachers took up Plank's case and whenever Cobb came in off the field they pelted him with lemons, Cobb usually throwing them back at the stand with as much force as he could. In the sixth inning Cobb slid into Baker first, and the latter claimed that Cobb tried to spike him, he throwing Cobb's feet, which were entangled in his glove, aside with too much force, which naturally turned Cobb around. In the eighth inning, with Cobb on third, Plank tried to catch him napping and on a quick toss to Baker came near doing it. As Baker tagged Cobb the latter tried to tread on Baker's toes. Baker resented this and tried to repeat Cobb's trick. Cobb then bumped Baker and both players were hauling off to punch each other when Umpire Sheridan interfered.

Plank rushed to Baker's aid and he had to be forcibly pushed back to the pitcher's box by Davis before peace reigned.

This added to the crowd's excitement and as Ty made the last out on Collins they made a rush for him. However, quick action by the police and Detroit players saved the "Georgia Peach" from harm.

PAPKE WON BOUT

Sullivan Never Had a Chance

LONDON, June 9.—Billy Papke, the American middleweight, otherwise known as the "Illinois Thunderbolt," took the measure of Jim Sullivan, the middleweight champion of England, in nine rounds of fast and furious fighting last night. Again it was the fighter against the boxer, and the fighter won with ease.

The contest was for the middleweight championship of the world, a purse of $10,000 and a side bet. It was boxed under the management of Hugh D. McIntosh, the Australian promoter, who hired the Palladium, one of London's noted music halls, for that purpose, and crowded it to the doors. Throughout the fight was a savage one. Sullivan proved the cleverer at long range work, but Papke excelled at infighting. There was much clinching and much hitting in the clinches, and Referee Eugene Corri was compelled to remain in the ring. He had difficulty at times in separating the men, and he warned Papke twice.

The meeting of the American and English champions had been the sole topic of discussion in sporting circles for some days, and large sums were paid for seats near the ringside. Notwithstanding that the fight was advertised as "America vs. England," Papke ruled a strong favorite in the betting at odds of 3 to 2 and in some cases 2 to 1. Papke had a long list of knockouts to his record, while Sullivan's best fight was that in which he defeated Tom Thomas and won the middleweight championship of England and the Lonsdale belt.

Sullivan showed nervousness when he climbed into the ring last night, but after the fight had gone a few rounds he seemed to recover confidence. For a time he was able to stand off the sturdy Papke, who "roughed it" from the beginning and he dodged with great cleverness several of the American's slashing swings. These, had they landed, would have ended the fight then and there. Sullivan used his left and right with good judgment, but without affecting the stamina of Papke, who was able to take an unlimited amount of punishment.

Toward the close of the ninth round Papke landed a savage uppercut which sent Sullivan to the floor. He took a count of five and, when the bell rang, staggered blindly to his corner.

When the tenth round began Sullivan was unable to stand up, and Corri awarded the fight to Papke, and great applause by the spectators.

When death removes the noted merchant there will accrue to his family from life insurance about the enormous sum of $1,500,000. This amount is greater than the insurance of any other person in the world, including the crowned heads of Europe and the far east.

Through a typographical "out" in the report of Colonel Roosevelt's speech at the reception to Cardinal Gibbons, printed in Wednesday's paper, his reference to the Jews was omitted. His exact words in this connection were:

A LIVELY FIGHT NEW BUILDINGS

After the Ball Game in Lynn

LYNN, June 9.—As a result of a disturbance on a street car on Washington street, which came very near developing into a serious fight, while several hundred persons were returning from the baseball game at Ocean park yesterday, Michael O'Hara of 26 Second street, Chelsea, and James O'Hara of 34 Essex street, Lawrence, were arrested. A general attack had been made upon Henry Robie, a conductor. The Chelsea O'Hara was charged with evading his fare, while the Lawrence man was charged with assault.

During the game between Lawrence and Lynn, quite a delegation of rooters from Lawrence and Charlestown, the latter coming to see Welch, who belongs in Charlestown, pitch for Lawrence, made things so unpleasant that they were asked several times to be hush.

When the game was over the crowd boarded a car in charge of Conductor Robie and trouble ensued because of the alleged refusal of some of the men to pay the fares. Someone made a kick at Robie and he went for his assailant and knocked him into the street.

The rest of the gang were piling up on the conductor, who was putting up a fierce repel, when a half dozen persons, headed by Deputy Chief Bartlett, jumped from another car and broke through the crowd.

In the squad were Inspector Burckes and Sgt. Murphy, both in plain clothes, and they had to force their way to the center of the crowd of several hundred. There were a score or more fighting and everyone seemed to be trying to get a crack at Robie.

The police grabbed the O'Haras and dragged them from the center of the crowd. When the rest of the gang discovered that the men in plain clothes were policemen they hustled to get back upon the car and out of sight of the police.

No difficulty was experienced in landing the prisoners at a patrol box. But for the timely presence of the officers there would have been a bad row on Washington street, for Robie had many friends in the crowd and they were ready to mix in the fight.

Several Permits Were Issued Today

The new apartment house being built on the Coburn lot in Merrimack street, corner of Colburn and Tilden streets, will be thoroughly up-to-date and equipped with all that is modern in the line of conveniences. Application for a permit to build was filed at the office of the inspector of buildings this forenoon. The builder is A. E. Beal of Boston and the architect is F. A. Norcross, also of Boston. The building will extend 51 feet in Merrimack street, running back 65 feet. It will be of brick, granite trimmings, five stories high, with large restaurant and store on first floor. The second, third, fourth and fifth floors will be divided into apartments, 37 in all, two and three room suites with private bath, telephone and kitchenette. The estimated cost of the building is $22,000.

Building Permits Issued

FACTORY INSPECTION

It is proposed to have a special commission investigate factory inspection and report its findings to the next legislature. The commission is to consist of the chairman of the state board of health and the chief of the district police ex-officio and three persons to be chosen by the governor. The result will probably be an increase in the number of inspectors which is now claimed to be too small to do the work effectively.

HOW THE LYNN CHARTER WORKS

Down in Lynn Mr. Bayrd, commissioner of public property, has removed Chairman Hawkes of the park board for the reason, it is alleged, that Mr. Hawkes did not apply business methods in a manner satisfactory to Commissioner Bayrd on whose shoulders rests the responsibility. Mr. Hawkes is out and that settles it. There will be no court proceedings to restore him to office. The man who is responsible is the only one to be satisfied and nobody else has any right to butt in. That is business and it shows the beauty of the commission charter. The next man who goes in there will understand that he must give satisfaction to his chief or he also quits the job.

FALL RIVER'S STATE POLICE BOARD

The aldermen of Fall River have voted 21 to 6 in favor of a referendum on whether the city shall petition the legislature for the abolition of the state police regime by which the city has been governed for a number of years. We cannot conceive of anything but an affirmative vote on a question of that kind, for the very presence of the state police is a standing rebuke to the city as if her citizens were unfit to be trusted with control of the police power. It is alleged that the state police board of Fall River was the outcome of high handed political trickery in a conflict for party supremacy. Under such conditions there is no excuse for having a state police board in Fall River.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

The spontaneity and genuineness of the tributes to Cardinal Gibbons on his jubilee celebration are a fitting recognition of his eminent virtues, his patriotism and devotion to the cause of religion and humanity. He is a strong advocate of universal peace, and his address in response to the tributes paid him by high government officials from the president down was an eloquent appeal for recognition of a superintending providence in the affairs of men and for loyal support of duly chosen officials as clothed with divine authority in guiding the destiny of this republic.

Senator Root put it tersely when he said: "Cardinal Gibbons illustrates the union of service to the state and service to God, a bulwark against anarchy, a bulwark against the tearing down of morality and government upon which the foundation of our country depend."

FOR A SANE FOURTH

It is not too soon to agitate for a sane observance of the Fourth of July. The National Fire Protective Association has issued timely warning against a reckless celebration that may result in hundreds of deaths and thousands of wounded in the homes or the hospitals.

Last year's celebration cost 131 lives and the maiming of 2023, a total of 3054 casualties. The casualties in 1909 were 5522, so that there was an important reduction last year as a result of the campaign for a sane observance. The proper method of bringing this about is for each city to adopt a strict rule against the use of firearms and explosives, except in the regular display from which there is little danger. The fire cracker is a fruitful source of fires that cause great loss throughout the country. Firemen throughout the land dread the Fourth as their busiest day. Usually the fires are small but the most insignificant blaze is liable to develop into a great conflagration.

Whether we have a sane or an insane Fourth depends entirely upon the police regulations and how they are enforced. Our observance last year was fairly free from bad accidents and the noise was not so deafening as usual, all of which was the result of strict police regulations. It is hoped that this year the restrictions will be even greater, so that the number of accidents from exploding cannon crackers or firing off revolvers may be still further reduced.

THE DOWN-RIVER HIGHWAY

There should be no let up on the work of completing the down-river boulevard. Practically all of the road bed has been rough graded by Middlesex and Essex counties, and if the work is not satisfactory to the highway commission that fact should be known. The city of Lowell and the town of Dracut are paying their share of the expense to the county and both should see that the work is pushed with all possible haste. That road to Lawrence is greatly needed. Strange to say it is the only break in the state highway from New Hampshire to the sea. Lowell and Lawrence have been backward in demanding recognition from the counties in the line of better interurban roads. Were it otherwise this boulevard might have been completed long ago as it should have been. It is dangerous for an auto or vehicle of any kind to attempt to pass from Lowell to Lawrence by the north side route. That is a disgraceful state of affairs under which both cities have labored for years. Neither city should brook any delay in the completion of this road. It is alleged that the state highway commission will not accept the road in its present condition. The Middlesex county portion is said to be the cause of the objection. The commissioners should see that the work necessary to have the highway commission accept the road be done at once. Is there any opposition due to the fact that in the first place the commission or some of the members preferred a different route? The general public wants that road completed and are tired of this delay and haggling between the counties and the highway commission.

SEEN AND HEARD

There'll be some class to those city hall grounds when the bloom is on the clover.

Turn on the love, turn on the sweet, Turn on the song and cheer; We need them in the roaring street. We need them far and near. Turn on the thoughts for other lives Besides our own, the smile That helps the world wherever it strays— Keep up the sunshine style.

No king had passed, no crowd had come, No army marched with flag and drum; No royal band, no bird had sung. Yet all the world seemed strangely young.

And all the hearts that murmured there Were stirred by some soft touch of prayer— For, as where tiling throngs were massed, Some neighbor's little child had passed!

Down in Norfolk, Va., the windows to the office marked "Health Commissioners" look as if they had not been washed since Adam was a pup and the street door to the office is littered with all kinds of rubbish.

A Maryland congressman confides to the Congressional Directory that he is married and lives with his wife.

Never get it into your head, young man, that just because you are near the water, where the very trees have their sun-kissed leaves and the little birds sing the sweetest of love songs, that you can drink all the booze in the world and get away with it. Whiskey can, through romance and poetry ten times in so many seconds.

Talking machines are all right but they were not intended for legislative halls.

Down Baltimore way they say that the Mini Jupp association needs rain. They don't seem to care anything about strawberries.

Turn on the tongue sandwich, seems to be the slogan at city hall meetings.

ASHAMED OF GOD

Some men remember, I know you will. When you slept with a comrade, the nameless thrill Or not knowing whether to kneel down there. Before him and offer your nightly prayer. For fear he would tease you, or make you feel It wasn't just manly in prayer to kneel. You thought what you felt was ashamed of yourself. But it wasn't—just put that away on the shelf! And don't contradict, or shake head, or nod. When I tell you that you were ashamed of God. An' so many are when they kneel to pray In a room with a comrade or stranger, that way.

Ashamed of God! Now, isn't that nice To pay such a forfeit and give such a price For weakness and pride! You know better now. Since you've gathered world wisdom and gumption, somehow. That it makes no difference how many are there. There's nothing to be ashamed of in prayer!

Nothing to be ashamed of in Him! Alone in your closet, with lamp turned dim. Or one in a million in strange lands met. There's nothing to be ashamed of yet In kneeling and praying just as you would do With none in the room but your Father and you!

Pimples, Skin Blotches

Disappear Over Night in Many Instances When This Simple, Old-Fashioned Home Remedy Is Used.

My complexion is naturally bad. I have pimples and blackheads breaking out or unsightly red skin blotches appearing in conspicuous places. I know of nothing more humiliating and often I used to hate to leave home or appear in public places because of my horrid skin. A friend of mine who has one of the most perfect and most beautiful complexions I ever saw, visited me one day and in despair I asked her how she did it. She said: "It's no secret at all and you or any woman can do it just as well as I. I use no fancy or expensive of any kind, but each night before retiring I bathe my face with a simple lotion that I prepare myself at home. I mix 2 ozs. of Water and 1 drachm Tincture of Benzoin. Any druggist will keep the ingredients or get them from his wholesale dealer."

I followed my friend's advice, and the results have been simply wonderful. My skin is smooth, clear and takes no less than five minutes each night and costs next to nothing. I simply moisten a cloth with the lotion and apply it gently all over my face and neck, and in the morning I wash, too, for softening and smoothing my hands, face or lips if roughened or chapped from exposure to wind and weather. My husband uses it after shaving and says it's fine, stopping instantly all soreness and irritation. I think a great many readers will be glad to hear of this remedy and how you will publish it. I get all the ingredients here in Lowell from the Riverside drug store, but I guess almost any druggist will have them.

Yesterday from Havana was Chief of Police C. M. Aguirre of the Cuban capital, who is on his way to attend the convention of police chiefs at Rochester. The convention doesn't begin until next week and Chief Aguirre will spend the intervening days studying the New York force and its methods. Aguirre, who took his present job a year ago, is said to have made a record by cutting robberies in Havana from a monthly average of 40 down to 13 and by playing elder brother to tourists and keeping them out of trouble.

In Which Former Yale Football Hero Figures

NEW YORK, June 9.—A romance involving a pretty young woman of twenty-two, whose father owns at least a million dollars for each of her years, and one of the most famous lineages who ever carried the Blue of Yale to victory on football fields came to a dramatic climax yesterday in the quiet rectory of St. George's Episcopal church at 201 East Sixteenth street.

Miss Helen Whitfield Andrus, daughter of Congressman John Emory Andrus, of Yonkers, and Henry Homer Hobbs, a young merchant of Springfield, Mass., but better known as "Hobbs," left tackle of the great '05 Yale team, were married there by the Rev. John P. Scott.

It was an elopement, pure and simple, and with all the spectacular features an elopement should have. The young bride had met "Hobbs" several years ago through her brother, "Ham" Andrus, who, as right guard of the 1907 Yale team, inscribed his name in gold letters on Ells records.

"Hobbs" had been forbidden the Andrus house by the stern old parent. But with the aid of "Big John" Kilpatrick, of the 1910 team (the greatest height end Yale ever knew) he arranged for Miss Andrus to get her trunk out of her home secretly at the dead of night, to meet him in a quiet hotel yesterday morning, and then with "Big John" as best man and a confidential chum, Miss Alice Poss, of Nyack, to get a license and motor to the rectory.

Will Not Forgive

Last night, while the bridal party was en route for Boston, to remain until Friday, and then take ship for Naples on a honeymoon, the bride's multi-millionaire father was weeping over his loss and vowing that there would be no forgiveness—at least for the present. He had received a telephone message not long before from his daughter. She had said:

"Good-by, Dad. I've married Henry, and we're on our honeymoon."

Tears coursed down the aged man's cheeks as he said to a reporter:

"You may be a father yourself, some day, young man, and know what it is to have the sacredness of your home invaded. No, I didn't want Helen to marry. She didn't have my consent. Forgive her? (he fairly shouted this.) Well, not now—but maybe I'm hasty tonight."

Mr. Andrus is more than seventy years old. He made his millions first from patent medicines, then from corporate investments. He is serving his fourth term as congressman from Westchester and has been mayor of Yonkers, where he resides at No. 165 Hudson terrace. He has given hundreds of thousands of dollars to charity and religion, and it is said, has given a million each to other daughters who have wedded with his consent. For the present bride, however, no such gift is in sight.

When "Ham" (otherwise Hamlin) Andrus was a football star at Yale, his sister Helen went to New Haven to see him play. Henry Homer Hobbs, that year, was more or less of a team-battered about by "Ham" and his mates. But Miss Helen and he fell in love and it was not long before he was a caller at the Yonkers home.

FUNERALS

GALLAGHER.—This morning all that was mortal of the late Patrick Gallagher was laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery, the obsequies being largely attended by relatives and friends. The corpse left the house at 31 Runnels place at 8:30 o'clock and at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was sung at St. Peter's church by Rev. Fr. Heffernan. The choir under the direction of Mrs. McGovern, rendered the usual music and touching solos were effectively rendered by Mr. James E. Donnelly. The bearers were James Campbell, William Butler, John Gallagher, Andrew Leisner, Patrick Kilvill and Thomas Lafferty. Rev. Fr. Heffernan conducted the service at the grave and Undertaker O'Connell had charge of the burial. The surface of the grave was decorated with flowers and the usual music was played. Margaret Gallagher, have the deep sympathy of their friends in their bereavement as it is but two months since their stepmother died and a few weeks previous her brother died in the same house.

SULLIVAN.—The imposing funeral of the late John Sullivan, a Civil war veteran, and an old, highly esteemed resident of North Billerica, took place this morning at 9:15 o'clock from his late home in Billerica. The attendance was very large, the many relatives and friends of the deceased wishing to pay him a last tribute. The cortege wound its way to St. Andrew's church, No. 10 Billerica, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated by the pastor of the parish, Rev. Fr. Edmund Cornell, O. M. I.

The regular church choir was in attendance assisted by the following from this city: James E. Donnelly, Charles P. Smith, Mrs. Hugh J. Walker, Mrs. J. W. McKennedy, Mr. Andrew A. McCarthy. The Gregorian chant was rendered, Mr. Charles Fairbrother directing and Miss Elta Hoar presiding at the organ.

The bearers were John Harrington, Philip Riley, John Conley, Timothy F. Murphy, James Coffey, Humphrey Coffey, a large delegation of the G. A. R. of North Billerica, of which the deceased was a member, was present. Among the many beautiful floral tributes was a large pillow with inscription "Comrade" from the members of the G. A. R.

Burial took place in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Cornell recited the usual prayers at the grave. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker O'Connell.

LIVINGSTON.—The funeral of Albert J. Livingston, beloved child of Frederick H. and Theresa F. Livingston, took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of his parents, 34 West Adams street. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, Undertaker Thomas J. Melhemert in charge.

PERKINS.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Ann Perkins of Pawtucketville, took place yesterday afternoon from her home, 294 Varian avenue and was largely attended. Services were held at 2 o'clock, Rev. Fr. G. A. Alger, pastor of the Pawtucketville Congregational church, officiating. Mrs. Cora Bartlett and Miss Blanche Roberts sang the hymns "Sometime We'll Understand" and "It is Well With My Soul." There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes, including a large pillow inscribed "Mother," from the family; wreath inscribed "At Rest," William Perkins of Portland, Oregon; basket, Henry P. Tighe, sprays, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott of Manchester, N. H.; Arthur G. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Crawford, William J. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Rackliffe, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Coram and Elvira, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cover, Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary and family. The bearers were Thomas, Joseph and Stuart Perkins, sons of the deceased, and Arthur Canney. At the grave Rev. Mr. Alger read the committal prayers and the burial was in West Lawn cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

RAYMOND.—The funeral services of Mr. Joseph D. Raymond were held yesterday afternoon from his home, 10 Concord street at 2:30 o'clock and were largely attended by his many friends and relatives. Rev. Hiram W. Hovey, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, officiated. Mr. Merriam and Miss Furlawn sang, "It is Well With My Soul" and "Nearer, My God to Thee." The floral tributes consisted of wreath from the wife, daughter and son; sheaf of wheat from Mrs. Elizabeth Schenck and daughter, Florence; wreath from Mr. Walcott and family; sprays from Mr. and Mrs. Furlawn; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Telefero, Albert F. West, Mrs. Billingsley and George; G. W. Bentley; bouquet from Mr. and Mrs. William Hazard. The bearers were Messrs. Isaac Johnson, William Bentley, Charles Falcon and John Merriam. Burial took place in the family lot in the Edison cemetery, where the committal services were read by the Rev. Mr. Hook. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

HISTEN.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Jane Hunt Histon took place yesterday at 12:15 o'clock from the Northern depot and was well attended. The bearers were John J. Fallon, Simon J. Kelley, George C. Costello and James M. Sullivan. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the final prayers were read by Rev. W. George Austin. Undertakers, M. H. McDonough & Sons had charge.

McDANIEL.—The funeral of William W. McDaniel, aged 57 years, who died recently in New Bedford, was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Edison cemetery. Rev. J. A. Foster officiated at the grave, and the burial was in charge of Undertaker Weinbeck.

McGUINN.—Mrs. Sarah A. McGuinn, a former resident of this city, died yesterday morning at her late home, 72 East 53d place, Chicago, Ill. She leaves a young son, and a daughter, Margaret, who is now in the hands of Undertakers C. H. Molloy & Sons in charge.

WALLACE.—The funeral of Miss Catherine F. Wallace will take place tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock from her late home, 75 Bowdoin street. A high mass of requiem will be sung at St. Patrick's church. J. F. O'Donnell & Sons in charge.

HUNT BIG GAME

FRED STONE AND PARTY START FOR FROZEN NORTH

NEW YORK, June 9.—A new danger threatens the polar bears and musk-oxen of the Arctic circle. Fred R. Stone, the actor, and a party of three friends sailed yesterday on the Scandinavian liner Oscar II for the frozen north, on a hunting expedition. In addition to carrying a full complement of heavy calibre firearms, Mr. Stone is taking a moving picture machine, and a supply of dynamite and hide lances. He hopes to rope polar bears and young musk-oxen alive, and bring them back to the United States.

In the party, besides Mr. Stone, are Arthur J. Houghton of Charles Dillingham's forces, and two wealthy Massachusetts sportsmen, R. E. Burns of Cambridge and Edward S. Farmer of Brookline.

The party is due at Christiansand, Norway, on June 15. They will then voyage for six days up the west coast of Tromsø, which is 150 miles above the Arctic circle. Here they will meet the 50-foot whaling ship Foxen which has been chartered for the hunting trip.

They will sail July 1 for the ice fields on the east coast of Greenland, and if the ice has broken up sufficiently Mr. Stone hopes to get through to the musk-ox region on Greenland. The party will spend all of July hunting.

MAY RECOVER

PHYSICIANS SAY THAT KOHL HAS A CHANCE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The condition of C. F. Kohl, prominent capitalist and clubman, who was shot and dangerously wounded yesterday by Adele Verge, a French maid, was slightly improved this morning. According to his physicians, Kohl may recover. No effort has been made to locate or extract the bullet lodged in his breast, but an X-ray examination will be made today.

Adele Verge spent the night at the city prison, praying for the recovery of Kohl. Hysterical and unweary, she declared that she had bought the pistol many months ago as a protection against the detective she says Kohl and Frank Miller hired to watch her.

8000 MEN IDLE

According to the Claims of the Union Leaders

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—There were no developments early today at the Baldwin locomotive works, where a large number of workmen went on strike yesterday. The union leaders say fully 8000 men are idle and they expect to increase the number during the day. The company continues to decline to make any statement with reference to the number of men idle or the merits of the grievances of the strikers. The plant is said to have work enough to employ 14,000 men. The strike is due to four causes.

DIFFICULT JOB

To Lower Pollard Ave. Sewer

Newell F. Putnam, superintendent of streets, says that the lowering of the Pollard avenue sewer, will be a rather ticklish job. "It will be a case of blast from start to finish," said Mr. Putnam. "And to blast at the very foundation of buildings is a work that will necessitate great care. The sewer will have to be lowered from four to six feet and but for the fact that it is solid ledge the proposition would be less formidable. I understand that the vaults in the Hildreth building are directly over the present sewer and I think that a great deal of trouble could be overcome by putting in a new sewer beside the old one and allowing the old one to remain until the new sewer had been installed. I think this would be the safer and the cheaper way out of it. The blasting process will be necessarily slow because the blasts will have to be very small. There is danger to buildings in work of this kind unless the greatest care is exercised."

MARCHAND BILL

Was Passed to the Third Reading

The bill introduced by Representative George Marchand relative to all vehicles carrying lights between sunset and sunrise, was passed to the third reading in the house of representatives this morning by a vote of 103 to 75. Mr. Marchand made an able plea for the passage of the bill and owing to his energetic work it is expected that the measure will be passed.

At the present time automobiles are required to carry lights but horse drawn vehicles are exempt. This makes it dangerous both for the automobile operator as well as the driver of a carriage. In the event of the passage of the measure the carriages will carry lights which will show a white ray in the front and a red in the rear.

ETHAN ALLEN SMITH

The following memorial will become a part of the records of corporations with which the late E. A. Smith was connected in official capacity:

Noted in meeting of Directors of Middlesex Safe Deposit and Trust Company that the following be spread upon the records:

Whereas death has removed our beloved fellow member Ethan Allen Smith, who died in Lowell, June 2d, 1911, we desire to express our appreciation of him, our estimate of his life work, in the expectation and hope that our expressions will live and be an inspiration to others, and in some measure be comforting to those of the family circle. Most of us have known Ethan A. Smith for a life time, and our relations with him extend beyond the councils of this company. We knew him as a man of rugged honesty. We knew him as a most aggressive and attentive man in the conduct of his wide business interests. To these qualities we attribute the cause of his successful career as a business man of Lowell. Our citizens can perhaps recall no finer illustration of the self-made man. We cannot recall the name of an individual who has done so much as he in the building of Lowell homes, speaking literally. His capacity for the developing of land for building purposes was remarkable. In this work alone he made for himself a name that will not be erased from the memory of man in years to come. No man, of a great number who have lived among us, who were born with the love of Nature and the out-door life, excelled him in Nature worship. In such pastimes he had formed friendships and life friends. Of these, too, we count among our number.

Ethan A. Smith has given strong assistance in the upbuilding of our institution. From its beginning he has served as one of our directors. His name now disappears. With us who survive him, his individuality will never die.

"To live in hearts we leave behind, is not to die."

Voted that the following tribute to our late associate be spread upon the records of Trustees of Lowell Cemetery:

Ethan A. Smith, a member of the Board of Trustees of Lowell Cemetery, having served in such capacity continuously since March, 1892.

"Friend after friend departs—Who hath not lost a friend?"

Friendships are formed in the directing bodies of business institutions that are life lasting. In our own circle we well know how dear to us are the memories of our fellow trustees who have gone from us. We shall remember Mr. Smith for his uprightness, his courage in facing perplexing business problems. His loyalty to any cause in which he had joined. His loyalty and interest in the Lowell Cemetery was never waning. The city of Lowell and its citizens have lost one of their strongest men. That loss must be shared by the Proprietors of the Lowell Cemetery.

SHOT HIMSELF

Man Committed Suicide in Hotel

BOSTON, June 9.—A little dowerboy named Max Sigel was startled to hear the loud report of a revolver near him in the basement of a downtown hotel today and ran upstairs. Guests who were in the dining rooms and at the bar also heard the shot. Hotel employees hurried to the basement, where they found the body of a man huddled in the corner of a closet. The man had a smoking revolver in his hand and there was a bullet hole in his right temple. He died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital. He was smartly dressed but nobody had identified him up to an early hour this afternoon.

Man Committed Suicide in Hotel

BOSTON, June 9.—Evidence tending to show that the salaries of Rev. Norman Plass, Charles H. Brooks and John I. Traphagen as officers of the Redeemable Investment Co. were secured from the redemption fund, was introduced by the government today at the resumption of the trial of the three officers on charges of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

William B. Hingston, the public accountant, resumed the stand and testified that Brooks was drawing an annual salary of $5000, Plass $6000 and Traphagen $2800. These salaries were paid, he said, out of the general fund, which, witness testified, had been swelled by money taken from the redemption fund by means of fictitious sales of redeemable stock to Brooks and Traphagen. This stock was afterward redeemed for cash by the company and part of the proceeds was turned into the general fund. The defendants enjoyed these salaries from September, 1905, when the company was incorporated, up to October, 1910, when the postal authorities raided their offices and forced the company to suspend business.

W. G. Poor, treasurer of the Boston & Canada Wheatlands Co., one of the subsidiary concerns of the Redeemable, was called by U. S. District Attorney French for further inquiry into the contracts, which he had previously testified the company held, for 11,044 acres of wheat land in Saskatchewan, Canada. The disappearance of the contracts themselves has not been cleared up. The defendants claim that they were taken away by the postal authorities in the raid. The government, however, denied that the postal authorities ever saw them.

In consequence of their disappearance, Judge Dodge permitted an examination of the witness as to the terms of the contracts. As on the previous occasion of his testimony, witness' memory was poor. All that he remembered about the contracts was that they set out "the terms under which the various sections of land were placed by the Canadian government in the name of Plass or the Boston & Canada Wheatlands Co."

"The government contends that the company never had any legal title to the properties although it was represented as owning them in the literature sent out to prospective investors. 'Were they contracts for a purchase or an option?' inquired Mr. French. Witness could not recall any reference to option in them.

"Was there any reference to the payment of $100,000 before any interest could be required by the other party?" asked Mr. French. "I don't recall," witness replied. "Were those contracts ever fulfilled?" "I don't know," answered the witness.

The government then rested and the jury was dismissed until Tuesday pending arguments by attorneys on points of law.

Dr. Pierre Brunelle, a member of the board of health, returned this morning from Montreal, where he attended the convention of his alma mater, McGill university.

The King's Daughters of the Palace Street Free Baptist church held their regular meeting yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Chase on Florence avenue, and as the occasion was a special one to which the men were invited a large number were present.

The afternoon was devoted to business and discussion of the affairs and plans of the society. Supper was served at 6 o'clock on the lawn adjoining the house, which was prettily arranged for the occasion. After supper a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Miss Pearl A. Connor, who has been for some months in the employ of the Old Colony Trust Co. of Boston is taking a two months' vacation at her home in Westford street, Lowell, preparatory to taking up a more lucrative position with a national bank in Boston.

FOUR INJURED

When a Taxicab Turned Turtle

NEW YORK, June 8.—Richard Purcell, a chauffeur, and Harry Woods, a postal clerk, were seriously, perhaps fatally, injured last evening when a taxicab, Purcell was driving, turned turtle at One Hundred and Forty-first street and the Southern Boulevard, Bronx. Two others, Victor Schremer and Robert Achell, were slightly injured.

The four had been to Glason Point in the car driven by Purcell. Coming down the Boulevard a few minutes after 7 o'clock John Lane, a man who lives near the scene of the accident, was crossing the street. Purcell afterward said he steered the car to avoid Lane. The front wheels hit the car track and the machine went over.

Schremer jumped and sustained lacerations of head and face. Woods, Purcell and Achell were only slightly injured. He went to his home at No. 209 East One Hundred and Eleventh street, after being treated at Lincoln hospital. Schremer also was taken there, but left later for his home, No. 725 Union avenue.

Woods, who is thirty years old and lives at No. 1065 Seventh avenue, was the most seriously injured. It was decided he could not live the night out. Purcell, the other man, who sustained a fractured skull, lives at 2031 St. Raymond's avenue.

DAY NURSERY FETE

Great Sport Arranged for Talbot Field Saturday

There is a large collection of kites of various shapes and styles on exhibition in the windows of the new Harrington building in Central and Prescott streets which attract considerable attention. Some of the kites are to be sold and others to be flown at the Day Nursery festival, which is to take place at Talbot field on Andover street tomorrow afternoon.

The kite flying will take place between 4 and 6 o'clock. There will be six events with prizes as follows: To the most original kite, first prize; to the greatest variety of kites flown together by one individual, second prize; to the most wonderful weight-lifting from foot line, third prize; for best time sending messenger, fourth prize; for best time lowering kite, including reel, in line, fifth prize; for highest altitude with 1000 feet line, time 30 minutes, sixth prize.

One of the features of the affair will be the treasure hunt which will be held from one o'clock in the afternoon until six o'clock at night. A number of tags will be hidden about the grounds and there will be five lucky tags, the finders of which will receive money prizes. The first prize will be a $250 gold piece and there will be four other prizes of $1 each.

At two o'clock there will be a Maypole dance by pupils of Miss Perrin, while at eight o'clock there will be a floral pageant and procession. A number of young people will appear in the Japanese, butterfly and sword, the Scotch reel and other dances. There will be band concerts and selections on a hurdy hurdy afternoon and evening. The day show will undoubtedly attract considerable attention. It will be under the management of Mr. John P. Davis, assisted by Mesdames R. E. Bell, Little, Macle, T. E. Parker, Misses H. E. Talbot, Louise Talbot, Dr. Sparks, Messrs. W. E. Potter, J. C. Hood, William Bell, Walter Leighton, Frank Fox, Arthur Conkey and Thomas Brady. There are 25 different classes. Mr. Harry Lawler will act as judge.

NUMBER OF DEAD

As Result of Earthquake in Mexico Not Known

MEXICO CITY, June 9.—Special despatches to El Diario and El Herald report much damage from the earthquake at Zapatlan, in the state of Jalisco. It is believed that many people were killed and injured but the number is not known. At the ranches and smaller towns in the district great damage has been suffered. According to these special reports suffered great damage. The volcano of that name omitted streams of lava on the towns of Toniluta and San Andres, where many houses were destroyed, but no details are given of the extent of the destruction. Telegrams from Zapatlan by way of Guadalajara indicate that 30 bodies have been recovered at that point in addition to 44 injured who are in the hospital. It is estimated that 300 houses in that locality, chiefly shacks, were destroyed. The schools also suffered. In Tuxpan three killed are reported.

Will Deliver the Baccalaureate
In Which Two Lowell Men Figure

Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church will deliver the baccalaureate at St. Vincent's church, Boston, next Sunday, when a class of young men who have completed the Sunday school course will receive diplomas. It was expected that Bishop Foley of the Philippines was to deliver the sermon, but he was taken ill and as he was unable to be present, Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., was invited to be the preacher and is accepted. As the affair is to be quite an important one, the parishioners of the Immaculate Conception church feel proud that one of their curates has been chosen to deliver the sermon.

Substituted for the Adverse Report in the Senate TodaySenator Hibbard Has Original Bill Substituted
by an Almost Unanimous Vote — Further Action on Monday

In the senate this morning the Lowell charter bill was substituted for the adverse report of the committee on cities by practically a unanimous viva voce vote.

The committee's report was presented by Senator Joseph Lomasney, acting on behalf of the committee, and Senator Hibbard of Lowell immediately moved the substitution of the original bill to submit the proposition to the people. Senator Hibbard then addressed the senate briefly, stating that the people of Lowell simply wanted an opportunity to voice their sentiment on the new charter proposition and determine whether a majority of the citizens of Lowell wanted a new charter or not. He stated that the people of Lowell believed that they were entitled to the right to decide for themselves on such a matter.

Senators Newhall and Denny also spoke in favor of the bill. Senator Lomasney spoke briefly for the committee, but had nothing to say against the charter itself. A viva voce vote was then taken, and it was voted by all with the exception of Senator Lomasney to substitute the bill for the report.

The bill will come up for a second reading on Monday and Senator Hibbard expects that it will go through that body with flying colors. He will then ask for a suspension of the rules so that it may go to the house without further delay.

Rep. Barlow is of the opinion that the bill will pass the house.

DIED IN CONVENT AT BOUC TOUCHE, N. B.

Miss Marie S. Maillet, bookkeeper at Joseph Albert's, received news today of the death of her aunt, Rev. Sister Julienne, superior of the Immaculate Conception convent at Bouctouche, N. B., which occurred yesterday at the latter place. The deceased is survived by a brother in this city, Mr. Sylvester Maillet, 34 Aiken avenue.

JAMES ELLISON
Was Found Guilty of Manslaughter

NEW YORK, June 9.—James Ellison, a gangster who adopted the name of Biff, was found guilty yesterday before Justice Davis in the criminal branch of the supreme court of manslaughter in the first degree. He was indicted for murder in the first degree for killing William J. Harrington in the Brighton, known as Paul Kelly's headquarters, at 67 Great Jones street, on Nov. 23, 1905. As Biff once before served seven months for hitting a policeman with a bottle in Tom Sharkey's saloon, he may as a second offender get 20 years.

THE POOR MEN ARE BEST PAY, SAYS ROCKEFELLER'S PHYSICIAN

CLEVELAND, June 9.—"The poor are the best paying patients a doctor has. They pay you not only in the coin of the realm, without questioning your bill, they pay you, too, in God's gratitude," said Dr. Hamilton Bigger, John D. Rockefeller's physician, in his address of welcome to the Ohio branch of the National Medical Association at St. John's church yesterday.

TWO LOWELL BOYS

Were Ordained Priests in Cathedral in Boston Today

At a mass celebrated at 8 o'clock this morning at the Holy Cross cathedral in Boston, Rt. Rev. Bishop Joseph G. Anderson ordained to the priesthood two Lowell boys. Rev. Joseph Henri Filion of the Brighton seminary and Rev. Daniel A. Barry, O. M. I., of the Tewksbury novitiate. A large number of brothers from the latter place were ordained deacons and subdeacons. The deacons are: Rev. Anthony Swenceski, O. M. I., of New Westminster, B. C.; Rev. Robert J. McCoy of Chest Springs, Pa.; Rev. Daniel McCullough of Lonsdale, Ont.; and Rev. Herbert Bissette, O. M. I., of White Valley, B. C.

The subdeacons are: Rev. Joseph Bolduc and Rev. James McCarlin of Lowell, Rev. Charles Wedd, O. M. I., of Buffalo.

Minor orders were conferred upon the following: Rev. Rosary Jalbert, of Lowell; Rev. William Harty of South Boston; Rev. Charles Fallon of Kingston, Ont.; Rev. Terrence Laflus of Philadelphia, Ont.; and Rev. James McLaughlin, O. M. I., of Roxbury.

Rev. Daniel A. Barry, O. M. I., was born at Inagh, County Clare, Ireland, his parents being Charles and Catherine Barry. He made his studies at the Gurthofoan National school at Ballyva. He arrived in this city in 1885 and secured a position with the John Hancock Life Insurance Co., for which company he worked for four or five years. Later he entered the Holy Angels college at Buffalo, N. Y., and then the Tewksbury novitiate, where he finished his theological and philosophical studies.

The new Oblate father has a brother in this city, Mr. Michael Barry, of 11 Dracut street, and two sisters, Minnie and Catherine Barry; also two other brothers, Malachi of New Haven, Conn., and Charles of Ireland. He will sing his first mass at the chapel of the Tewksbury novitiate Sunday morning at 10.30 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., of the Sacred Heart parish of this city. A large number of friends and relatives of the young priest will be present at the ceremony.

BANKER ARRESTED
TWO OTHERS TAKEN BY NEW YORK POLICE

NEW YORK, June 9.—Thomas Latimer, a banker of Pittsburgh, was arrested this afternoon at the Waldorf Astoria hotel by detectives from the central office and at the same time the police also placed under arrest down town John Phillips, an appraiser of Richmond, England, and Henry H. Derider, 22, a student of London, England, on a telegram from Superintendent of Police McGuire of Pittsburgh.

U. S. SOLDIERS
ARE BEING WITHDRAWN FROM MEXICO

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The second step in the gradual withdrawal of the armed forces of the United States from the vicinity of Mexico was taken today. The war department issued an order which will return to their posts the 4000 soldiers at Galveston and the 1500 men at San Diego. This movement, which will begin in a few days, follows the withdrawal of the 2000 marines from Guantanamo, Cuba. The troops at Galveston are of the coast artillery corps. They will be sent back to their stations on army transports.

The action was taken after a discussion of the matter with the president by Sec. of War Stimson and Gen. Wood, chief of staff of the army. The improved situation in Mexico made the withdrawal possible and it is expected that the next move will be the early withdrawal of the naval vessels assembled at Guantanamo and San Diego, leaving only the manoeuvre division split into several units and distributed through Texas to meet any emergency.

THE WAR DEPT.
HAS NO INTENTION OF DISCHARGING CLERKS

WASHINGTON, June 9.—It will be read news that the war department clerks throughout the country to know that the war department does not intend to make any dismissals as a result of the adoption of a new policy of establishing the army division and curtailing the department establishments. The excess clerks at department headquarters abandoned or diminished in importance will be transferred to other quarters.

WASHED ASHORE
BODY OF PRIVATE MARTIN RECOVERED AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT, R. I., June 9.—The body of Private John Martin, who had been missing since April 23 last, was washed ashore at Sanderson's beach, Newport, where he was about 21 years old. He was a private in the 12th coast artillery company, being stationed at Fort Greble. On April 23 Martin went out rowing and was not again seen alive. The body will be sent to West Medway, Mass., where his parents live.

BOATS DAMAGED

They Were Caught in Heavy Gale

NANTUCKET, June 8.—Eleven boats of the Nantucket mackerel fleet were caught southeast of Tuckernuck Wednesday night and yesterday in the worst northeast gale of the season, and they were struggling into port all day. At dark last night two of the fleet had not yet been heard from. Of those that have arrived one was considerably damaged by being driven ashore on Eel point, another damaged her rudder by striking a ledge, and nearly all the others met with injury to masts or nets. All the boats had heavy fares.

The storm continued heavy last night and passengers on the boat from New Bedford reported the trip across the sound far from comfortable.

AIDED BY WIND

Aviators Beat Mile a Minute

BOSTON, June 8.—Charles K. Hamilton and Harry Atwood, aviators, who made a sensational flight from Atlantic to Marblehead on Wednesday, made a return flight yesterday in even better time. Borne on the wings of an 18-mile wind, they soared from the Tedesco club in Swampscott to the aviation field at Atlantic, 25 miles, in only 50 minutes, considerably faster than a mile a minute. All along the route they were watched and cheered by thousands.

More than 500 prominent society folk went to the Tedesco club yesterday afternoon to see the start of the flight. At 4:50 o'clock Atwood took the machine out alone. It is Hamilton's little biplane, the Moth.

After getting the engine running in good shape, Atwood began circling the club and climbed until at one time he was soaring around 1200 feet above the crowd. Then he swooped down and at a much lower level circled the club several times before beginning preparations for descent. One attempt to alight was spoiled by the crowd, which pressed too close, and the aviator had to ascend again. On his next trip round he waved and shouted to the spectators to give him more room, and they did—a little.

Coming round again, he glided for terra firma. That particular field is a part of the Tedesco golf links and near the spot Atwood picked out is a high bunker. In swooping down the machine tilted and the left wing missed the top of the bunker by scarcely more than an inch. Then the biplane righted itself and Atwood alighted safely.

When the petrol tank had been filled Hamilton came out and got into the machine, and the flight for home was begun at 5:20. The get-away was made without mishap. As the machine soared upward the crowd cheered. Some one telephoned to the Swampscott police, and the fire bell was rung, calling out every one within hearing to see the air machine. The aviators circled over Swampscott several times, then headed for Lynn.

Crossing over that city they were again the cynosure of thousands of eyes. From there they followed the tracks of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn to East Boston, and then across the harbor to Squantum, where they landed at 6:40.

After the flight was over it was learned the machine had made half the trip with but three of its four cylinders working. One had blown a spark plug, temporarily disabling it. Both Hamilton and Atwood expressed themselves highly pleased with their achievement. During the flight it was bitterly cold above, but both the men were heavily dressed and enjoyed it immensely.

CHANGE IN PRICES

OF LEADING ARTICLES OF EXPORTATION AND IMPORTATION

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Domestic prices of leading export commodities in the United States during April were considerably lower than in April of last year, while prices abroad, so far as ascertainable from the record of imports, are less defined in their tendency. Of the 46 articles of exportation whose monthly export prices are recorded by the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, 32 show lower prices, 9 show higher prices, and 5 show no change. Of the 38 articles enumerated in the table of monthly import prices, 17 decreased in price, 18 increased, and 3 showed no change, comparing April, 1911, prices with those of April, 1910. As the prices of articles exported from the United States are based upon their actual cost, or wholesale market price in the respective domestic ports at the time of exportation, and as the prices of articles imported are those in the country when exported to the United States as stated in the sworn invoices filed with American consuls at foreign ports of shipment, the above citations would seem to justify the general assertion that domestic prices are, for the most part, lower than in April last year, while prices abroad are almost equally divided between increases and decreases.

The export commodities in which the prices were lower in April than in the same month last year include corn, wheat, flour, meats, dairy products, sugar, glucose, cotton seed, oil-cake and meal, bituminous coal, copper ingots and bars, raw cotton, bleached cotton cloths, hay, hops, sole leather, mineral oils, both crude and illuminated, paraffin, starch, and various manufactures of iron and steel. Higher prices, on the other hand, were reported in anthracite coal, unbleached cotton cloths, canned salmon, rosin, spirits of turpentine, flaxseed, leaf tobacco, and plug tobacco. Dried, colored, and printed cotton cloths, canned beef, and flaxseed oil-cake are unchanged in price when compared with April of last year.

Comparing April prices with those of the corresponding month last year, the exported commodities showing the largest percentage decrease in value per unit of quantity were: Butter, 25 1/2 per cent reduction; lard, 23 1/2 per cent; hops, 20 1/2 per cent; cotton seed oil-cake, 20 per cent; illuminating oil, 10 per cent; pickled pork, 17 per cent; corn, 17 per cent; billets, 16 1/2 per cent; cheese, 15 1/2 per cent; tallow, 15 per cent; hay, 15 per cent; hams, 10 per cent; flour, 9 1/2 per cent; wheat, 8 per cent; wire, 6 per cent; and fresh beef, 5 1/2 per cent. Decreases of from 3 per cent to 5 1/2 per cent occurred in copper ingots, refined sugar, bacon, pig iron and bleached cotton cloth. The comparatively few articles whose export prices advanced included rosin, in which the April, 1911, price shows an increase of 62 per cent; spirits of turpentine, 44 1/2 per cent; flaxseed, 29 per cent; canned salmon, 29 per cent; and unbleached cotton cloth, 10 per cent. Plug tobacco, leaf tobacco and anthracite coal were higher in price this year, but in no case did the appreciation average more than 5 per cent.

In imports the largest price increases occurred in July, 50 per cent; flax, 34 per cent; tin plate, 31 per cent; tin bars and blocks, 27 per cent; bituminous coal, 24 per cent; still wine in casks, 23 per cent; wrapper tobacco, 19 per cent; other leaf tobacco, 12 per cent; unbleached cotton cloth, 11 per cent; bleached, 10 per cent; hemp, 13 1/2 per cent; wool dress goods, 11 per cent; wool cloths, 6 per cent; and raw silk, 3 per cent. The principal decreases in articles imported were in hops, of which the price fell off 24 per cent, compared with April last; macerated, 25 per cent; wool, class 1, 17 per cent; class 2, 23 per cent, and class 3, 8 per cent; sisal grass, 12 1/2 per cent; pig iron and cane sugar, each 15 per cent; tea, 15 per cent; raw cotton, 14 per cent; and manila, 11 per cent.

LOBBYING CHARGE

BOSTON, June 8.—Charges that persons were on the floor of the house during the debates on the Boston fire hazard bill, the bar and bottle bill and the condensed milk bill, and the condensed milk bill, after making a speech in support of the measure, he went to the side of the chamber to speak to another member, and was then accosted by a stranger, who informed him that he "didn't know what he was talking about," and finally in effect called him a liar.

Representative Daly said he had noticed during the year that the rules of the house are being constantly violated.

"When the house was debating the bill to repeal the bar and bottle bill, men were sitting in practically every seat along the side of the house, urging members to vote for the repeal. The same thing happened when the fire hazard bill was under debate. Men came in then to induce members to vote for the bill."

DIAMOND NOTES
Ouch, a couple of times!
Lynn today at Spalding park and Worcester tomorrow.

Stop the elevator on this floor, boys. Never mind looking for Brockton. Keep up near the roof.

Guy Ringrose is warming up every day with the Burkett bunch, and it won't be long before the youngster will get his tryout. "Primrose," as the boys already call him, is reputed to have a fine assortment of curves, plenty of speed, and, best of all, control.

Worcester Gazette.

See him on us tomorrow and see what'll happen.

Mr. Murnane had a birthday a few days ago and informed his friends that he is 42 years of age. And yet my grandfather used to tell about the great game. Tim used to play for Providence when baseball was young.

Halstein, the University of Vermont infielder, is claimed by Manager Gray. Halstein accepted Manager Gray's terms but now says he is not going to play professionally. As he has been registered with Lowell he cannot play professionally outside of Lowell unless Manager Gray permits him to.

Detroit features the July Baseball Magazine. Hugh Jennings, Ty Cobb, Capt. Morarity of the champion Tigers have written their views on the points in the game. William Phelon, Fred Lieb, Jake Morse, Jack Chapman, Ed. Ashenbach, Percy Harrison and a host of well known writers have filled the remaining pages to the brim. Altogether the issue is a live wire and veritable pennant winner among magazines.

Mike Donlin joined the Giants here yesterday, but not until last night did the star slugger secure formal admission with McGraw. When Donlin reached the hotel this morning at which the New Yorks are stopping he found that McGraw had left word not to be disturbed before noon. Mike was in uniform before the game with the Pirates yesterday. The result of his talk with McGraw last night is not known and probably will not be until the deal is closed that will fix Donlin's baseball destinies. Under the rules of the national commission, Donlin was forced to report formally to McGraw before he could accept an assignment to any other club.

Donlin declared last night that he is as much in the dark as to where he will play as anybody else. "They have been talking about sending me to St. Louis or Cincinnati," said the former great outfielder, "but I don't suppose anything is settled yet. I don't mind St. Louis so much, but I would rather go to a minor league club than to be sent to Cincinnati."

Donlin appears to be under his old playing weight, but he laughs at this and says he would rather be under than over.

Supremacy in errorless games is anything but coincident with a winning career, taking the games in the big leagues as they have gone so far this season. Including Tuesday's battles each league was led by a second division team. The Cleveland Indians in the American league had played the most games without a blemish of their defensive record—fourteen. The Brooklyn's had gone through the most encounters in the National league without an error—thirteen. Errors must play some part in a team's losses and it may be that these two teams have been making their errors at critical moments. Brooklyn's record of thirteen, by the way, includes five games in succession without an error.

The Highlanders have played eight games without a miscue on the defense, the White Sox nine, the Washingtons three, the smallest number of the lot; the Athletics seven and the Blue Sox six. Next to the Brooklyn's in the National league the Phillies and Pittsburgh have the best record, each having played nine games sans errors. The giants have played seven, the Cincinnati five, the Cardinals eight and the Cubs six. The Pirates played both of their Memorial Day games without an error.

Games in which there was no error on either side number four in the American league and seven in the National. These contests in the American league were between Cleveland and Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago, New York and Detroit and New York and the Athletics. In the National league they were between Cincinnati and St. Louis, New York and Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Cincinnati, Boston and St. Louis, New York and Brooklyn, and New York and Chicago. The Giants have been in three of the seven errorless games in their organization and the Highlanders in two of the four fielding purity exhibitions in their set.

those who did not attend missed a great program, for the preliminaries were also fine, particularly the semifinal between Fred Stone, the "Mecca" boxer, and Arthur Moran, who appeared in the ring for the first time. Moran proved to be a corker and an expert at ducking. With a little more experience he will make good. Before Costello called the affair a draw after six fast rounds. The decision pleased all. In the curtain raiser Young Walsh won over "Star" McLoughlin in six rounds, which were well contested.

Young Miller of Pawtucket was to have appeared in the final, but at the last moment he sent word that he had hurt his hand and could not go on. Then Johnnie Caville, the well known Italian boxer of the North End, Boston, was substituted. Caville had no time to prepare or otherwise would have put up a better go. He jolted Gallant some at long range boxing but on infighting the French lad had it all over him.

At Caville's corner was Al Delmont, the champion bantam of the world who recently fought a draw with Jimmie Walsh. Delmont will be the attraction against Kid Leo at the next meeting of the club and the bout will be one of the most important ever held here. In 1908 Delmont also fought a 12 round draw with Jimmie Walsh, and he has defeated such well known bantams as Phil McGovern, Tommy O'Toole, Joe Bowker, Freddie O'Brien, Bobby Tickle, Naps, Dufresne, Joe Wagner, Monk the Newsboy, and many others. He lost to Owen Moran in London in 29 rounds on points and O'Toole, Joe Bowker, Freddie O'Brien, in Liverpool in 17 rounds. Delmont is one classier little man and one of the cleverest boxers that ever entered a ring.

ALDERMAN BARRETT

Says Lowell is Fine Type of American City

The special joint committee on the proposed observance of the 75th anniversary of the incorporation of the city of Lowell met at city hall last night.

Chairman Corbett called to order shortly after 9 o'clock. Secretary Murphy of the board of trade said a committee had been appointed months ago to consider an industrial exposition here, beginning Oct. 12, but that the committee was unable to do anything because of the celebration of April 19.

Mayor Meehan said he believed the industrial exposition should be financed by the board of trade. Secretary Murphy of the board of trade said the matter properly belonged to the city government inasmuch as it is an anniversary of the city. He said there was no doubt that the board of trade would do all it could to push the thing along, but he believed it ought to be financed by the city. He felt that the board should not be expected to stand back of the whole thing. Questioned as to the Fall River cotton exposition which opens on June 19, Mr. Murphy said that the project has been one largely backed by public subscription, although the city has spent some money to help it along. That, he said, would be largely a cotton exposition, while any industrial exposition which would be held in Lowell would show general manufacturing. But 10 per cent of Lowell's manufacturing is of cotton cloth, he said. In textiles of all kinds, it rises above 50 per cent. Machinery and foundry products come second. There are dozens of small manufacturers here who would be given an opportunity in an industrial exposition to show their wares. Mr. Meehan said that the average citizen here knowing nothing of their existence. Such manufacturers would get a good opportunity to open the eyes of the average real estate holder here to the dozens of little but very profitable businesses which have been established here in recent years. He mentioned one place where all of the hat frames which are used for millies around are manufactured, and another where children's rompers, which have an immense sale, are made.

Mayor Meehan was averse to any parade, inasmuch as the city has had quite a number of parades lately. He said that no parade of any account could be held unless $2500 was spent. Mr. Barrett believed in a dignified observance of the occasion. "Lowell to me," he said, "is a mighty fine type of the American city which grew around a business proposition and the founders of this city are mighty fine types of men. We don't know enough about them. Take Lowell and Jackson and Boott and Francis! More than anything we want to hold up the lives of those men to the young men of today. Those men had foresight, great judgment, were excellent organizers. And Dr. Theodore Edison! Another who should be remembered in every school in this city. The founder of the public school system here. He fought almost single handed for it. And the first principal of the high school here afterwards became the first Protestant Episcopal bishop of Rhode Island, Bishop Clark. And in the first class which graduated from E. F. Butler and Gustavus Vasa Fox, national figures. We understate this city when we don't want to observe its anniversary. We have a whole lot to observe and to think about. I would have an oration which would carry us back to the days when Lowell had its beginnings, when men came here from Lancashire and from Wallham, when Whipple's mills were turning out cloth here for the American soldiers in the war of 1812 and when the first cotton cloth all finished in one building was made in America."

It was finally decided to appoint a

Tollitine, the well known remedy for relieving indigestion, irritation and other skin discomforts, is a truly remarkable means of stopping almost instantly the maddening itch of the brownish net. This torturing rash will continue frequently for many days without cessation. Those who have applied Tollitine as soon as the discomfort manifested itself have found the benefit to be almost immediate. In a few hours the discomfort is gone. The time is so close now when the brownish net will be all about through this section. It would be advisable for every family to have a bottle of Tollitine within easy reach of every member of the household. Brownish net is no joke, and Tollitine is a veritable blessing when the brownish net comes.

BANK SUSPENDS

The Deficiency May be $3,750,000

LONDON, June 9.—The Birkbeck bank in High Holborn, which withstood a run last fall caused by rumors that the institution was in trouble, suspended payment yesterday.

The directors estimated the deficiency at $3,750,000, but the actuaries think that $3,750,000 will be nearer the mark. The total liabilities of the bank are $43,850,000. An official receiver has taken charge of the affairs of the institution. The directors in a circular issued yesterday say the depreciation in the market price of the bank's securities has been so great that they do not feel justified in continuing the business without a reconstruction. A petition asking that the affairs of the company be wound up will be presented to the court with a view to reorganizing the bank.

NURSES' ALUMNAE

HELD REGULAR MEETING AT GENERAL HOSPITAL

The Nurses' Alumnae of the Lowell General Hospital held their regular monthly meeting at the Nurses' cottage, Wednesday, Dr. Arthur Gago delivered an interesting and instructive address which was received with much appreciation. The musical program consisted of violin solos by Miss Gretchen Carr, accompanied by Miss Irma Carr. A dainty lunch was served by Misses Holden, Dowhurst, Olsen and Campbell, the committee in charge of the meeting.

The annual alumnae picnic will be held at Willow Dale June 25th. The September gathering will be held at the home of Mrs. William Rodden in Varnum avenue.

LOWELL PASTOR

Spoke at Banquet in Nashua

NASHUA, N. H., June 9.—The first laymen's banquet of the three Baptist churches of Nashua was held last evening in the vestry of the First Baptist. One hundred and fifty men attended. The arrangements were entirely by men, but the women of the church assisted in serving the dinner.

Frank Lavene was toastmaster. The principal speaker was Rev. Solon W. Cummings of the First Baptist church of Lowell. Other speakers were Rev. J. Bruce Gilman, Rev. Stephen S. Huse, Jr., of the Crown Hill Baptist church, Rev. H. J. Tetrault of the French mission, and Rev. Harry L. Marshall of Durham. The vespers quartet, composed of William H. Lovejoy, Walker D. Littlefield, Leroy K. Moulton, and George Huston sang.

LEPER BOY

WILL BE SENT TO DETENTION HOSPITAL

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 9.—After failing to get permission for the admission of Harry Sheridan, the boy leper of this city, to Tenkesee island, the board of health yesterday decided to isolate the lad at the detention hospital in this city. This building has been used for pesthouse purposes in the cases of smallpox from time to time, but is now unoccupied.

The health board takes this action after receiving from Governor Pothier a communication that his efforts failed. The boy is the son of Edward P. Sheridan of 55 Winton avenue, and has been at his home ever since the agitation of his case has been under way. The arrangements for the transfer are not yet made, but will be in a few days. In the meantime the home of the boy is under close quarantine, police officers guarding the doors.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Educational club the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. A. C. Roston; vice president, Mrs. G. E. Ames; secretary, Mrs. W. E. Smith; treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Clements. All reports showed an encouraging condition. Mrs. F. E. Varney, in giving a retrospect of the club year, presented to each of the hospitality committee a dainty cut glass bon bon dish, as tokens of appreciation of their services.

Luncheon was served after the meeting and a pleasant hour was spent. The next meeting will take place next week at the home of Mrs. P. Crawford, 610 Varnum avenue and will be a "piazza party."

GOLD BRACELET

WAS PRESENTED TO MISS VALDA DUVAL

Miss Valda Duval, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Duval, was given a fine send-off last night by a number of her friends who gathered at the home of her parents, 472 Moody street, and presented her a gold bracelet and several other rich presents, the occasion being her departure for a two-months' trip to Canada. The presentation speech was delivered by Mr. L. J. Z. Robillard, and the presentation was made by a young sister of the host, Miss Marie Louise Duval.

Miss Valda, although taken by surprise responded in a neat way and a general good time followed. There were vocal and instrumental solos, and party games were also in order. being her departure for a two-months' trip to Canada. The presentation speech was delivered by Mr. L. J. Z. Robillard, and the presentation was made by a young sister of the host, Miss Marie Louise Duval.

Miss Valda, although taken by surprise responded in a neat way and a general good time followed. There were vocal and instrumental solos, and party games were also in order. Among those taking part in the musical program were: Mr. Willie Lussler, who gave several beautiful bass solos, C. Desautels, who delighted the Refreshments were served and the party broke up at a reasonable hour, all wishing Miss Duval a pleasant trip. The latter will leave Sunday evening for St. Jean, Montreal and several other places as far as Roberval.

JUSTICE'S SON

Is Accused of Robbing Friends

NEW YORK, June 9.—Merritt Trimble Wyatt, son of Justice Wyatt, of special sessions, was arraigned yesterday in the Jefferson market court on a charge of grand larceny. Although young Wyatt is said to have a large income, he is alleged to have run up bills of various kinds, but for comparatively small amounts, and to have charged them to his best friends.

Schuyler C. White, floor manager of a Fifth avenue department store, appeared against the prisoner. The evidence offered by Mr. White had been obtained by John P. Ludkin, the store's detective. It was alleged that the young man represented himself to the store management as the son of Mrs. E. J. Judkins, of No. 71 Riverside Drive, and upon this recommendation obtained a variety box, a mirror, face powder, three silk vests, a quantity of silk underwear, a cane, a clock and other articles valued at "fancy goods."

Nearly all of the things obtained by Wyatt from his store were found in his apartments, at Fifty-ninth street and Madison avenue. There, too, was discovered twelve yards of the most expensive satin, which was afterward claimed by another department store. For what use the satin was intended could not be learned.

That Wyatt intended to make gifts to women friends of those things, which were of a nature to appeal to women's fancy, was denied by the detectives. They said, furthermore, that he had apparently made no attempt to pawn the articles, although admittedly hard up for money at times.

Mrs. Judkins telephoned to the court the would not prosecute the youth. Nevertheless, he was held in $1000 by Magistrate McAdoo for examination next Thursday.

"This seems incredible," said Mrs. Judkins to a reporter. "Mr. Wyatt has been regarded by me as one of my best friends. Why, he had dinner here only last Sunday. It must all be a mistake."

Only last Saturday young Wyatt was arrested on a charge of attempted petty larceny in obtaining theatre tickets which were alleged to have been charged to Livingston Watrous, of No. 362 Lexington avenue. Mr. Watrous, like Mrs. Judkins, is one of Wyatt's "best friends." Wyatt in court denied absolutely he had applied for tickets in any other person's name.

Rastus Goes Fishing.

Mr. Henry—"Going fishing on washday, Rastus? I thought Melissa needed you to gather wood and make a fire to boil the clothes."

Rastus—"Yes, sah, Marse Henry. But Anty Drudge here, she done sho'd M'Lissy how to wash de clo's without no fish an' M'Lissy she say hit's as easy as rollin' off a log."

Anty Drudge—"That's right, Mr. Henry. Rastus had better be working than fishing, but Melissa doesn't need him. Fels-Naptha makes the biggest washing easy for one person in less time than the old way."

Do your washing without a fire next time. Save the bother, the discomfort and the cost of fuel.

Wash your clothes with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, in summer or winter.

It's much easier—no hard rubbing is needed.

It saves the clothes because there's no boiling to weaken them and no hard rubbing to wear them out.

It takes less than half the time of the old way.

And this Fels-Naptha way of washing in cool or lukewarm water makes your clothes cleaner, sweeter, and fresher than if you boiled and hard-rubbed 'em till Doomsday.

Don't take a substitute for Fels-Naptha because it will not do the work.

Look for the red and green wrapper and follow the directions printed on the back.

OPENED AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH TODAY

A very imposing ceremony is that of the 40 hours' devotion which opened this morning at St. Mary's church, Collinsville. The service was opened at a high mass celebrated at 8 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Walsh, pastor of the parish. He was assisted by Rev. William H. Coyne, S. J.

The little church was packed to its doors, many faithful coming from the

Spellman, Rose Costello, Alice Gleason, Irene Fogarty, Cecilia Fogarty, Helen Willett, Vivian Willett, Lena Culbert, Beatrice Gordon, Annie Sullivan, Susie Gorman, Mary Pezoy and Christabelle Gormley.

These little girls were all neatly dressed in white and they were under the efficient care of Miss Catherine Burke of Cottage street, who trained them for the occasion.

The altar boys taking part in the procession were the following: Angelo Colipi, cross bearer; Robert Callery, Fred Godfrey, acolytes; Arthur Cullinan, censor bearer; Francis Cull-

nan, incense bearer; Leo Marshall, book bearer. The choir under the direction of Miss Susan Fenlon, who also presided at the organ, sang appropriate hymns during the service. Misses Catherine and Sarah Silk sustaining the solos.

This devotion will close Sunday morning at a high mass celebrated at 8 o'clock, when a procession will be held.

Yesterday afternoon another imposing ceremony was held at the church, when Rev. Fr. Coyne, S. J., blessed the babies. There was a large number of them present with their parents, and the officiating clergyman delivered a fine address to the latter, congratulating them on the large number of little ones in the village. Each little one was decorated with a pretty medal. The same babies will take part in a baby contest to be held on the land adjoining the church on June 17. Prizes will be awarded to the heaviest, prettiest and best dressed "tots." The babies must not be over two years of age to be eligible for the prizes. The judges will be three Lowell ladies.

The men's mission, which is being held this week, is largely attended every night, and the officiating clergyman, Rev. Fr. Coyne, S. J., is very much pleased over the large attendance. This retreat will come to a close Sunday evening at 7.30.

THE GRAND JURY

Investigating Affairs of Coal Companies

PITTSBURG, June 9.—The federal grand jury today continued its investigation into the affairs of the Pittsburgh Coal Co. and the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Co., relative to the transfer of coal and coke properties valued at $17,800,000 to the H. C. Frick Coke Co., a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, to ascertain whether there has been any attempt to create a monopoly in the coking industry.

The transfer negotiations were officially approved late yesterday, notwithstanding the fact that the government probe into the matter had started by the house reassembling this May grand jury.

MYSTIC NOBLES
PLANNING FOR BIG EVENT IN BOSTON

To formulate plans for a monster initiation in July, Lowell caravan No. 3, Mystic Nobles of Granada, will meet tonight, at which time it is planned to complete all details for the big event. A big list of candidates will go down to Boston, where the initiatory degrees will be exemplified. At the Hub, the Boston nobles are preparing a banquet for the visitors that promises to eclipse anything ever served in Boston. While comparatively new to Lowell, the Mystic Nobles of Granada, whose aims and purposes are of a most laudable nature, have started out under most auspicious conditions and gives promise of being one of the most progressive branches of the order in this section.

SEEKS LIBERTY

Woman Has Been Married 5 Times

NEW YORK, June 9.—Mrs. Margaret E. Fausser, wife of Gustave M. Fausser, an artist, of No. 41 East Twenty-first street, has filed a separation action in supreme court. He is her fifth husband. She married first when sixteen years of age, divorced three husbands for desertion and was divorced by her fourth husband. She lives at No. 1 West Eighty-fifth street.

Mrs. Fausser has been married and divorced so often that she admitted to her own attorney that it was exceedingly difficult for her to remember the names of some of her husbands, and as to dates, they entirely slipped her mind. Her application for $400 a month alimony will be argued in supreme court Monday.

Walter E. Kountze, the third husband, shot the present Mrs. Fausser three times and killed John E. Walsh, a Pittsburg contractor, in 1903. Kountze came upon Walsh and Mrs. Kountze together and opened fire. After Mrs. Kountze recovered, she divorced her husband.

Mrs. Fausser charges her husband with abandoning her and also with making the accusation against her that she is insane. In order to dispose of this charge, Mrs. Fausser submitted to an examination by experts and was declared sane.

Herman Fromme, attorney for Mr. Fausser, denies that his client is as wealthy as his wife claims, or that he is able to pay her $400 a month alimony. He declares Mrs. Fausser forced her husband to separate from her by her charges that he was friendly to other women and too fond of her nineteen-year-old daughter by her first marriage. The girl is in a convent.

FRAUD CHARGED

Two Men Before U. S. Commissioner Hayes

BOSTON, June 9.—On a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, Warren B. Wheeler and Selman Shaw, who surrendered to the government April 7 after warrants had been issued for their arrest in connection with the flotation of the North American Rubber Co., appeared today before United States Commissioner Hayes at a continued hearing.

L. R. Arnister, who purchased ten shares of stock at $3.50 per share, was the first witness. He testified that he received two letters from Wheeler & Shaw, incorporated.

HUSBAND'S PLEA
SAVED MAID WHO ROBBED NEWPORT WOMAN

NEWPORT, R. I., June 9.—Mary Gerry, until a short time ago maid for Mrs. William P. Buffum, of Newport, and whom the police in Philadelphia arrested last Tuesday for the theft of jewels and jewelry, will be given her freedom providing she returns the plunder, through the pleading with Mrs. Buffum yesterday by Chas. White, who married the maid last week and who narrowly escaped death in the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad wreck at Fairfield, Conn., Wednesday, coming here to plead forgiveness for his wife. He is on his way home with the good news.

White was a corporal at Fort Adams until recently, and one of the best soldiers at the post. He courted the maid, and she left the Buffum cottage last month, after a year's employment.

WILL SHE HATCH OUT THE OTHER EGGS?

MASTER COLT

Finds in Favor of the Whittenton Manufacturing Co.

BOSTON, June 9.—In view of conditions and needs at the big Taunton cotton mills, the proposition of the Whittenton Manufacturing Co. to raise $300,000 by the issuance of new stock is found to be reasonable and proper by James D. Colt, a master appointed by the supreme judicial court. He filed his report today.

Master Colt finds that if the proposed plan is carried out it will result in no pecuniary gain to the Lyman family who are deeply interested in the mill, except insofar as it enables the company to conduct its business profitably in the future.

The appointment of the master was the outcome of a suit brought by Edward Page and other minority stockholders against the company and Arthur Lyman, Arthur T. Lyman and Ronald T. Lyman. The court issued a temporary injunction restraining the defendants from carrying into effect a vote of the directors to change the capital stock in a plan of re-organization.

Mr. Page, the complainant, is the senior member of the firm of Faulkner Page & Co., which for ten years has been the selling agent of the mills and during that time is said to have dictated its policy, Page being a director. Master Colt finds that while Faulkner, Page & Co. were selling agents the company's plant became less and less efficient.

When the Lyman family, in March, 1909, he says, obtained control of the company they transferred the selling agency to another firm. Page ceased to be a director. The Lyman family, the master says, ordered and have installed much new machinery and are rapidly modernizing the plant—a great benefit to the company. In order to continue this policy Mr. Colt reports that the amount of money they propose to raise is necessary.

SEVEN SENTENCED CHARGED WITH PLOTTING TO GET PRINCE'S ESTATE

ST. PETERSBURG, June 9.—Seven of the 12 men, including two noblemen, a lieutenant, a clergyman and four lawyers, charged with conspiring to get the fortune of the late Prince Bohdan Oghinsky, were sentenced yesterday.

Staff Captain Dmitry von Liarskiy was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and his accomplices were deprived of their civil rights.

Von Liarskiy and his stepfather, Col. Vladimir von Liarskiy, who until his arrest was master of the horse at the imperial court, were the chief persons accused. The Oghinsky family is one of the oldest and richest of the Lithuanian nobility. Its last representative, Prince Bohdan, died childless.

Capt. von Liarskiy soon appeared in St. Petersburg with what purported to be Prince Bohdan's will, appointing Gen. Nikolai von Liarskiy the sole heir of his estates and providing that should Gen. Nikolai predecease the testator then Capt. Dmitry was to be sole heir.

He produced proof of the death of Gen. Nikolai and secured permission to use the title of Prince Oghinsky without waiting to prove the will. The Oghinsky family brought an action which established the alleged will was a forgery.

SORE FEET GO

Drives Pain from Feet and Banishes all Agony from Corns, Bunions and Callouses.

Rejoice and be glad all ye residents of Lowell who suffer from sore, painful, burning or smarting feet, for all up-to-date drug-gists everywhere now sell EZO, the different remedy that relieves all foot misery in five minutes and makes feet good as new over night.

EZO is a refined ointment, very pleasant to use, and a good sized jar only costs 25 cents. It surely is the finest thing on earth for swollen or aching feet, and it promptly extracts the soreness from corns, bunions and callouses.

If you want a pair of comfortable feet that won't give you any bother throughout a strenuous day, get EZO and rub it on, that's all. And EZO is mighty good for other things, too, sunburn for instance, and chafing, and is very soothing and healing in skin diseases. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by Ezo Chemical Co., Rochester, N. Y.

dining room tightly, could be seen dining by those who became inquisitive enough to stand on their tiptoes and look in at the window.

The number of persons who have done this became so numerous last night a policeman was stationed at the corner to see that the American envoy and his family were not annoyed further.

Londoners who had tipped up to get a glance told others they stood nearby that there were strawberries on the table and described what the persons in the dining room were wearing.

King George, yesterday appointed Baron Sandhurst as civil attaché and Lieutenant-Colonel Bernard R. James, formerly British military attaché at Washington, and Captain C. P. G. Sawyer, the British naval attaché at Washington, as military and naval attachés respectively to Mr. Hammond while acting as special ambassador.

Baron Hamilton of Dalzell was originally chosen as civil attaché to Mr. Hammond, but the continued illness of Earl Spencer made it necessary to continue Lord Dalzell as acting Lord Chamberlain to His Majesty.

220 GRADUATES

From the High School This Year

Owing to a vote of the school board taken last year the exercises of graduation of the Lowell High school will be held one week later than usual this year. The exercises will be held in the Lowell Opera house on the evening of June 23, the vote of the board being that the exercises be held on the last Wednesday of the month.

There will be about 220 graduates. The high school last year graduated a class of 219. The exercises were held June 21. The entire program for the graduation exercises this year has not been completed. The address will be by Pres. W. H. P. Faneus, D. D., of Brown university. Lauriston Knowlton will be the valedictorian and the salutatorian will be Miss Gertrude Bush. The class ode will be by Miss Marion Martin. The president of the class is Joe V. Meigs, 3d.

COLORED WAITER

Indicted for Murder in Second Degree

CAMBRIDGE, June 9.—A second degree murder indictment was returned against Charles Roachford, a colored waiter at Memorial Hall, Harvard university, by the Middlesex county grand jury today. Roachford is alleged to have killed Heath Hughes, a brother waiter, last March during a dispute.

NEW YORK CITY

TO HAVE INEBRIATES' HOME TO COST $500,000

NEW YORK, June 9.—The board of estimate and apportionment will authorize the appointment of a board of inebriety and appropriate $500,000 for the establishment of a hospital and industrial colony in which habitual drunkards may be cured.

The plan was outlined in a report submitted to the board yesterday by Borough Presidents McAneny and Cromwell. It was laid over until next week, when it probably will be adopted.

President McAneny declares the step is necessary to aid these unfortunate and that it will save the city large sums of money annually. Life says 23,451 persons were arrested and arraigned in the police courts last year on charges of intoxication, of whom 20,291 were held for trial and about 15,000 committed to the workhouse.

"There is no pretense," he says, "that the individual is helped. He is rather confirmed in his habits of inebriety and is permanently fastened on the community as an expense and as a bad example."

"These people become intoxicated, are arrested, arraigned in courts, fined or sent to prison. On being released they repeat the offense, are again arrested, sent to prison, and so on, indefinitely. This in-and-out of prison method leads nowhere. It offers no protection to society and no help to the inebriate."

"It is a wrong method due to a misconception of inebriety as a purely moral offense. Inebriety is now recognized by the best experts as quite as much a medical as a moral problem."

The new plan has been used in England, Germany, Massachusetts, Iowa and Minnesota. Under it persons arrested for intoxication will be sent direct to the hospital for treatment. A regular ambulance service for this class of cases will be established.

Getting From Under

Impending Tariff Changes Have Demoralized Prices On Woolens

Woolen clothing is going to be cheaper, whether Schedule K is amended at this special session or not. Clothing manufacturers are "getting from under" and clearing their counters of piece goods.

The effect of the tariff legislation is felt already in the forcing of these surplus woolens on the market. The makers' selling season is about over—ours is at its height. Plenty of men haven't bought their spring suits yet. These conditions favored us in getting in a bunch of splendid suits and are in your favor if you can use one.

This Week You Can Pick $20.00 to $25.00 Spring and Summer Suits at

We didn't "close out the entire stock" of any manufacturer,—we skimmed the cream from the offerings of several of our regular makers—so that the lots we offer are choice and high grade. In addition we have sealed down the prices on our own surplus lots in order to make this $17.50 sale really worth while.

In the group are Stein-Bloch suits, College Brand suits and other high grade makes: Three-piece suits, coats full lined; two-piece suits with coats full lined, half lined or quarter lined; three-button, two-button, outing and Norfolk coat models.

There's as great a variety of fabrics as of models; fancy worsteds, serges and cassimeres in the spring suits, and wool crash hosiery and cassimeres in gray and tan shades in two-piece suits.

If you need a suit for any purpose and there's one in this lot that pleases you, there's a saving of $2.50 to $7.50 on whatever you pick.

YOUNG WOMAN SHOT

Chinese Student is Held by the Authorities

ORONO, Me., June 9.—Miss Christie Shaw, 22 years old, was shot in the head last night by a Chinese student at the university of Maine. The student, Lin of Hongkong, a junior in the electrical engineering course, is under arrest charged with the shooting.

Miss Shaw's condition is critical. She is a teacher in the high school, daughter of Andrew M. Shaw, superintendent of the grounds at the university of Maine.

She had been attending a high school dance in the town hall and was on her way to her home on the university grounds, accompanied by her brother. They were crossing the covered bridge between Orono and Webster village, when Lin jumped out of the shadow, it is said, and fired three shots point blank at her head, then turned and ran.

The shots and screams of the wounded girl drew scores of people to the scene. Miss Shaw was taken to the house of Allen Webster nearby and a general hunt for her assailant started, in which men, women and students took part.

Lin was found leaning against a tree on the river bank a few rods below the bridge. He talked incoherently and said, it is alleged, that he had taken poison.

In what appeared to be a state of collapse, he was taken to the fire station nearby and restoratives applied, which appeared to revive him, but he refused to talk. A paper clutched in his hand was taken from him and is now in possession of County Attorney George E. Thompson, who was here at the time.

Lin has the reputation of being quiet, studious and inoffensive. He was taken to Bangor on the late train last night and locked up in the county jail.

The affair created intense excitement and indignation here, as Miss Shaw is well known and popular. Her face is terribly mangled by the shots. Dr. Eugene B. Sanger, a prominent Bangor surgeon, was called at the Webster residence at the time and the wounded girl received immediate attention.

Miss Shaw was taken to Eastern Maine hospital, Bangor.

Four shots were fired from a 32-calibre revolver. But one took effect, entering behind the left ear and lodging over the right eye. This has not been removed, but her chances for recovery are considered good.

Miss Shaw had tutored Lin in Latin and was friendly with him.

In Lin's pocket was found a sealed letter directed to a Bangor newspaper man, and several letters directed to Miss Shaw.

Were Scared Away by Snakes

PORTLAND, Me., June 9.—Two employees of an express company made a great sensation last evening and emptied two saloons of a crowd of customers at a moment's notice. A non-resident, whose name was not given, ordered a box of snakes sent to him from the south for the purpose of cleaning out a vast number of rats from his place. The snakes reached here in rather a bad condition, and all but two died.

No one here with the exception of old soldiers are familiar with southern snakes and they only recall the rattlesnakes and moccasins, and the two living snakes are not of either species. One is a dark brown snake and the other, perhaps seven feet long, of the boa type, it is said, and a great rat killer.

The owner was notified of the arrival of his snakes and of the fact that only two were living. He directed that the remaining two should be warmed and assured the express people that they were entirely harmless.

The large snake was given a chance to demonstrate its rat-killing ability, and destroyed 15 in a few minutes. The other snake remained torpid, and will, it is expected, die. The two men took the snakes and went to a saloon. One look at the big fellow was enough and the crowd boiled for the door.

A visit to a second saloon was equally successful and the crowd vanished at once. Patrolmen Keating and O'Brien tried to arrest the men, but they did not venture too near the snakes and after paying a visit to the office of a local paper, the two went back to the express office and left the snakes.

There seems to be no doubt of the harmless nature of the snakes and there is certainly no doubt whatever of the rat-killing ability of the larger of the two, but they will be sent to the owner at once. The two employees of the company are well satisfied that the snakes are not poisonous, and wanted to see it is said if there are actually open saloons in Portland.

SPAIN'S DUTY

TO RESTORE AND PRESERVE ORDER IN MOROCCO

MADRID, June 9.—Premier Canalejas informed the chamber of deputies last night that Spain's projected military operations at El-Arishi, Morocco, were not inconsistent with the treaty of Algeiras or other agreements.

It was necessary, he said, for Spain to restore and preserve order in that part of Morocco.

It is understood that the government plans the occupation of Tetuan, Morocco, also because Spanish subjects have been killed or maltreated by rebellious tribesmen.

In both the Tetuan and El-Arishi regions Spanish interests are endangered. The French government is endeavoring to dissuade Spain from these military movements.

HOTEL MEN'S CONVENTION

BOSTON, June 9.—A sail down the harbor and along the North Shore was enjoyed by the delegates to the National Hotelmen's Mutual Benefit association and their families today.

The party left early aboard a big excursion steamer. The day was ideal for a short sea trip. The party crossed the bay to Nantasket beach on the return voyage and had a good old fashioned New England clambake. The evening was left free for trunk packing and a farewell to Boston, for the visitors go out to the Berkshires tomorrow.

A BLOOD GAME

Edsons and Bartletts at Spalding Park

If you want to see a real hot base ball game, get out to Spalding park early tomorrow, for the Edsons and Bartletts of the Grammar school league will play off their protested game before the regular game is called, the school boys starting at 12.30 o'clock. The last game played by these two teams ended disastrously and was thrown out by the judges. It was deemed unsafe to have it played off either common or account of the intense feeling among the partisans of both teams. Hence, it was decided that the game should be played on neutral ground with an umpire selected by the judges. The latter made arrangements with Manager Gray whereby the game will be played at 12.30 tomorrow. This will give the boys ample time to play nine innings before the big game. Mr. John Neeson will umpire and those who have seen him direct a game know that he is strong on the rules and impartial in his decisions. One admission admits to both games. Players of both teams are requested to be present in time to start the game at 12.30 sharp.

A "SANE FOURTH"

PICTURES SEEN BY MINISTERS AND OTHERS

A special film entitled "A Sane Fourth of July," which is of an educational nature was displayed at the Theatre Vovons yesterday afternoon and witnessed by a delegation from the Ministers' Federation, members of the school board and of the Women's club, school teachers, principals and members of the press, together with a number of representative business men.

This is the latest Edison film of purpose and carries its lesson by means of vital, human emotions which accentuate the idea as well as add to the popularity of the film. It is confidently expected that the little drama here unfolded will set some millions of Americans to thinking seriously on a subject which really calls for some attention.

The mayor of New York is asked to aid in the work in the "Sane Fourth" propaganda, the leader of which is a young widow with whom he is already somewhat in love. She pleads for the sake of her own boy and the mayor's motherless little girl. He is rather inclined to accede to her request, until he finds that the political bosses of the town are mixed up with the dealers in fireworks and that his chances for re-election to the office of mayor may possibly be endangered if he takes a positive stand in favor of the ordinance prohibiting the sale of explosives to the young people.

The mayor is very careful about what his little girl buys to play with and she has nothing but little firecrackers which seem to be quite harmless. But the widow's little son slips into the store secretly and buys a good big cannon cracker to add to his other stock and then the trouble begins. The little girl hurts her finger with a small firecracker and the hurt seems very slight. Then the little boy climbs out of the canon from the next yard and brings his big cannon cracker which he proceeds to set off for her education. It explodes prematurely when he thinks the fuse has gone out and he is apparently blinded for life. A week later the mayor finds that he is in trouble indeed, for symptoms of lock-jaw have developed from the slight hurt in his little girl's finger. When the crisis has passed and he knows that she will recover he shows his gratitude by calling the rival committee together and announcing his determination to help them the next year for a "Sane Fourth." There are all kinds of games, dances, parades and processions and at night a remarkable exhibition of fireworks under the city's own control.

DRACUT

Road Surveyor Clarence L. Richardson who has charge of the macadamizing of Pleasant street in Dracut Centre has found it necessary to resort to the use of steam drills on the ledge in order to furnish sufficient stone to keep up with the capacity of the stone crusher. It was felt that the hand drilling would be sufficient to turn out enough of stone for the crusher but the quantity of broken stone was inadequate to keep the crusher busy.

KNOWS WHAT CURED HER

This Maine Woman Does Not Hesitate to Recommend the Remedy She Used.

A high endorsement is given Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by Mrs. Albert Bennett, of No. 124 Palm street, Bangor, Maine. She says:

"For nearly eight months I was in a general run-down condition, which I think may have been due to my age. The doctor said my sickness was caused by the condition of my blood. My appetite was poor and I would feel faint at my stomach. I was so short of breath that I couldn't walk much. I lost several pounds in weight and could not do my housework. It was a burden for me to get around and many people would have given up and gone to bed. My blood was in a poor condition and a rash broke out all over my body.

"I was treated by two doctors but their help was so slow that I gave up taking their medicine and used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In two weeks I felt better and as I continued using the pills I improved until I was cured. I took no other medicine while using the pills and give them the credit for the cure. A great many people, who know how badly off I was, have asked me what cured me and I am constantly recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"To avoid ill health and suffering at the critical time, a woman should make every effort to keep her general health in the best possible condition. If you are approaching the fortieth year or already passing through the change and your system is not strong enough to bear the strain, you can get no more certain or quick relief than through a thorough trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They quickly build up and purify the blood, which, in turn, tones and strengthens the nerves and every other part of the body until robust health is enjoyed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are guaranteed to be safe and harmless to the most delicate constitution. They do not act on the bowels but they actually make new blood and strengthen the nerves. If you want good health you must have good blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

TRUSSES AND ELASTIC HOSIERY

Some are unfortunate enough to be obliged to wear Braces, Supporters, Elastic Hosiery or Trusses. If you are one of these you ought to provide yourself with the best device of its kind. Our Truss and Elastic Hosiery Department is for this very purpose. We have a complete line of the best varieties of all such goods—and with surprisingly low prices.

The male and female attendants in this department are all experts, and the women trained nurses as well. We guarantee the quality of the goods, that the fitting is perfect, and we can supply special orders at exceptionally short notice.

DIRECTIONS FOR TAKING MEASUREMENTS

We always recommend, if it is convenient, for a person to be measured for elastic hosiery in our classes by our attendants. If this, however, is not convenient, measurements may be taken at home and the figures placed opposite the letters on the diagram. Measurements should be taken at the different points as indicated, preferably in the morning on rising. The actual measurements of the limbs should be given. We make the proper allowance for pressure.

A $20,000 GIFT WORKING WOMAN CHECKS STOLEN

Has Been Made to Yale University Should Earn at Least $12 a Week Mail Boxes in Manchester Were Robbed

NEW HAVEN, June 9.—A gift of $20,000 to be devoted to aiding original research in the study of diseases at the Yale medical school was announced by Secretary Phelps Stokes, Jr., of Yale university today from Francis E. Loomis of the class of 1864. Further gifts of $10,000 toward the endowment of the university clinic and $12,000 to the Peruvian expedition fund for the Yale expedition under Assistant Prof. Hiram Bingham were also announced. The Wright memorial committee has turned over to the treasurer of the university $12,500 toward the amount subscribed for the Wright memorial dormitory.

FOUNDERS' DAY

WAS OBSERVED THROUGHOUT RHODE ISLAND TODAY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 9.—The advent of Roger Williams and his sturdy hand of settlers into Providence plantation 275 years ago was commemorated today in this city and in the schools throughout the state. The observance of the event was launched by the descendants of the founders of the city and the day christened Founders' day.

While the city took no official cognizance of the occasion, exercises of an historical nature were held in all the public schools, where the children were told the story of the banishment of Roger Williams from the Massachusetts colony by the Puritans, of his arrival here, where he was met with the memorable greeting "What cheer, Necton?" from the Indians, and of the establishment of the state "to hold forth a lively experiment, that a most flourishing civil state may stand and best be maintained with full liberty in religious concerns."

JOHN DILLON

IS ON THE ROAD TO RAPID RECOVERY

BOSTON, June 9.—John O'Callaghan, national secretary of the United Irish league of America, received yesterday another cablegram from Joseph Devlin, M. P., national secretary of the United Irish league in Ireland, stating that John Dillon, M. P., who was severely injured in an automobile accident on Monday night while on his way to the railroad station at Dundalk, is recovering rapidly.

Mr. Devlin's message read: "Dillon making splendid recovery. Cardinal Logue was among callers to see him today."

Strange to say Mr. Dillon has always been averse to riding in automobiles and only used them when no other method of locomotion was available.

BOSTON, June 9.—"No working woman can possibly live in simple comfort on less than $12 a week," declared Mrs. Raymond Robbins of Chicago today. Mrs. Robbins is in Boston to attend the national conference of the Women's Trade Union league, of which she is president. "If her wages fall below that amount she wares exist," Mrs. Robbins continued. "She is obliged to deny herself proper food and suitable clothing. Until such time as votes for women prevail the wage workers must join a union and go on a strike, if necessary, for the protection denied them under man-made laws."

On the question of marriage, Mrs. Robbins said:

"A trade union girl might perhaps become the wife of a passive non-unionist and still be happy, but under no circumstances should she marry a pronounced anti-trade unionist, regardless of his wealth and social standing."

HIGHLAND HEIGHTS

City Gets Park in New Residential District

HIGHLAND HEIGHTS AND HARRIS PARK

Frank E. Harris, Developer of "Highland Heights," Gives Harris Park to the City—Building Boom in Vicinity of St. Margaret's Church—Notable Restrictions on Land

Through the coming of St. Margaret's Catholic parish to the Highlands and the advent of Frank E. Harris into the real estate business in the same locality a new and booming territory has been opened up in that attractive part of the city while the city of Lowell gets a brand new park into the bargain.

Mr. Harris, who started the development of the new district, has called it "Highland Heights" and therefore, that's the name by which the new district will henceforth be known. A new Catholic church is being built on one side of it and a new Protestant church has only been completed on short time on the other side. The Washington and Highland schools are within a stone's throw and thus it is well fixed at the start for religion and education.

The establishment of a new Catholic church in any locality is also followed by an increase of the number of Catholic families in that locality for attendance at church being obligatory on Catholics they naturally like to locate within reasonable distance of the church. Then the district has its own natural advantages while Mr. Harris, who has certain ideas of a high plane in regard to localities has spent a large amount of money in developing that portion of the district controlled by him according to his ideas and he has placed restrictions on the property owned by him that will insure a first class residential district for years to come. The Highland Heights district is the district lying between and adjacent to Stevens, Pine, Wilder and B streets. Mr. Harris' property lies within those bounds and in starting to develop the territory he constructed several new streets, three of which have already been accepted by the city, namely, Chauncey avenue, Harris avenue and Bennett street while there is still another street yet to receive a name.

In the centre of his lot at the junction of D street and Harris avenue is Harris park which Mr. Harris has turned over to the city. The park is oval shaped with broad roadways all around it. It is planted with grass and flowers while the park board intends to further beautify it. After laying out his property Mr. Harris built five houses and a bungalow and offered them for sale. Three of the houses are of cement and all frames have asbestos roofs. One of the houses and the bungalow already have been sold and will be occupied within a week or two. The house was taken by Abel R. Campbell, the well known real estate agent, who has charge of the property for Mr. Harris, and the bungalow by Mr. Charles F. Libbey. Dwellings are now under construction by Alfred F. Prescott, and A. J. Pinard while S. D. Breen of Pawtucketville is about to build three two-family dwellings. As fast as Mr. Harris disposes of his houses he will build more until the locality is comfortably filled.

Building Restrictions

The restrictions placed on all land by Mr. Harris are as follows: All houses must be either one or two family houses, nothing larger. Each house must not be less than 20 feet back from the sidewalk. Each house must have either an asbestos or slate roof. Telephone and electric light poles are being put down in the new district and there are even restrictions on these, for they must be laid between the lots instead of on the sidewalk in front of any particular residence.

Mr. Harris' Hobby

Mr. Harris has a hobby and that is poultry farming and he has about completed an immense set of hen houses along Shaw street in which he expects to install 2000 hens and as many more as Nature and a modern set of incubators will permit. A six room house of cement and wood has been built at the end of the street and Mr. Harris has a fine conservatory in which he will raise choice flowers and hide from view the little low buildings that constitute the henery.

Geographical Advantages

Real estate men almost without exception look upon the upper Highland district as the next part of Lowell to have a building boom. Located in the extreme western part of the city that district is peculiarly free from smoke at all times. Its height gives it another advantage, that of pure air, for according to the records in the city engineer's office that part of the district in the vicinity of St. Margaret's church is within six feet as high as Fort Hill park. The Highland line of cars runs through the district, while the Westford street line is but a few minutes' walk distant.

At St. Margaret's

The architect who is building St. Margaret's church spent Thursday at the work and was much pleased with the progress made. The foundations are completed and all is in readiness for the laying of the corner stone which will take place on Sunday afternoon, June 18th at 2:30 o'clock. As was previously announced, Bishop Anderson will officiate and the sermon will be by Very Rev. Dr. Supply.

Nice, fresh, large mackerel, 25c each. The Tarpon, 124 Central street.

IN POLICE COURT

SMALL DOCKET BEFORE JUDGE HADLEY

The police court session this morning presided over by Judge Hadley was very brief, as there were only drunk cases, and the court disposed of them in 10 minutes.

Fourteen altogether were arrested for indulging too much of the "foamy," six first offenders were released this morning by the probation officer, two were fined $2 each and the others were sentenced as follows: James Morris, Edmund J. Champagne, Samuel Adams and Hannah Sears were fined $5 apiece, while Patrick Conley and Patrick Lynch were both given a sentence to the state farm at Bridgewater.

THE CATHEDRAL

Was Badly Damaged by Earthquake

TUXPAN, Jalisco, Mexico, June 9.—Blass Ruiz, a merchant, is the first to arrive from Colima, the region said to have suffered the greatest shock from the earthquake. He reports the railroad blocked by landslides and that there were only two or three victims at Colima. The roofs of the cathedral and the church of La Mercede fell in. The principal damage other than this was a number of small houses. The principal buildings suffered little damage.

SAFE ROBBED

PITTSFIELD, June 9.—A safe in the William Cooley Co.'s store was robbed of over $5000 in money and non-negotiable paper early today. A stranger representing himself as a dealer in safes who had been in Pittsfield lately is being searched for. The safe is of an old lock and key affair.

LOWELL WOMAN

Arraigned in Superior Court Today

Mrs. Edith Butterfield, of this city, appeared at the criminal session of the superior court at Cambridge this morning and was given a hearing on an appeal of a fine of $85 for alleged illegal keeping of liquor. Lawyer Joseph E. Loughran appeared for the defendant.

Mrs. Butterfield, who conducts a lodging house at 42 Tyler street, came into prominence recently when Helen Hartnett, aged 14 years, who had been missing from her home in Haverhill for several months was located at the house in Tyler street and as a result of what the girl told the police Mrs. Butterfield was arrested. The principal witness for the government was the Hartnett girl.

COMING HERE FROM BELGIUM TO TEACH

NEW YORK, June 9.—The mother-general of the Holy Union of Sacred Hearts arrived here today from Tournai, Belgium. Her sister, Mother Leonine, accompanied her on the Mauretania. They will go to Fall River, Mass., first to inspect a local branch of the order. The mother-general brought the uniforms of 110 sisters of the order, who are coming here soon to teach.

FOUND A PEARL

BUT IT RESTED AGAINST BLACK PART OF SHELL

NEW YORK, June 9.—Because a pearl lay against the black part of the inside of a clam shell, the Rev. F. E. Grunert, pastor of the Moravian Episcopal church at New Doug. S. I., today has about $5000 less than he would have, had the pearl rested against the white part of the shell.

Mr. Grunert bought clams about two months ago and Mrs. Grunert served them on the half-shell for luncheon. As the clergyman was about to eat one of the bivalves he observed a shiny object in the shell. He pulled it out and found it to be a black and white pearl.

Mr. Grunert laid the gem aside for several weeks, and yesterday sent it to Read Benedict, of the firm of Benedict Brothers, Jewelers, Broadway and Liberty street, for appraisal. Mr. Benedict found that the pearl weighed 43 grains. He went over to the case and produced a pure white pearl hanging in a pendant. The pearl was about the same size as the which Mr. Grunert had found in the clam.

"This pure white pearl," said Mr. Benedict, "is worth $7,000. The one you found would have been worth as much if the clam had not allowed it to rest against the black. As it is now, white and black, I think it's worth about $100."

STOCK MARKET

WAS IRREGULAR AT THE CLOSE TODAY

Canadian Pacific and the Erie reached a high level—An increased demand for the Copper Stocks—Market Leaders Dropped to Lowest of the Day

BOSTON, June 9.—Stocks were steady at about the level of yesterday's close at the opening today. Many of gains were made but most of the changes were small. American Steel was the strongest, advancing a point. Brooklyn Rapid Transit gained 3/4, and Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Reading and Amalgamated Copper 1/2. Denver & Rio Grande, lost a point and Pittsburgh Coal 1/2. During the first half hour the market advanced briskly over yesterday's closing prices, then receded some, and toward 11 o'clock prices again began to rise.

After an upward movement of small dimensions and a quick release the market grew quiet at the level which prevailed at yesterday's close. Speculative interest seemed to have grown less active and the volume of trading was smaller. U. S. Steel was watched closely in view of the belief that an unusually powerful bear combination had been responsible for the recent pressure against it, but the stock held steady throughout the morning session. The bond market generally was firm.

Canadian Pacific achieved distinction in an otherwise uninteresting market by rising to 24 1/2, a new record price, compared with 23 1/2, its low figure of the morning.

The sluggishness of stocks directed speculative interest into bonds, in which trading opportunities were better. Large transactions occurred in New York city 4 1/2, Atchafalpa Convertibles, American Telephone Convertibles, Third Avenue certificates and Wabash Pittsburgh certificates.

The market closed irregular. Canadian Pacific and the Erie reached a high level and there was an increased demand for the copper group on the better trade conditions. The market leaders were sold under cover of this demonstration of strength and dropped to the lowest of the day.

Cotton Futures

NEW YORK, June 9.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate that favorable trade activities outnumber those of an adverse character and with official assurance of plentiful wheat crops confidence in the future is spreading. While the better tone to commercial reports is not general at Boston in some branches of trade steady improvement is indicated and the growth of optimism while slow is nevertheless clearly apparent. Textile mills still curtail operations and the cotton goods market is quiet but there is a feeling that the worst has been seen and that when demand receives it will quickly become active. It is between seasons with the woolen mills but the outlook is brighter and leading manufacturers are buying raw material with greater freedom. There is a strong tone to leather and prospects of high prices have stimulated demand from consumers.

A notable change appears in the comparison of bank exchanges this week, the total at all leading cities in the United States aggregating $2,157,142,682, a loss of only 1 1/2 per cent. compared with the corresponding week last year.

Money Market

NEW YORK, June 9.—Prime mercantile paper 3 1/2-4 per cent. Sterling exchange steady at 181 for 60 day bills and at 185.55 for demand. Commercial bills 45-46. Bar silver 55. Mexican dollars 45. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds firm.

Money on call steady 2 1/2, ruling rate 2 1/2, last loan 2 1/2, closing bid 2 1/2, offered at 2 1/2, time loans steady, 60 days 2 1/2, 90 days 2 1/2, six months 3 1/2.

Cotton Spot

Cotton spot quiet, 5 points up. Middling upland 15.90. Middling Gulf 16.15. Sales 200 bales.

Exchanges and Balances
BOSTON, June 9.—Exchanges, $26,299,783; balances, $1,032,877.

To Administer the Last Rites

NEW YORK, June 9.—While a crowd of ten thousand persons were shouting in the street below, Fr. Duffy of St. Ann's church, No. 112 East 12th street, crawled beneath a car of an uptown Third Avenue "L" train at the 14th street station last night and bringing the third rail administered the last rites to John Brennan of No. 417 East 121st street.

Brennan had fallen from the platform in front of a moving train and lay dying for 45 minutes, wedged between the brake shoe and the shell box of the forward truck.

Beneath the "L" structure a small pool of blood was forming on the street. A watch that Brennan carried in his pocket fell from his vest, through the opening between the ties, and crashed to the street near the growing pool of blood.

The crowd that had been attracted to the scene by the cries of "Man killed!" fought to gain the stairs leading to the "L" platform, and the police were overpowered.

Upon the arrival of a wrecking train the car beneath which Brennan lay was raised with hydraulic jacks and the mangled, unconscious form was taken out and laid upon a stretcher. Scores of persons volunteered to carry the stretcher to the street below where an ambulance from Bellevue hospital was waiting.

At the foot of the stairs the crowd that struggled to get a glimpse at the dying man crowded against the windows of neighboring shops, crushing several plateglass windows. The arrival of police reserves enabled men to carry the stretcher to the ambulance, and Brennan was rushed to the hospital dying. He cannot recover, the physicians say.

FACE SLAPPED

Man Accosted Woman by Mistake

NEW YORK, June 9.—Frederick Berg, a young electrician of No. 107 West 107th street, who was slapped in the face by a woman who alleged he accosted her on the street, was vindicated yesterday on the charge of disorderly conduct when Chief Magistrate McAdoo, in Jefferson market court, discharged him.

The complainant was Miss Margaret Stewart, who gave her address as No. 209 West 15th street. She said Berg came up to her while she was looking into the show window of a Sixth Avenue department store at noon yesterday and took hold of her arm, at the same time saying: "Come on, sweetheart." She said she had never seen him before, and when she turned around she slapped him in the face, grabbed him by the coat-collar and started off for the West 107th street police station with him with a crowd following.

Berg said in defense that he had been looking in at the show windows with a woman friend, and had moved to the next window and then back to where he had left his friend and had reached out and taken her—or the woman he supposed to be his friend—by the arm and had said: "Come on, sweetheart."

"Then," said Berg, "this woman turned around and slapped me in the face before I knew I had made a mistake. I apologized, but she grabbed hold of me and pushed me along amid a 'jerrying mob.'"

Miss Elsie Weller, an actress, No. 233 West Sixteenth street, testified she had been looking into a show window with Berg, but had gone into the store, thinking he would follow. Then, after she had reached the elevators, she missed him.

KING GUSTAVE

PAID A VISIT REAR ADMIRAL BADGER

STOCKHOLM, June 9.—King Gustave, accompanied by his ministers and members of the court yesterday visited Rear-Admiral Badger, commanding the American squadron, on board the Lusitania. His majesty first made a tour of the Swedish and American squadrons on the royal yacht.

He was received on the flagship by Admiral Badger and the officers, while the men manned the ship, the band playing the national anthems and guns never sent him before, and when she firing a salute.

FOREST FIRES RAGING

EL PASO, Texas, June 9.—Forest fires raging in Dragoon mountains, near Tombstone, have been gaining headway since Sunday despite efforts of a large force of forest rangers who have been fighting the flames. Many square miles of timber has been destroyed.

SEVERAL PERSONS REPORTED KILLED

LAS VEGAS, N. M., June 9.—Santa Fe train number 3, the California Limited, smashed into a work train between Cerrillos and Domingo, west of here, this morning. Several are reported killed and injured.

PASSENGERS REACH LAND

NOME, Alaska, June 9.—Unable to find an open lead the steamer Corwin, whose coming marked the opening of navigation in Behring sea, landed her 102 passengers on the solid ice seven miles from shore here yesterday. The passengers, four of whom were women, reached land safely.

The Corwin was unable to discharge her cargo but sufficient provisions for immediate needs were brought in by dogsleds. The Corwin left Seattle May 10.

TEACHERS LOSE

Governor's Veto of Bill Sustained by One Vote

Sen. Lomasney Made an Attack on Gov. Foss—Senator Hoar Defended the Executive—The Gallery Was Thronged With Teachers, Who Watched the Battle

BOSTON, June 9.—After a debate in which Senator Lomasney accused Gov. Foss of "insincerity, chicanery and hypocrisy," and of having used his executive clerk as a lobbyist and of having broken his pledges to the democratic party, the senate yesterday sustained the governor's veto of the Boston elementary teachers' salary bill, 11 to 35, a margin of one vote.

The bill is now dead, unless upon reconsideration today, notice of which was given by Senator Hatten, one of the 14 opposing senators should change his mind or remain away—a contingency not anticipated by even the most sanguine of the teachers' friends.

Never within the memory of any one on Beacon Hill has a governor been so abused by a member of his own party, on the floor of either branch of the general court as was Mr. Foss by Senator Lomasney. Twice President Treadway called him to order for unparliamentary references to the governor.

"I stand here," said Mr. Lomasney, "as a senator of the party to which the chief executive gave his allegiance, to hear from his face the mark of insincerity, hypocrisy and chicanery which it has been covered over since he reached the governor's chair."

"He is a twiddle-dee and twiddle-dum governor. He went through the state last fall telling this mass and that class what he would do to better their condition. But the moment he became governor he scattered those promises to the four winds of heaven. We hear now and then of his releasing life prisoners from the state prison at Charlestown. He has been flaunting his humanity in the faces of the people, but when it comes to a matter which would benefit women and children it requires all the efforts of the leaders of his party to make him see the right.

"This is the man who, while he was attempting to arouse public sentiment by releasing prisoners, would have forgotten the tolling thousands of women and children by vetoing the school bill. And now he has allowed himself to be misled by a lobbyist and become law without comment."

"If this were a matter of commerce, industry or finance, his gray matter would grasp it easily enough, but when it comes to a matter of humanity it is another story."

Tading Intervenes

At this point President Treadway reminded the senator that he could not permit disparagement of the chief executive, and asked him to speak to the matter on the calendar. Mr. Lomasney said he did not intend to disparage, and hoped the president would call him to order whenever he became unparliamentary.

It was on the question of lobbying that Mr. Treadway again called the senator to order. Mr. Hatten first raised the point that persons from the governor's office had lobbied against the bill, and Mr. Lomasney said he had personal knowledge that this was a fact. He also charged that senators, at the instance of the governor, had acted as lobbyists.

Executive Clerk Harlow later denied that there was any truth in Mr. Lomasney's statement as far as he was concerned. The governor smiled and said he thought he could stand anything the senator had said about him.

Teachers Are Indignant

The teachers are indignant at the manner in which, according to Mr. Lomasney and others, the governor used his influence to encompass the defeat of their bill, and by the friends of the measure generally his alleged activity is regarded as a distinct violation of the constitution.

Six democrats—Doyle of Boston, Hoar of Worcester, Mack of North Adams, Malley of Springfield, Murray of Boston and Quigley of Holyoke—united with eight republicans to sustain the veto. The roll call follows:

To sustain the veto—Adams, Bennett, Doyle, Greenwood, Hunt, Mack, Malley, Mulligan, Murray, Pearson, Quigley, Schoonmaker, Tinkham White—14.

Oppose the bill—Barnes, Blanchard, Brown, Chase, Curley, Denny, Evans, Gales, Granger, Haley, Hatten, Hubbard, Hoar, Keith, Lomasney, Mellican, Nash, Nason, Newhall, Powers, Ross, Stearns, Timilty, Tolman, Turner—25.

A serious attempt is to be made by the committee on cities and by all representatives and senators who believe the teachers should have higher salaries in securing a passage of a bill which will give them what they want, without antagonizing either the governor or the school committee.

Representative Montague has a bill, based upon the Governor's recommendation, which he will ask the house to substitute for the bill the committee on cities voted last week to report, and Senator Newhall, chairman of the committee, says the understanding is that Mr. Montague's bill will be accepted.

Refer to Masters' Increase

The teachers, however, will accept no bill which does not guarantee them all that the vetoed bill would have given them.

"We are now on the defensive," said one of them yesterday. "We are no longer supplicants. The masters want an increase. Let us see how much they want it."

The debate on the veto opened shortly after 2 o'clock and lasted nearly two hours. The galleries and the spaces on the floor of the senate reserved for spectators were crowded with teachers, most of whom had worked for two years for an increase in salary, only to see their hopes dashed at last.

Senator Hoar followed Senator Lomasney in support of the bill, and then came Senator Malley, who said:

"I had expected to hear some convincing argument from the senator from Suffolk, but instead I heard a speech which came as near being abusive of the chief executive of this commonwealth as the rules of the senate and parliamentary usage would allow. Certainly it was not a violation, these rules were very much strained."

"A senator of Massachusetts of the same party as the chief executive I do not feel I would be doing my duty if I did not utter my protest against the characterization that has been given by the senator from Suffolk of the motives of the governor."

Hatten Called to Order

Senator Hatten asked Senator Malley what he thought of the action of the governor in sending lobbyists to work against the bill, but President Treadway called him to order, declaring that he could not allow personalities.

"For the first time," continued Senator Malley, "a democratic governor has had the courage to veto a bill that violated the principle of home rule. It makes no difference what past legislatures have done. I believe the governor to be absolutely right. He was elected to do his duty and he has done it."

Senator Lomasney again secured the floor. "When I came into the state house this morning," he said, "I was met with the story that the governor was sending his secretary, aye, and an honorable senator, too, to lobby against these 2500 noble women. I cannot remember the time when another governor of Massachusetts has sent his secretary or even a member of the legislature to lobby in this manner."

The president again called the senator to order, reminding him that he was not conforming to strict parliamentary procedure. "I understand," he said, "that the honorable senator is basing his remarks on hearsay."

"Many of the things of which I speak," said Mr. Lomasney, "I saw with my own eyes. I have no desire to criticize the governor unjustly but I desire to protest with all the power that is in me against interference by the executive in the functions of the legislative body."

Mack Defends Veto

Senator Mack of North Adams said he believed the governor's veto was sound. Senator Hatten asked him what difference there was between the home rule principle in this bill and in the bill to increase the wages of metropolitan park employees, the veto of which he voted to override. Mr. Mack said he had voted for that bill at the request of a senator, and had not looked into it closely. He understood, however, that the principle was different.

Senator Doyle said the difference in principle between the two bills lay in the fact that the metropolitan park commission was appointed by the governor, while the school committee of Boston was elected by the people of Boston.

"Personally," he said, "I do not like the members of the school committee, but I respect the will of the people who placed them in office."

Senator Newhall of Lynn, chairman of the committee on cities, explained why the committee had favored the bill unanimously. The school committee that it the matter was put over a year they would submit a bill. They had a year to think it over, but failed to keep their promise. Senator Barnes of Weymouth closed for the bill.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Centralville Rebekah lodge, E. F. was held last night at Centralville Odd Fellows hall in Bridge street. There was a large attendance, and considerable business of importance was transacted during the course of the meeting. ## FIREBUG BUSY

He Resumes His Work in Boston

BOSTON, June 9.—Although one man is in Charles Street Jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of having set fire to the building 6

Stillman street, Sunday, May 14, and the police are still doing special patrol duty in the North End and, it is said, shadowing a milkman supposed to be connected with the epidemic of incendiary fires in that district the past month, another fire, believed to have been set, occurred at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the house 8 Prince street, the scene of four suspicious fires on May 14.

This, following a fire in the North End and another in the West End early Tuesday morning, both of which were suspicious, leads the authorities to believe several firebugs are terrorizing the crowded tenement districts downtown. The fire yesterday at 8 Prince street was on the second floor, occupied by Pasquale Della Russo. It started in a feather bed in a rear room that looked out on a shed. The Russo family were absent, but the window was open. The police say it would be an easy matter for the firebug to have scaled the shed and entered the room or to have thrown a lighted torch through the window. The damage was slight. The building is of four stories and occupied by three Italian families. With the arrest of Giuseppe Morello, a baker, living at 47 Shawmut avenue, the police thought they had solved the mystery attached to the long series of fires in the North End. Morello was arraigned in the municipal court last Saturday and held for the grand jury. He recently finished a three-year term for setting fire to a building on Harrison avenue. He had been employed as a baker in the North End.

SAVED BY POLICE

"Ty" Cobb Threatened by Mob

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Ty Cobb had a narrow escape from personal injury at the hands of an incensed mob in the game here yesterday which Detroit won handsily by 8 to 3. A record midweek crowd of 22,000 witnessed the game and, becoming thoroughly enraged over Cobb's unruly actions toward Baker and Plank and the fight field bleachers, many thousands of the rooters tried to mob Cobb when the game ended. It required an extra force of police and ground attendants, aided by the rest of the Detroit players, to plough a way through the human wall and get Cobb to a waiting taxi-cab. Cobb had a run-in with Plank in the first inning over a ball and the two never lost a chance after that to peck away at each other verbally.

The fight field bleachers took up Plank's case and whenever Cobb came in on the field they pelted him with lemons. Cobb usually throwing them back at the stand with as much force as he could use. In the sixth inning Cobb slid into Baker feet first and the latter claimed that Cobb tried to spike him, he throwing Cobb's feet, which were entangled in his glove, aside with too much force, which naturally turned Cobb around. In the eighth inning, with Cobb on third, Plank tried to catch him napping and on a quick toss to Baker came near doing it. As Baker tagged Cobb the latter tried to tread on Plank's toes. Baker resented this and tried to repeat Cobb's trick. Cobb then bumped Baker and both players were hauling off to punch each other when Umpire Sheridan interfered.

Plank rushed to Baker's aid and he had to be forcibly pushed back to the pitcher's box by Davis before peace reigned.

This added to the crowd's excitement and as Ty made the last out on Collins they made a rush for him. However, quick action by the police and Detroit players saved the "Georgia Peach" from harm.

PAPKE WON BOUT

Sullivan Never Had a Chance

LONDON, June 9.—Billy Papke, the American middleweight, otherwise known as the "Illinois Thunderbolt," took the measure of Jim Sullivan, the middleweight champion of England, in nine rounds of fast and furious fighting last night and gained the fight against the boxer, and the fighter won with ease.

The contest was for the middleweight championship of the world, a purse of $10,000 and a side bet. It was boxed under the management of Hugh D. McIntosh, the Australian promoter, who hired the Palladium, one of London's noted music halls, for the purpose, and crowded it to the doors.

Throughout the fight was a savage one. Sullivan proved the cleverer at long range work, but Papke excelled at infighting. There was much clinching and much hitting in the clinches, and Referee Eugene Corri was compelled to remain in the ring. He had difficulty at times in separating the men, and he warned Papke twice.

The meeting of the American and English champion had been the sole topic of discussion in sporting circles for some days, and large sums were paid for seats near the ringside. Notwithstanding that the fight was advertised as "America vs. England," Papke ruled a strong favorite in the betting at odds of 3 to 2 and in some cases 2 to 1. Papke had a long list of knockouts to his record, while Sullivan's best fight was that in which he defeated Tom Thomas and won the middleweight championship of England and the Londale belt.

Sullivan showed nervousness when he climbed into the ring last night, but after the fight had gone a few rounds he seemed to recover confidence. For a time he was able to stand off the sturdy Papke, who "roughed it" from the beginning, and he dodged with great cleverness several of the American's stinging swings. These he had landed, would have ended the fight then and there. Sullivan used his left and right with good judgment, but without affecting the stamina of Papke, who was able to take an unlimited amount of punishment.

Toward the close of the ninth round Papke landed a savage uppercut which sent Sullivan to the floor. He took a count of five and, when the bell rang, staggered blindly to his corner.

When the call to the 10th round sounded he was unable to stand up, and Corri awarded the fight to Papke, amid great applause by the spectators.

BIG INSURANCE

$4,500,000 ON LIFE OF RODMAN WANAMAKER

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Although he already possessed the unique distinction of being the most heavily insured person in all the world, Rodman Wanamaker, son of John Wanamaker, has added another $4,500,000 to his list of life policies.

When death removes the noted merchant there will accrue to his family from life insurance alone the enormous sum of $4,500,000. This amount is greater than the insurance of any other person in the world, including the crowned heads of Europe and the far east.

JEW AND GENTILE

WILL BE PRESIDENTS OF THIS REPUBLIC, SAID ROOSEVELT

Through a typographical "out" in the report of Colonel Roosevelt's speech at the reception to Cardinal Gibbons, printed in Wednesday's paper, his reference to the Jews was omitted. His exact words in this connection were:

"We shall see presidents who are Catholics as well as presidents who are Protestants, and we shall see presidents who are Jews as well as presidents who are Gentiles."

A LIVELY FIGHT NEW BUILDINGS

After the Ball Game in Lynn Several Permits Were Issued Today

LYNN, June 9.—As a result of a disturbance on a street car on Washington street, which came very near developing into a serious fight, while several hundred persons were returning from the baseball game at Ocean park yesterday, Michael O'Hara of 25 Second street, Chelsea, and James O'Hara of 34 Essex street, Lawrence, were arrested. A general attack had been made upon Henry Robie, a conductor. The Chelsea O'Hara was charged with evading his fare, while the Lawrence man was charged with assault.

During the game between Lawrence and Lynn, quite a delegation of rooters from Lawrence and Charlestown, the latter coming to see Welch, who belongs in Charlestown, pitch for Lawrence, made things so unpleasant that they were asked several times to behave.

When the game was over the crowd boarded a car in charge of Conductor Robie and trouble ensued because of the alleged refusal of some of the men to pay the fares. Someone made a kick at Robie and he went for his assailant and knocked him into the street.

The rest of the gang were piling upon the conductor, who was putting up a fierce scrap, when a half dozen policemen, headed by Deputy Chief Bartlett, jumped from another car and broke through the crowd.

In the squad were Inspector Duncakes and Sgt. Murphy, both in plain clothes, and they had to force their way to the center of the crowd of several hundred. There were a score or more fighting and everyone seemed to be trying to get a crack at Robie.

The police grabbed the O'Haras and dragged them from the center of the crowd. When the rest of the gang discovered that the men in plain clothes were policemen they hustled to get back upon the car and out of sight of the police.

No difficulty was experienced in landing the prisoners at a patrol box. But for the timely presence of the officers there would have been a bad row on Washington street, for Robie had many friends in the crowd and they were ready to mix in the fight.

FACTORY INSPECTION

It is proposed to have a special commission investigate factory inspection and report its findings to the next legislature. The commission is to consist of the chairman of the state board of health and the chief of the district police ex-officio and three persons to be chosen by the governor. The result will probably be an increase in the number of inspectors which is now claimed to be too small to do the work effectively.

HOW THE LYNN CHARTER WORKS

Down in Lynn Mr. Bayrd, commissioner of public property, has removed Chairman Hawkes of the park board for the reason, it is alleged, that Mr. Hawkes did not apply business methods in a manner satisfactory to Commissioner Bayrd on whose shoulders rests the responsibility. Mr. Hawkes is out and that settles it. There will be no court proceedings to restore him to office. The man who is responsible is the only one to be satisfied and nobody else has any right to butt in. That is business and it shows the beauty of the commission charter. The next man who goes in there will understand that he must give satisfaction to his chief or he also quits the job.

FALL RIVER'S STATE POLICE BOARD

The aldermen of Fall River have voted 21 to 6 in favor of a referendum on whether the city shall petition the legislature for the abolition of the state police regime by which the city has been governed for a number of years. We cannot conceive of anything but an affirmative vote on a question of that kind, for the very presence of the state police is a standing rebuke to the city as if her citizens were unfit to be trusted with control of the police power. It is alleged that the state police board of Fall River was the outcome of high handed political trickery in a conflict for party supremacy. Under such conditions there is no excuse for having a state police board in Fall River.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

The spontaneity and genuineness of the tributes to Cardinal Gibbons on his jubilee celebration are a fitting recognition of his eminent virtues, his patriotism and devotion to the cause of religion and humanity. He is a strong advocate of universal peace, and his address in response to the tributes paid him by high government officials from the president down was an eloquent appeal for recognition of a superintending providence in the affairs of men and for loyal support of duly chosen officials as clothed with divine authority in guiding the destiny of this republic.

Senator Root put it tersely when he said: "Cardinal Gibbons illustrates the union of service to the state and service to God, a bulwark against anarchy, a bulwark against the tearing down of morality and government upon which the foundation of our country depend."

FOR A SANE FOURTH

It is not too soon to agitate for a sane observance of the Fourth of July. The National Fire Protective Association has issued timely warning against a reckless celebration that may result in hundreds of deaths and thousands of wounded in the homes or the hospitals.

Last year's celebration cost 131 lives and the maiming of 2023, a total of 3054 casualties. The casualties in 1909 were 5522, so that there was an important reduction last year as a result of the campaign for a sane observance. The proper method of bringing this about is for each city to adopt a strict rule against the use of firearms and explosives, except in the regular display from which there is little danger. The fire cracker is a fruitful source of fires that cause great loss throughout the country. Firemen throughout the land dread the Fourth as their busiest day. Usually the fires are small but the most insignificant blaze is liable to develop into a great conflagration.

Whether we have a sane or an insane Fourth depends entirely upon the police regulations and how they are enforced. Our observance last year was fairly free from bad accidents and the noise was not so deafening as usual, all of which was the result of strict police regulations. It is hoped that this year the restrictions will be even greater, so that the number of accidents from exploding cannon crackers or firing off revolvers may be still further reduced.

THE DOWN-RIVER HIGHWAY

There should be no let up on the work of completing the down-river boulevard. Practically all of the road bed has been rough graded by Middlesex and Essex counties, and if the work is not satisfactory to the highway commission that fact should be known. The city of Lowell and the town of Dracut are paying their share of the expense to the county and both should see that the work is pushed with all possible haste. That road to Lawrence is greatly needed. Strange to say it is the only break in the state highway from New Hampshire to the sea. Lowell and Lawrence have been backward in demanding recognition from the counties in the line of better interurban roads. Were it otherwise this boulevard might have been completed long ago as it should have been. It is dangerous for an auto or vehicle of any kind to attempt to pass from Lowell to Lawrence by the north side route. That is a disgraceful state of affairs under which both cities have labored for years. Neither city should brook any delay in the completion of this road. It is alleged that the state highway commission will not accept the road in its present condition. The Middlesex county portion is said to be the cause of the objection. The commissioners should see that the work necessary to have the highway commission accept the road be done at once. Is there any opposition due to the fact that in the first place the commission or some of the members preferred a different route? The general public wants that road completed and are tired of this delay and haggling between the counties and the highway commission.

SEEN AND HEARD

There'll be some class to those city hall grounds when the bloom is on the clover.

Turn on the love, turn on the sweet, Turn on the song and cheer; We need them in the morning street, We need them far and near. Turn on the thoughts for other lives Besides our own, the smile That helps the world wherever it strives— Keep up the sunshine style.

No king had passed, no crowd had come, No army marched with flag and drum; No rose had bloomed, no bird had sung. Yet all the world seemed strangely young, And all the hearts that murmured there Were stirred by some soft touch of prayer— For, lo, where tolling throngs were massed Some neighbor's little child had passed!

Down in Norfolk, Va., the windows to the office marked "Health Commissioners" look as if they had not been washed since Hyman was a pup and the street door to the office is littered with all kinds of rubbish.

A Maryland congressman confides to the Congressional Directory that he is married and lives with his wife.

Never get it into your head, young man, that just because you are near the water, where the very trees bathe their sun-kissed leaves and the little birds sing the sweetest of love songs, that you can drink all the booze in the world and get away with it. Whiskey can throw romance and poetry ten times in so many seconds.

Talking machines are all right but they were not intended for legislative halls.

Down Baltimore way they say that the Mint Julep association needs rain. They don't seem to care anything about strawberries.

"Turn on the tongue sandwich," seems to be the slogan at city hall meetings.

ASHAMED OF GOD

Some men remember, I know you will, When you sinned with a comrade, the nameless thrill Of not knowing whether to kneel down there Before him and offer your nightly prayer, For fear he would sense you, or make you feel It wasn't just manly in prayer to kneel. You thought what you felt was ashamed of yourself, But it wasn't—just put that away on the shelf! And don't contradict or shake head, or nod, When I tell you that you were ashamed of God. At so many are when they kneel to pray In a room with a comrade or stranger, that way.

Ashamed of God! Now, isn't that nice To pay such a forfeit and give such a price For weakness and pride! You know better now. Since you've gathered world wisdom and gumption, somehow, That it makes no difference how many are there, There's nothing to be ashamed of in prayer! Nothing to be ashamed of in Him! Alone in your closet, with lamp turned dim, Or one in a million in strange lands met, There's nothing to be ashamed of yet In kneeling and praying just as you would do With none in the room but your Father and you!

Pimples, Skin Blotches

Disappear Over Night in Many Instances When Talc Shaper, Old-Fashioned Home Remedy

My complexion is naturally bad. If I neglect it, I soon find tiny pimples and blackheads breaking out or unsightly red skin blotches appearing in conspicuous places. I know of nothing more humiliating and often I used to hate to leave home or appear in public places because of my horrid skin. A friend of mine who has one of the rosiest, clearest and most beautiful complexions I ever saw, visited me one day and in despair I asked her how she did it. She said: "It's no secret at all and you or any woman can do it just as well as I. I use no rouge, no cosmetic of any kind, but each night before retiring I bathe my face with a simple lotion that I call Talc Shaper. I mix 2 ozs. of pure water with 1 drachm of Talc Shaper and I drag out a bottle of Benzoin. Any druggist will have the ingredients, or get them from his wholesaler."

I followed my friend's advice, and the results have been simply wonderful. My skin is smooth, clear and velvety always and the treatment takes me less than five minutes each night and costs next to nothing. I simply moisten a cloth with the lotion and apply it gently all over my face and neck, and in the morning I wash it off. I find this lotion delightful too, for softening and smoothing my hands, face or legs. It roughens or chapped from exposure to wind and weather. My husband uses it after shaving and says it's fine, stopping instantly all soreness and irritation. I think a great many leaders will be glad to hear of this recipe, and I hope you will publish it. I get all the ingredients here in Lowell from the Walker-Jaynes drug store, but I guess almost any druggist will have them.

The above is an excerpt from the Congressional Record to which Representative Mann of Illinois, the minority floor leader, took exception. Mr. Mann thought the insertion of applause in this manner constituted an abuse of "the privileges of the house."

TO AID WOMEN

PROMINENT WORKERS BELIEVE PENSIONING MOTHERS

The advisability of keeping families together instead of separating mother and child when the former is unable to support the latter is being vigorously upheld by representative women.

Mrs. Robert G. Clarkson recently read before the board of charities and corrections of New York city a paper on the subject in which she declared no institution, however well planned, could take the place of the mother, and moved she be pensioned so that she could continue to stay in the home.

Mrs. William Einstein, president of the Widowed Mothers' Fund association, read a paper on "The Keeping Together of Families," especially as concerned the preservation of the families of deserting husbands, consumptives or widows. She favored the method in use in Washington of imprisoning deserting husbands and turning over the proceeds of their work while in prison to their families. In the case of widows she urged the adoption of the system in vogue in Kansas City, where the judge of the juvenile court is empowered to pay a regular pension to widows with children from a fund placed at his disposal.

of the payments to be made only when the widow remains at home to care for her children instead of working outside. Only such a system, she said, could end the breaking up of families.

The Archduchess Isabella of Austria, wife of the millionaire Duke Frederick, is doing much to help the Hungarian peasant women by selling their beautiful lace.

In the spring she went to Paris, and, stopping her automobile at the principal shops, she sent in her card to the proprietor like any ordinary drummer and then descended, followed by two footmen carrying hampers filled with the lace. It may be imagined it was readily bought.

She also went into the principal tea room and suggested to the proprietor that he use real lace instead of paper frills on his boxes. He accepted with enthusiasm and was afterward rewarded by a visit to the archduchess's beautiful castle at Presburg.

The Boston Trade School For Girls is doing a notable work. This school last year earned more than $9000. The city provides $300 for the purchase of material. This annual provision is repaid once or twice over.

The work made by the girls in this school is so well taught and thoroughly done that it finds immediate purchasers.

VICARAGE CAKE

Use one pound of flour, six ounces of butter and lard mixed, six ounces of currants, six ounces of caster sugar, two eggs, one teaspoonful of tepid milk, one small teaspoonful of carbonate of soda, half a teaspoonful of ground cinnamon.

Rub the butter and lard into the flour, add all the dry ingredients except the soda, which must be dissolved in the milk. Beat the eggs, yolks and whites separately, stir into the flour, then add the soda and milk. Line a tin with greased paper, pour in the mixture and bake for one hour and a half to two hours.

MARY'S CAKE

Use one pound and a half of flour, half a pound of sugar, two ounces of candied peel, three-quarters of a pound of currants and raisins mixed, a quarter of a pound of butter, a quarter of a pound of lard, three eggs, half a pint of milk, one teaspoonful and a half of baking powder.

Rub the butter and lard into the flour, add the dry ingredients, lastly the well beaten eggs and the milk. Beat all thoroughly and bake about two hours.

RICE CHEESECAKES

Mix smoothly with a little cold milk one ounce of ground rice, add about two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a pinch of salt and half a pint of new milk. Boil all together, and when cooked mix in two eggs and a few drops of any flavoring best liked. Fill pastry shells and grate a nutmeg on the top before baking. Bake in a moderate oven.

MANY WOMEN

SPEND THEIR SUMMER PLAYING CARDS AND EMBROIDERING

It is universally conceded that summer is about the only chance dwellers in towns and cities have of really recuperating their health.

They are supposed to live out of doors and to inhale enough ozone and enjoy enough sunshine to last them for the rest of the year, and yet any number of women spend their entire vacation playing cards or doing fine embroidery, which exhausts both eyes and nerves.

How far the card playing mania may be carried can be told by almost any dweller in a summer hotel. There are women who sit down immediately after breakfast, are persuaded with difficulty to take lunch, resume immediately afterward and are only interrupted by dinner. There are many also, who, in addition to playing all day long, enjoy a game in the evening as well.

During the game, which must be played indoors to avoid distraction, some of the best players even object to the windows being opened, as it blows the cards about.

The embroiderers are not quite so bad. They sit on the piazza to do their work, but they stitch through all the beautiful hours, scarcely looking at the scenery. The birds, the sky and the sunshine mean nothing to them. They are engrossed in a "web of stitches."

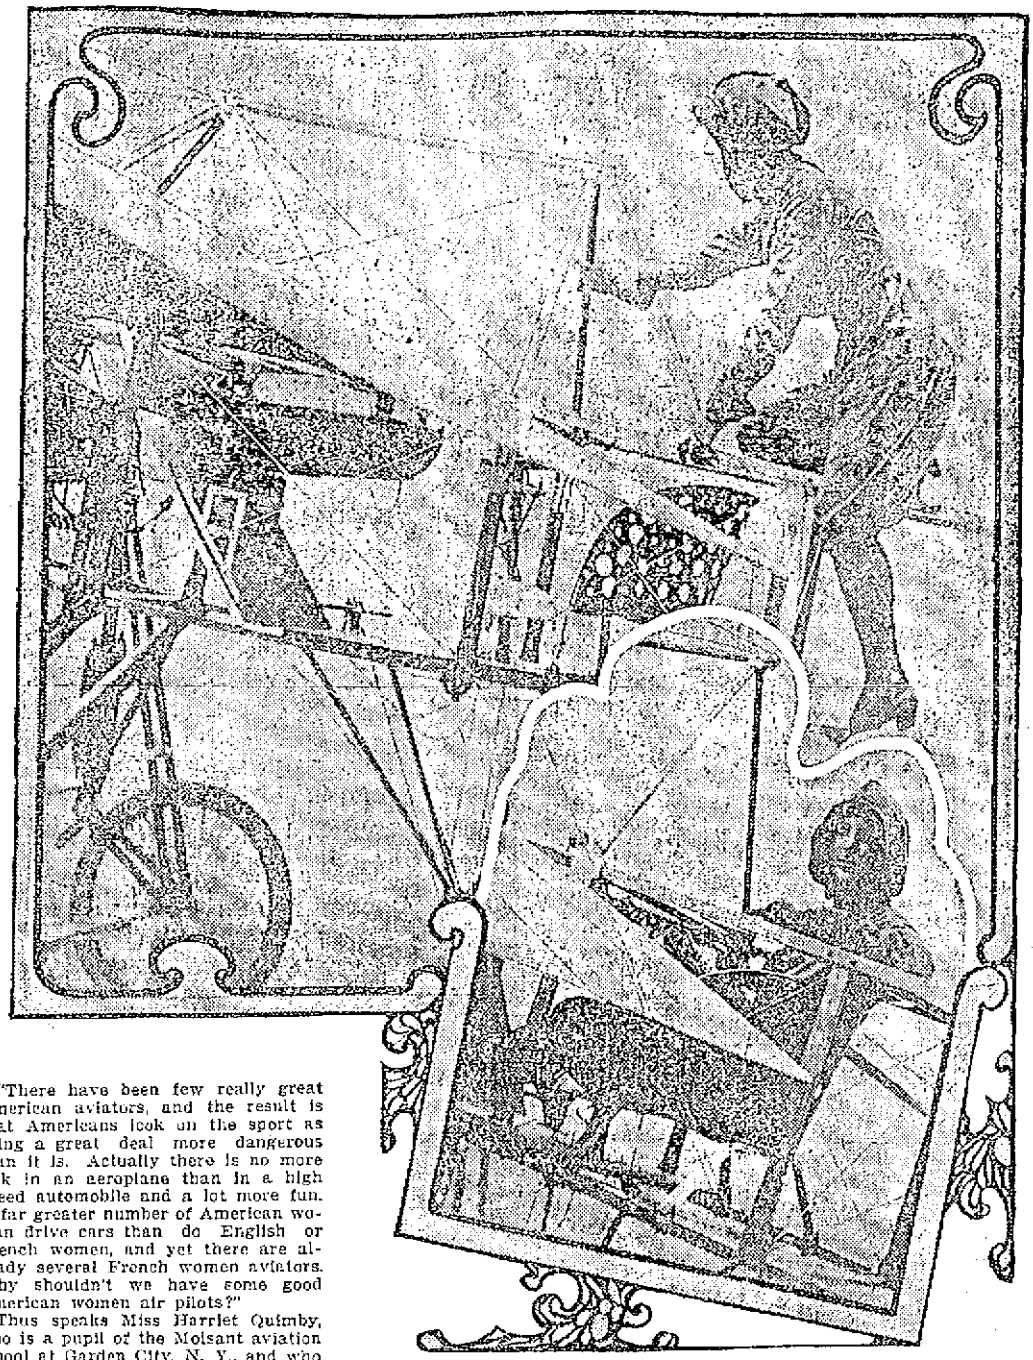

A woman will work bent in two over some intricate bit of white work until her head aches and her face grows flushed and hot with nervousness, and to what purpose does she thus ruin her health and waste the precious hours of sunshine to decorate some piece of linen with a few crisscross stitches? Is it worth while?

If you want health, if you want to have the benefit of your summer vacation, don't stay shut up in the house playing cards, don't sit continually embroidering on the piazza; have a garden, dig in the dirt and play in it with your seeds and your watering pot like a happy child. Take walks, breathe all the air you can and expand your chest instead of contracting it in a sitting position.

VEAL AND HAM PIE

Use some cold veal, slices of boiled ham or lean bacon, two hard boiled eggs, chopped parsley, sweet herbs, lemon rind, powdered mace, pepper and salt, veal stock, pastry.

Cut the veal into rather thick slices

"There have been few really great American aviators, and the result is that Americans look on the sport as being a great deal more dangerous than it is. Actually there is no more risk in an aeroplane than in a high speed automobile and a lot more fun. A far greater number of American women drive cars than do English or French women, and yet there are already several French women aviators. Why shouldn't we have some good American women air pilots?"

Thus speaks Miss Harriet Quimby, who is a pupil of the Moisant aviation school at Garden City, N. Y., and who has already made several flights. Miss Quimby is a San Francisco girl who has up to date been a magazine writer.

MUTTON PUDDING

Use the undercut from a shoulder of mutton, two onions, a pinch of allspice, pepper and salt, good stock and some light suet crust.

Cut the under part from a raw shoulder of mutton. The upper part will not be spoiled by this and can be hung till required. Cut the meat into cuttings and dip them in flour, seasoned with pepper and salt. Line a pudding basin with suet crust, put in the meat, season it with the minced onion and allspice and scatter a little of the seasoned flour over all. Pour a teaspoonful of good stock in. Cover with the paste. Boil for three hours.

LEADING WOMAN AVIATOR, TO ATTEMPT FLIGHT FROM NEW YORK TO PHILADELPHIA

THE NEW WOMAN, INVADING MAN'S DOMAIN, IN BASEBALL GAME

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—The ambition of the "new woman" to invade the fields of activity long dominated by the mere men folks is being gratified in many instances. In several states of the Union women have been given the ballot, some of them have developed advanced ability as operators of aeroplanes, and in the line of athletic endeavor they are continually battling with the sterner sex for the mastery. For instance, in the accompanying illustration is shown a scene snapped in a recent baseball game near Philadelphia. A team of young women challenged a team of young men, and they played a most exciting contest. The youths were compelled to don women's garments in order to place themselves on a basis of equality with their fair foes. The photo shows a good looking Philadelphia lassie as she swung mightily at the ball, which, sad to relate, evaded the mastery. For instance, in the accompanying illustration is shown a scene the catcher, who is a husky lad, wearing some of his sister's clothes. Does this photograph indicate that the time will come when Hans Wagner will be put out of a job by a muscular "sweet girl graduate" of Vassar, or does it mean Ty Cobb will one day lose the batting supremacy to some demure debutante now wondering what kind of a gown she will wear at her "coming out" party? Who can accurately or safely forecast the future of woman? The photo was taken at the Belvidere Country club, in one of the Philadelphia suburbs.

Permanent Injunction Wealthy Man Is Likely Asked at Boston to Die

Lawyer D. J. Donahue appeared in the equity session, third division, at the court house in Pemberton square, Boston, today, asking that the temporary injunction granted in the case of Harry Louras, James Countantors and George Couzoules be made permanent.

Louras and Countantors were in partnership at one time and at the present time Louras is in partnership with Couzoules. Recently a temporary injunction was granted by the court whereby Louras was not to receive any money from either of the partners until the court so ordered. The purpose of the hearing this morning was to petition that the temporary injunction be made permanent.

GENERAL DIAZ

Is Much Improved in Health

ON BOARD S. S. YPIRANGA, by wireless, June 9.—General Porfirio Diaz received news of the earthquake in Mexico and the arrival of Senor Madero at the capital by wireless late last night while his steamer was speeding eastward for Havre, a thousand miles due east of Cape Hatteras. All night long the ship was in communication with the United Wireless Co. station at Atlantic City and ex-President Diaz postponed his usual early retiring hour until long after midnight to receive all the available news of happenings in this country.

After the first brief bulletin of the quake and the announcement that the number of dead might reach 150, more, there came a brief account of Madero's reception at the capital. Then, as the wireless continued to work smoothly and without interference, the Atlantic City telegrapher sent full details following them with long clippings from the metropolitan dailies and newspaper comment of various sorts. The Mexican situation Diaz read eagerly. He expressed great sorrow over the earthquake disaster, being especially concerned over the number of lives lost. He asked that an expression of his sympathy be communicated to his people and said that he hoped the casualties would prove less serious on further investigation.

The ex-president is enjoying his sea trip and declares vigorously that he is much improved in health. The weather has been fine all the way.

CELTIC ASSOCIATES

HAD ENJOYABLE OUTING AT RICHARDSON GROVE

The Celtic Associates had a quiet outing last Saturday that almost escaped the attention of the newspapers. They left their headquarters at 42 Middle street and took cars for Richardson grove, where a very enjoyable time was held.

There was a football game between the Meagher Guards and the Celtics, a drill by the company, dinner followed by sports, which with the prize winners were as follows:

100 yard dash—First, Mike Murphy; second, Dan Redding.

Three-legged race—First, Mullen and Cunningham; second, Roark and O'Connor.

Fat men's race—First, Thomas Kennedy; second, Ed. Shanahan.

Quoits—First, Sullivan; second, Latham.

There were guests from Haverhill, Boston and Quincy, making in all about 300 members.

STOCK EXCHANGE

NOT AFFECTED BY SUSPENSION OF BANK

LONDON, June 9.—The stock exchange was practically unaffected today by the suspension of the Birkbeck bank in High Holborn with a total liability of $14,850,000. Consols opened at from 1/2 to 1/4 lower than yesterday, but quickly recovered to yesterday's close.

Pathetic scenes were witnessed in the neighborhood of the suspended institution all day. Many of the depositors were elderly men and women whose whole life savings were behind the closed doors.

An authoritative statement given out by the directors to the effect that the bulk of the depositors are amply secured had a reassuring effect and it is the general opinion in the city that the suspension will not be such a disaster as was at first feared.

BODY OF MAN

WAS FOUND FLOATING IN LAKE MERCEDE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The body of a man identified as Joseph F. Coy, Jr., believed to be a wealthy property owner of Frederick, N. B., was found floating in Lake Merced here today. It is believed to be a case of suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 9.

Dr. C. Frederick Kohl, physician and capitalist, was shot and probably fatally wounded yesterday by Miss Adele Verge, a French maid, until recently employed by Dr. Kohl's wife.

The shooting occurred in the corridor of the Grant building in which the superior courts are housed. Dr. Kohl went there as a witness in a suit recently brought by Miss Verge against him and Frank A. Miller, a hotel manager at Riverside for malicious persecution.

The suit which led to yesterday's shooting was the outgrowth of a quarrel between Miss Verge and a chauffeur and the woman's discharge from Mrs. Kohl's service. Miss Verge alleged that Dr. Kohl and Mr. Miller had prevented her from obtaining employment.

The case against Dr. Kohl was dismissed Wednesday, and yesterday he went to the superior court as a witness in the case against Mr. Miller.

After court adjourned, Miss Verge descended to the main entrance and when Dr. Kohl emerged from the elevator, she drew a revolver from the folds of her skirt and fired.

The bullet entered just below the heart and the surgeons at the Central emergency hospital said his condition was critical. On the operating table, Dr. Kohl retained consciousness and said he freely forgave the woman for her act.

Dr. Kohl is one of the richest men in San Francisco. He is a son of Mrs. Wm. C. Kohl, a wealthy woman. His wife was Elizabeth Godsey of Washington, D. C.

The elder Mrs. Kohl is now in Atlantic City, whither she went from New York, after attending the Gould and Graham wedding.

Meeting a carriage on Summit avenue, Miss Andrews stepped directly in the path of a heavy cycle ridden by Michael Kehoe of Manchester. She was hurled into the middle of the road and carried unconscious to Burnham home, where she died. Kehoe was arrested and will be held pending an inquest today.

FRENCH GOVT

IS CONCERNED OVER SPAIN'S ACTIVITIES IN MOROCCO

PARIS, June 9.—The French government is concerned over the Spanish activities in Morocco, especially in the region of Fez, where the Spanish troops after reorganizing the sultan's army and having accomplished the pacification of the country.

Spain, seemingly is determined to extend her zone in Morocco, which is now limited to Melilla and Ceuta and their enclaves.

M. Combarieu, the French ambassador at Madrid, is representing to the Spanish government the unlikelihood of further military enterprise in the troubled sultanate as endangering the confidence of the powers in the maintenance of Moroccan unity since some power might declare that Morocco was being dismembered and so the powers were no longer bound by the Algeiras agreement but each was free to act according to its own will in reference to Morocco.

The power naturally in mind which might make such representations is Germany. The German note, which was reported as being sent to France, calling attention to the limitations of the Algeiras agreement apparently has not been received here.

Middlesex ss. Probate Court. June 9, 1911.

To the heirs, assigns, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Benjamin Hirst, late of Dracut, in said County, deceased.

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to the said Walter W. Lavelle, in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on her bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a probate hearing to be held at Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, on the twentieth day of June, A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be on day, at least, before said Court.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Court, this 9th day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court in and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully I, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the within and foregoing petition, which was filed in said Court on the 17th day of June, A. D. 1911, and the said Walter W. Lavelle, now of Brooklyn, New York, on the 17th day of June, A. D. 1911, and the said Edward Miller, now of Brooklyn, New York, and the said Edward Miller lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit, at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, and the said Edward Miller, being wholly regardless of the duties of said Edward Miller, on or about the 13th day of November, A. D. 1907, utterly deserted her and has continued such desertion from that time to the present, and being more than three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and said J. Edward Miller, and that the said Edward Miller, born June 13, 1907, be decreed to her.

Dated this first day of June, A. D. 1911.

CAROLINE L. MILLER.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Middlesex ss. Superior Court. June 9, 1911.

Upon the libel aforesaid, it is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before our Justices of the Superior Court in and for the County of Middlesex, on the first Monday of July next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and of the order thereon, to be published in the Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be on or before the day before the said last mentioned day, and that an attested copy of said libel and order thereon be sent by registered mail to the residence of the libellee as set out in the libel, that he may then and there show cause, if any he have, why the prayer in said libel set forth should not be granted.

WM. C. DILLINGHAM, Asst. Clerk.

As Result of Earthquake in Mexico Not Known

MEXICO CITY, June 9.—Special despatches to El Diario and El Heraldo report much damage from the earthquake at Zapatlán in the state of Jalisco. It is believed that many people were killed and injured but the number is not known. At the ranches and smaller towns in the district great damage has been suffered. According to these special columns suffered great damage. The volcano of that name emitted streams of lava on the towns of Tonilita and San Andrés, where many houses were destroyed, but no deaths are given of the extent of the destruction. Telegrams from Zapatlán by way of Guadalajara indicate that 36 bodies have been recovered at that point in addition to 44 injured who are in the hospital. It is estimated that 300 houses in that locality, chiefly shacks, were destroyed. The stores also suffered. In Tuxpan three killed are reported.

NO CASUALTIES

MEXICO CITY, June 9.—A despatch from Guadalajara delayed by wire interruption caused by the earthquake says that capital was shaken by a tremor lasting more than one minute. In consequence the tower of the church of San Francisco and entry to the church has been forbidden. There were no casualties at Guadalajara.

Will Deliver the Baccalaureate In Which Two Lowell Men Figure

Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church will deliver the baccalaureate at St. Vincent's church, Boston, next Sunday, when a class of young men who have completed the Sunday school course will receive diplomas. It was expected that Bishop Foley of the Philippines was to deliver the sermon, but he was taken ill and was unable to be present. Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., was invited to be the preacher and he accepted.

As the affair is to be quite an important one, the parishioners of the Immaculate Conception church feel proud that one of their curates has been chosen to deliver the sermon.

AS RESULT OF THE INJURIES HE RECEIVED

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 9.—Daniel Hannon of West Springfield, Mass., one of the freight brakemen injured in the wreck at Fairfield, Tuesday night, died of his injuries at St. Vincent's hospital in this city today. This brings the total fatalities resulting from the accident up to five.

STATE OFFICERS

Opposed to Appointment of Negro

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 9.—State officials are opposing the appointment of A. K. Vernon, a Kansas City, Kan., negro, as assistant supervisor of Indian schools for the Five Civilized tribes of Oklahoma. Announcement of his appointment was made Wednesday.

State Senator E. M. Landrum, a Cherokee Indian, has prepared a protest to the secretary of the interior, and the protest has received the signatures of many state officials.

Back again, bumped down out of first place, with their jobs to play today and the bunch that shut them out twice this week the Lowell team made its first at home this afternoon after a few rough days on the coast.

The home team got out of bed early this morning and were out at Spalding park practising until dinner time for Manager Gray doesn't like the slump they took and recommended more practice for them.

Catcher Lavigne made his first appearance on the home grounds and the fans watched him pretty closely in practice. He looked good and undoubtedly will make good.

Terry McGovern got his usual reception from the crowd when he appeared on the field.

Accompanying the Lynn team was "Clara" Beckwith, the fellow who makes the funny sketches on Lynn's leading paper and there was also present little Bessie, the six year old mascot of the Shoe City aggregation who takes as much interest in the doings of the team as do many of the older fans.

Manager Frank Leonard was on hand and wore that smile which refuses to wear off and when some person in the press bench asked him as to what he thought would be the outcome of the game between Lowell and Lynn in this city on the morning of Memorial day, said: "We have stopped laughing about that down in Lynn."

Warwick was on the mound for the home team and Huston was on the visitors' mound. For the first time since the game between Lowell and Lynn in this city on the morning of Memorial day, said: "We have stopped laughing about that down in Lynn."

FOURTH OF JULY JAMES GAYLEY

Nothing Done on the Testifies at Steel Trust Inquiry

WASHINGTON, June 9.—James Gayley, former vice president of the United States Steel corporation, was interrogated today by the Stanley steel trust committee of inquiry. Mr. Gayley, who Mr. Gary told the committee was a practical steel man, gave information on many technical matters relating to the steel business. Mr. Gayley was formerly in the Carnegie Steel company.

Mr. Gayley, questioned by Rep. Young of Michigan, gave the history of the Carnegie Steel Co. from 1855 to 1907 when the steel corporation was formed. He described periods of "destructive competition" between different companies and the ultimate progress and development of the Carnegie company. He also described new methods of manufacturing steel and dwelt upon their effect in advancing the values of steel properties.

Asked as to the price of rails in the early period Mr. Gayley declared that the price usually was fixed in conference with railroad officials, chiefly those of the Pennsylvania road.

"Were there any agreements as to prices in those days?" asked Mr. Young.

"In those days all the steel companies were independent," said Mr. Gayley, "and there were periods of war so destructive that agreements were necessary in order for all to reconstruct. Then would come other destructive wars. Agreements were necessary from time to time or ultimately one company would have secured a monopoly of the business."

JAMES ELLISON

Was Found Guilty of Manslaughter

NEW YORK, June 9.—James Ellison, a gangster who adopted the name of Bluff, was found guilty yesterday before Justice Davis in the criminal branch of the supreme court of manslaughter in the first degree. He was indicted for murder in the first degree for killing William J. Harrington in the Brighton, known as Paul Kelly's headquarters, at 57 Great Jones street, on Nov. 23, 1905. As Bluff once before served seven months for hitting a policeman with a bottle in Tom Sharkey's saloon, he may as a second offender get 20 years.

The crowd that filled the corridor got uneasy while the jury was out, and Capt. Hodgins of the Elizabeth street station brought three of his policemen over. They cleared out most of the young loungers who had been whispering to one another in the corridor, driving them out into the street.

When the verdict was announced Bluff looked around the court room. He seemed to be disappointed. The doors had been locked and few of his friends were inside. The court attendants had to drag him to the pen after Justice Davis had remanded him until Wednesday for sentence. He hung back and looked over his shoulder. Apparently he found it hard to believe that all of his friends had been excluded.

SCARRED AND RENT

No Peace for Poor Old Dutton Street

It would seem that Dutton street comes in for more than its share of "tearing up." There is hardly a month in the year that some city department or some concern or other fails to come round and plant a few ugly cuts on her poor old face and it is little wonder that she looks battered and bruised and scarred and rent. Just now the Gas Light company is taking

TWO OTHERS TAKEN BY NEW YORK POLICE

NEW YORK, June 9.—Thomas Latimer, a banker of Pittsburgh, was arrested this afternoon at the Waldorf Astoria hotel by detectives from the central office and at the same time the police also placed under arrest down town John Phillips, an appraiser of Richmond, England, and Henry R. Derlender, 22, a student of London, England, on a telegram from Superintendent of Police McGuire of Pittsburgh.

U. S. SOLDIERS

ARE BEING WITHDRAWN FROM MEXICO

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The second step in the gradual withdrawal of the armed forces of the United States from the vicinity of Mexico was taken today. The war department issued an order which will return to their posts the 4000 soldiers at Galveston and the 3,500 men at San Diego. This movement, which will begin in a few days, follows the withdrawal of the 2,000 marines from Guantanamo, Cuba. The troops at Galveston are of the coast artillery corps. They will be sent back to their stations on army transports.

The action was taken after a discussion of the matter with the president by Sec. of War, Shubert, and Gen. Wood, chief of staff of the army. The improved situation in Mexico made the withdrawal possible and it is expected that the next move will be the early withdrawal of the naval vessels assembled at Guantanamo and San Diego, leaving only the maneuver division split into several units and distributed through Texas to meet any emergency.

THE KING'S CUP

AND $2000 CASH PRIZE FOR YAWL TRIP

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 9.—A cup worth $1000 offered by King Victor of Italy and $2000 cash prize, put up by the Automobile club of Rome are furnishing the incentives for the trip across the ocean in the 25-foot yawl Seabird by Thomas Fleming Day, Theodore Goodwin and Frank Thurber, which is to start tomorrow from this port.

The Seabird and her crew will be one of the interesting features of the yachting carnival in connection with the celebration of the 60th anniversary of Italian unification if she arrives safely. It is probable that she will be escorted across the Mediterranean by an Italian cruiser and that his royal highness himself will go on board before it is all over.

LARCENY CHARGE

PREFERRED AGAINST E. B. COLE OF BROCKTON

BROCKTON, June 9.—A charge of larceny, growing out of the failure of the Clark & Cole Co., box manufacturers on a large scale at Middleboro, a few months ago, was preferred against E. B. Cole in the Plymouth county court here today. The complainant is Charles P. Holland, an official of the Plymouth County Trust Co. of this city and the warrant on which Cole was arrested yesterday alleges the larceny of "more than $200." The case was continued until June 27. The firm failed with liabilities of $200,000 to $300,000 and assets of $50,000.

PLAYED "HOOKEY"

TO BE PUT UNDER WOMAN PROBATION OFFICER

NEW YORK, June 9.—"Judge, I played 'hookey' because I wanted to be put under the care of Mrs. Read again," said George Hookey, thirteen years old, of Broad and Fifth streets, Maspeth, L. I., who he was arraigned in the children's court at Jamaica yesterday, charged with truancy.

MRS. JOHNSON ### WILL NOT TRY TO ABROGATE ANY TRUST AGREEMENT

NEW YORK, June 9.—Mrs. Margaret J. Johnson, the widow of Tom L. Johnson, has no intention of seeking to abrogate any valid trust agreement drawn up by her husband some months before his death, so her counsel, Samuel B. Clarke, said today. She contends that all the cash and securities, amounting to $100,000, in a safe deposit box of the Mercantile Savings company in this city, are her absolute property and not subject to any trust. Mr. Clarke made this statement yesterday in reply to a dispatch from Cleveland saying that the Safe Deposit company has refused her access to the safe deposit box on notice from C. M. Bates, Charles W. Stage and Newton D. Baker, as trustees, that the property in the safe deposit box is subject to the trust for the grandchildren.

"Everything in the safe deposit box is part of the proceeds of the sale of Mrs. Johnson's home in Euclid avenue, Cleveland," said Mr. Clarke. "She bought the property with her own money in the first place about twenty years ago, and her husband had nothing to do with it at any time, except possibly to aid in the sale of it."

"There are certain securities, the value of which Mrs. Johnson doesn't know, still in Cleveland which belonged to her husband and are embraced in the trust agreement. So far as Mrs. Johnson knows the trust agreement embraces nothing else. If Mrs. Johnson made the agreement sufficiently broad to cover property that has always belonged to his wife, of course Mrs. Johnson will stand on her legal rights and insist that such property shall not be included. The trustees have never acquired control of any property in this state, and certainly not of anything in Mrs. Johnson's safe deposit box, and there is no legal ground upon which access to the box can be refused her."

THE WAR DEPT.

HAS NO INTENTION OF DISCHARGING CLERKS

WASHINGTON, June 9.—It will be good news to the many headquarter clerks throughout the country to know that the war department does not intend to make any dismissals as a result of the adoption of a new policy of establishing the army division and curtailing the department establishments. The excess clerks at department headquarters abandoned or diminished in importance will be transferred to other quarters.

WASHED ASHORE

BODY OF PRIVATE MARTIN RECOVERED AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT, R. I., June 9.—The body of Private John Martin, who had been missing since April 25 last, was washed ashore at Saunderstown today. Martin, who was about 27 years old, was a private in the 102th coast artillery company, being stationed at Fort Preble. On April 25 Martin went out rowing and was not again seen alive. The body will be sent to West Medway, Mass., where his parents live.

BOATS DAMAGED

They Were Caught in Heavy Gale

NANTUCKET, June 9.—Eleven boats of the Nantucket mackerel fleet were caught southeast of Nantucket Wednesday night and yesterday in the worst northeast gale of the season, and they were struggling into port all day. At dusk last night two of the fleet had not yet been heard from. Of those that have arrived, one was considerably damaged by being driven ashore on Ed's point, another damaged her rudder by striking a jetty, and nearly all the others met with injury to masts or nets. All the boats had heavy fares.

The storm continued heavy last night and passengers on the boat from New Bedford reported the trip across the sound far from comfortable.

AIDED BY WIND

Aviators Beat Mile a Minute

BOSTON, June 9.—Charles K. Hamilton and Harry Atwood, aviators, who made a sensational flight from Atlantic to Marblehead on Wednesday, made a return flight yesterday. In better time than on the return of an 18-mile wind, they soared from the Tedesco club in Swampscott to the aviation field at Atlantic, 25 miles, in only 20 minutes, considerably faster than a mile a minute. All along the route they were watched and cheered by thousands.

More than 500 prominent society folk went to the Tedesco club yesterday afternoon to see the start of the flight. At 4:50 o'clock Atwood took the machine out alone. It is Hamilton's little biplane, the Moth.

After getting the engine running in good shape, Atwood began circling the club and climbed until at one time he was soaring around 1200 feet above the crowd. Then he swooped down and at a much lower level circled the club several times before beginning preparations for descent. One attempt to alight was spoiled by the crowd, which pressed too close, and the aviator had to ascend again. On his next trip round he waved and shouted to the spectators to give him more room, and they did—little.

Coming round again, he glided for a firm. That particular field is a part of the Tedesco golf links, and near the spot Atwood picked out is a high bunker. In swooping down the machine tilted and the left wing missed the top of the bunker by scarcely more than an inch. Then the biplane righted itself and Atwood alighted safely.

When the petrol tank had been filled Hamilton came out and got into the machine, and the flight for home was begun at 5:20. The get-away was made without mishap. As the machine soared upward the crowd cheered. Some one telephoned to the Swampscott police, and the fire bell was rung, calling out every one within hearing to see the air machine. The aviators circled over Swampscott several times, then headed for Lynn.

Crossing over that city they were again the cynosure of thousands of eyes. From there they followed the tracks of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn to East Boston, and then across the harbor to Squantum, where they landed at 5:40.

After the flight was over it was learned the machine had made half the trip with but three of its four cylinders working. One had blown a spark plug, temporarily disabling it. Both Hamilton and Atwood expressed themselves highly pleased with their achievement. During the flight it was bitterly cold above, but both the men were heavily dressed and enjoyed it immensely.

CHANGE IN PRICES OF LEADING ARTICLES OF EXPORTATION AND IMPORTATION

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Domestic prices of leading export commodities in the United States during April were considerably lower than in April of last year, while prices abroad, so far as ascertainable from the record of imports, are less defined in their tendency. Of the 48 articles of exportation whose monthly export prices are recorded by the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, 32 show lower prices, 9 show higher prices, and 5 show no change. Of the 38 articles enumerated in the table of monthly import prices, 17 decreased in price, 18 increased, and 3 showed no change, comparing April, 1917, prices with those of April, 1916. As the prices of articles exported from the United States are based upon their actual cost, or wholesale market price in the respective domestic ports at the time of exportation, and as the prices of articles imported are those in the country when exported to the United States as stated in the sworn invoices filed with American consuls at foreign ports of shipment, the above citations would seem to justify the general assertion that domestic prices are, for the most part, lower than in April last year, while prices abroad are almost equally divided between increases and decreases.

The export commodities in which the prices were lower in April than in the same month last year include corn, wheat, flour, meats, dairy products, sugar, glucose, cotton seed, oil-cake and meal, bituminous coal, copper ingots and bars, raw cotton, bleached cotton cloths, hay, hops, sole leather, mineral oils, both crude and illuminating, paraffin, starch, and various manufactures of iron and steel. Higher prices, on the other hand, were reported in anthracite coal, unbleached cotton cloths, canned salmon, rosins, spirits of turpentine, faxseed, leaf tobacco, and plug tobacco. Dried, colored, and printed cotton cloths, canned beef, and flaxseed oil-cake are unchanged in price when compared with April of last year.

Comparing April prices with those of the corresponding month last year, the exported commodities showing the largest percentage decreases in value per unit of quantity were: Butter, 25 1/2 per cent; reduction; lard, 23 1/2 per cent; hops, 20 1/2 per cent; cotton seed oil-cake, 20 per cent; illuminating oil, 15 per cent; pickled pork, 17 per cent; corn, 17 per cent; blits, 15 1/2 per cent; cheese, 16 1/2 per cent; tallow, 15 per cent; hay, 15 per cent; beans, 10 per cent; flour, 9 1/2 per cent; wheat, 8 per cent; wire, 8 per cent; and fresh beef, 5 1/2 per cent. Decreases of from 3 per cent to 5 1/2 per cent occurred in copper ingots, refined sugar, bacon, pig iron and bituminous cotton cloth. The comparatively few articles whose export prices advanced included rosins, in which the April, 1917, prices show an increase of 62 per cent; spirits of turpentine, 44 1/2 per cent; flaxseed, 20 per cent; canned salmon, 20 per cent; and unbleached cotton cloth, 16 per cent. Plug tobacco, leaf tobacco, and anthracite coal were higher in price this year, but in no case did the appreciation average more than 5 per cent.

In imports the largest price increases occurred in June, 50 per cent; fax, 34 per cent; tin plate, 31 per cent; tin bars and blocks, 27 per cent; bituminous coal, 24 per cent; still wine in casks, 23 per cent; wrapper tobacco, 19 per cent; other leaf tobacco, 12 per cent; unbleached cotton cloth, 14 per cent; bleached, 10 per cent; hemp, 13 1/2 per cent; wool dress goods, 11 per cent; wool cloths, 6 per cent; and raw silk, 8 per cent. The principal decreases in articles imported were in hops, of which the price fell off 34 per cent compared with April last; mackerel, 25 per cent; wool, class 1, 17 per cent; class 2, 23 per cent, and class 3, 8 per cent; steel grates, 13 1/2 per cent; pig iron and cane sugar, each 16 per cent; tea, 15 per cent; raw cotton, 14 per cent; and manilla, 11 per cent. Further details of price movements of leading articles of domestic and foreign commerce are contained in the Monthly Summary of Commerce and Finance issued by the board of statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor.

LOBBYING CHARGE

BOSTON, June 9.—Charges that persons were on the floor of the house during the debates on the Boston fire hazard bill, the bar and bottle bill and the condensed milk bill lobbying on those matters were presented to the committee on rules yesterday by Representatives Norman H. White of Boston and George T. Daly of Boston. The committee had under consideration an amendment of the rules proposed by Representative Conway, providing that persons making offensive remarks to members may be removed from the floor of the house. He said his reason for offering the amendment was that during the debate on the condensed milk bill, after making a speech in support of the measure, he went to the side of the chamber to speak to another member, and was then accosted by a stranger, who informed him that he "didn't know what he was talking about," and finally in effect called him a liar. Representative Daly said he had noticed during the year that the rules of the house are being constantly violated. "When the house was debating the bill to repeal the bar and bottle bill, men were sitting in practically every seat along the side of the house, urging members to vote for the repeal. The same thing happened when the fire hazard bill was under debate. Men came in then to induce members to vote for the bill."

DIAMOND NOTES

Ouch, a couple of times!

Lynn today at Spaulding park and Worcester tomorrow.

Stop the elevator on this floor, boys. Never mind looking for Brockton. Keep up near the roof.

Guy Ringrose is warning up every day with the Burkett bunch, and it won't be long before the youngster will get his tryout. "Primrose," as the boys already call him, is reputed to have a fine assortment of curves, plenty of speed, and, best of all control.—Worcester Gazette.

Sit him on us tomorrow and see what'll happen.

Mr. Murnane had a birthday a few days ago and informed his friends that he is 42 years of age. And yet my grandfather used to tell about the great game, Tim used to play for Providence when baseball was young.

Halstein, the University of Vermont infielder, is claimed by Manager Gray. Halstein accepted Manager Gray's terms but now says he is not going to play professionally. As he has been registered with Lowell he cannot play professionally outside of Lowell unless Manager Gray permits him to.

Detroit features the July Baseball Magazine. Hugh Jennings, Ty Cobb, Capt. Moriarty of the champion Tigers have written their views on the points in the game. William Phelan, Fred Lieb, Jake Morse, Jack Chapman, Ed. Ashenbach, Percy Harrison and a host of well known writers have filled the remaining pages to the brim. Altogether the issue is a live wire and veritable pennant winner among magazines.

Mike Donlin joined the Giants here yesterday, but not until last night did the star slugger secure formal admission with McGraw. When Donlin reached the hotel this morning at which the New Yorks are stopping he found that McGraw had left word not to be disturbed before noon. Mike was in uniform before the game with the Pirates yesterday. The result of his talk with McGraw last night is not known and probably will not be until the deal is closed that will fix Donlin's baseball destinies. Under the rules of the national commission Donlin was freed to report formally to McGraw before he could accept an assignment to any other club.

Donlin declared last night that he is as much in the dark as to where he will play as anybody else. They have been talking about sending me to St. Louis or Cincinnati," said the former great outfielder, "but I don't suppose anything is settled yet. I don't mind St. Louis so much, but I would rather go to a minor league club than be sent to Cincinnati."

Donlin appears to be under his old playing weight, but he laughs at this and says he would rather be under than over.

Supremacy in errorless games is anything but coincident with a winning career, taking the games in the big leagues as they have gone so far this season. Including Tuesday's battles each league was led by a second division team. The Clevelanders in the American league had played the most games without a blemish of their defensive record—fourteen. The Brooklyn's had gone through the most encounters in the National league without an error—thirteen. Errors must play some part in a team's losses and it may be that these two teams have been making their errors at critical moments. Brooklyn's record of thirteen, by the way, includes five games in succession without an error.

The Highlanders have played eight games without a miscue on the defense, the White Sox nine, the Washingtons three, the smallest number of the lot; the Athletics seven and the Browns five. Next to the Brooklyn in the National league the Phillies and St. Louis have the best record, each having played nine games errorless. The giants have played seven, the Cincinnati five, the Cardinals eight and the Cubs six. The Pirates played both of their Memorial Day games without an error.

Games in which there was no error on either side number four in the American league and seven in the National. These contests in the American league were between Cleveland and Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago, New York and Detroit and New York and the Athletics. In the National league they were between Cincinnati and St. Louis, New York and Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Cincinnati, Boston and St. Louis, New York and Brooklyn and New York and Chicago. The Giants have been in three of the seven errorless games in their organization and the Highlanders in two of the four fielding purity exhibitions in their set.

GALLANT WON

East Boston Boy Licked
North End Favorite

Johnny Gallant again demonstrated his ability as an fighter when he put away Johnnie Caville of Boston. In the fifth round of what was to have been a 12-round bout before the members of the Lowell Social and Athletic club in Mathew hall, last evening. The attendance was light and those who did not attend missed a great program, for the preliminaries were also fine, particularly the semi-final between Fred Stone, the "Moose" boxer, and Arthur Moran, who appeared in the ring for the first time. Moran proved to be a corker and an expert at ducking. With a little more experience he will make good. Referee Costello called the affair a draw after six last rounds. The decision pleased all. In the curtain raiser Young Walsh won over "Star" McLaughlin in six rounds, which were well contested.

Young Miller of Pawtucket was to have appeared in the final but at the last moment he sent word that he had hurt his hand and could not go on. Then Johnnie Caville, the well known Italian boxer of the North End, Boston, was substituted. Caville had no time to prepare or otherwise would have put up a better go. He felted Gallant some at long range boxing but in the eighth round the French lad had it all over him.

In Caville's corner was Al Delmont, the champion bantam of the world who recently fought a draw with Jimmie Walsh. Delmont will be the attraction against Kid Lee at the next meeting of the club and the bout will be one of the most important ever held here. In 1908 Delmont also fought

MOTORMEN AND CONDUCTORS HAVE QUIT WORK

NEWBURG, N. Y., June 9.—The motormen and conductors of the Orange County Traction Co. quit in a body today. The men demanded of former Gov. Odell, the president of the company, that the discharge or transfer of William F. Martin, assistant superintendent of the road, who is offensive to them. Mr. Odell declined to get rid of Martin. The Orange County Traction Co. operates the city and suburban trolley lines, all of which are temporarily tied up.

POLLARD AVENUE

N. H. Still Withholds
Permission to Close It

Albert S. Howard of this city went to Manchester, N. H., Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of obtaining the consent of the state of New Hampshire to close Pollard avenue, in Lowell, in order that the Hillside estate may be extended back to Paige street. While he received no definite promise he returned much encouraged and believes that the desired permission will be forthcoming.

Pollard avenue lies between Merrimack and Paige streets and separates the Hillside building and others on the Merrimack street side from property on the Paige street side. For a long time it has been the plan of the Hillside estate to continue its building back to Paige street, and for best results in this work, it was decided that Pollard avenue must be closed.

As this avenue has always been a private way, it was necessary merely to secure the consent of the abutters, and this was done with one exception. Under the will of John N. Smith, who owned property abutting Pollard avenue his children were to receive the income from the property while they lived, and upon their death, to the state of New Hampshire was to come into possession. A bill was put through the New Hampshire legislature, authorizing the governor and his council to act, and these men will determine whether or not the avenue is to be closed.

The city of Lowell has voted to lower the sewer in Pollard avenue, as petitioned for. This was deemed necessary in the extension of buildings from Merrimack to Paige streets.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Mortimer Snow & Co., presenting "In the North," a comedy drama containing numerous interesting situations and climaxes, is the star feature at the Merrimack Square theatre this week. The playlet introduces the three people engaged in its presentation in a manner that brings out their best work and makes it one of the very best offerings of the season. Prof. Dodd and his talking dog, "Fido," is another of the good things of the week and Clarence Wilson, comedian, singer and talker himself into popular favor at each performance. His Lowell friends are turning out in large numbers daily to greet him. The daylight motion pictures are absolutely the best shown in the city. "The Summer Girls" in a new and original presentation by G. Wilkins and J. Ecker. Introducing seven young women and a clever comedian, will be the feature of this week. The sketch is a decidedly good one and should meet with the hearty approval of the patrons.

COAT COLLAR WHITE WITH DANDRUFF

Scalp Badly Affected, Itched Terribly. Hair Fell Out. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Now Has Thick Growth of Hair and Is Never Troubled with Any Dandruff or Itching of Scalp.

"I am more than gratified by the successful results I obtained by the use of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. For several years my scalp was very badly affected with dandruff and scales. My scalp itched terribly at times and my hair fell out. My coat collar would be entirely bald and my hair on my head was falling out in great quantities. I tried many remedies but failed. I then used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used Cuticura Soap twice a week and after drying my head thoroughly, I anointed parts of my scalp with Cuticura Ointment. I was pleased to find that the dandruff had fallen from my head. My profession being that of a barber, I was troubled with itching of the scalp. There is no annoying trouble, made me feel quite contented. I have now got a thick growth of hair and I am never troubled with any dandruff or itching of the scalp. There is no question but that the Cuticura Remedies cured me. I frequently recommend them to my customers, and they think a great deal of them." (Signed) John F. Wadsworth, 307 Norfolk Street, Dorchester, Boston, Mass., July 28, 1910.

Sold everywhere. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., 130 Columbia Ave., Boston. Also Mail Order, samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, with 32-p. book on skin treatment.

BIG POLO GAME

MAY BE PLAYED LATE THIS AFTERNOON

NEW YORK, June 8.—The sunrise today was the most inviting that has burst over the Meadowbrook field since the series of postponements of the second match for the international polo cup began more than a week ago. The weather gave almost certain promise that the long-awaited contest would come off on scheduled time today at 4.30 p. m.

The greenkeeper and the driver of the big six-foot horse-roller were soon at work in conjunction with the hot sun, for the ground had taken up so much moisture during the early days of the week that a little more watering and ironing was necessary to get it into perfect playing conditions. So the little company of experts on turf culture went over every piece of the 405,000 square feet of land, following the lumbering roller and filling up the footprints of the sedate brothers of the frisky ponies in the nearby stable. It was understood today that the third match of the series would be played on Monday.

"SEX HYGIENE"

Discussed at Charities Conference

BOSTON, June 8.—Three section meetings of the annual conference of charities and corrections were held at 9.30 o'clock this morning. "Sex hygiene" was the topic at the Ford hall meeting, which was addressed by Dr. Richard C. Cabot of Boston, Miss Laura B. Garrett of New York, Dr. William Healy of Chicago and Mrs. Jessie D. Borden, superintendent of the Massachusetts state reformatory for women.

At the same hour delegates interested in temperance and the care of inebriates held a continued meeting in the 20th Century hall for further discussion of the liquor question. The speakers during the morning were: Prof. A. H. Hutton of Cleveland and Dr. Irwin Neff of the Massachusetts hospital for inebriates. A general discussion of the question followed the papers, the practical social workers giving their views on the care of the unfortunate and necessary legislation.

A section meeting continuing the subject of housing and recreation at Loring hall numbered among its speakers Miss Mary Richmond of New York and Mrs. Albion Fellows Bacon of Evansville, Ind.

Two section meetings held in Pilgrim hall and Kingsley hall later in the forenoon considered the standards of living and labor and the securing and training of social workers. The labor meeting heard arguments for standards of payment and working hours for women and girls by Mrs. Raymond Robbins, president of the Women's Trade Union League, and Miss Josephine Goldmark, secretary of the National Consumers League.

The subject of a professional training school for social workers was considered by Prof. R. C. McCrea of New York, Prof. C. W. Dutton of Boston and Prof. C. C. Haynes of Fiske university.

BIG POLO GAME

MAY BE PLAYED LATE THIS AFTERNOON

NEW YORK, June 8.—The sunrise today was the most inviting that has burst over the Meadowbrook field since the series of postponements of the second match for the international polo cup began more than a week ago. The weather gave almost certain promise that the long-awaited contest would come off on scheduled time today at 4.30 p. m.

The greenkeeper and the driver of the big six-foot horse-roller were soon at work in conjunction with the hot sun, for the ground had taken up so much moisture during the early days of the week that a little more watering and ironing was necessary to get it into perfect playing conditions. So the little company of experts on turf culture went over every piece of the 405,000 square feet of land, following the lumbering roller and filling up the footprints of the sedate brothers of the frisky ponies in the nearby stable. It was understood today that the third match of the series would be played on Monday.

LITTLE BOY

STEPPED IN PRESIDENT TAFT'S SOUP

NEW YORK, June 8.—While President Taft was partaking of the first course at a luncheon in his honor at the Union League club yesterday, an accident occurred which necessitated bringing him a fresh plate of soup.

The 4-year-old grandson of William Borah, the host at the club, wanted to give the president a program, and to elevate the child to the towering level of the guest of honor, someone stood him on the table.

Just then a waiter put a plate of smoking soup in front of the president, and the youngster, as he advanced to deliver the program, set his small foot squarely in the middle of it.

The presidential waistcoat was splashed, but vigorous application of a napkin quickly repaired the damage, and the president comforted the child, who was overcome by the disaster.

EACH DEFENDANT

Insists She Did the Shooting

NEW YORK, June 8.—Prosecution of the two women who shot W. D. Stokes, the millionaire proprietor of the Hotel Ansonia, will begin as soon as Mr. Stokes' condition enables him to appear against them. His attorney reiterated this statement today in reply to rumors that the case might be dropped.

At the hospital Mr. Stokes was reported as improving. It will be several days, however, before he is past the danger of blood poisoning. Meanwhile, the women accused, Miss Lillian Graham and Miss Ethel Conrad, will be held to await examination.

At present the police are somewhat at sea owing to the conflicting stories told by the principals in Wednesday night's shooting. Each young woman insists that she alone fired the shots that struck Stokes. Miss Conrad says that the wounded man came to their apartment looking only for her. Miss Graham says that she had engaged a lawyer several days before to sue the millionaire for defamation of character.

MADISON SQUARE

FAMOUS GARDEN TO BE MADE INTO OFFICE BUILDING

NEW YORK, June 8.—Madison Square garden, which was opened just 21 years ago this month and which has since become known the country over as New York's biggest indoor arena, is to give way to a commercial building, 25 stories high.

The sale of the property, which has been rumored for a long while, was definitely announced yesterday to a syndicate. The price paid is said to be $3,500,000.

When the structure comes down the only place in New York suitable for big exhibitions and other affairs on a large scale will be removed. With it will go the famous statue of Diana on the tower. When the roof is torn down, with it will disappear the old open-air theatre which was the scene of the killing of Stanford White by Harry K. Thaw. White was the architect of the building.

The garden has been the scene of the national horse show, automobile, dog, poultry and other shows, masquerade balls, political and other mass meetings, boxing contests, circuses, six-day running and bicycle races and almost every other variety of big amusement which has entertained New York for years.

The new building planned will be a quadrangle with a great court in the center.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Hamilton E. Whitney of Westford, and Miss Lena McCormack of Boston were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Whitney in Westford. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. B. Bailey of Westford. The young couple was married under an arch of evergreen and laurel, knotted with white ribbon. The wedding march was played by Miss Estella Whitney, a sister of the bridegroom. The bride wore white nun's veiling, covered with pale blue silk and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The bridemaid, Miss Dolly McCormack, a sister of the bride, wore pearl grey and carried pink carnations, and the best man was Mr. Nathaniel R. Whitney, brother of the bridegroom. The young couple received many useful gifts. They left on a late train for a wedding trip to New York and will be at home in Westford after July 1.

ALDERMAN BARRETT

Says Lowell is Fine Type of American City

The special joint committee on the proposed observance of the 75th anniversary of the incorporation of the city of Lowell met at city hall last night.

Chairman Corbett called to order shortly before 9 o'clock. Secretary Murphy of the board of trade said the committee had been appointed months ago to consider an industrial exposition here, beginning Oct. 12, but that the committee was unable to do anything because of the celebration of April 12.

Mayor Meehan said he believed the industrial exposition should be financed by the board of trade. Secretary Murphy of the board of trade said the matter properly belonged to the city government inasmuch as it is an anniversary of the city. He said there was no doubt that the board of trade would do all it could to push the thing along, but he believed it ought to be financed by the city. He felt that the board should not be expected to extend back of the whole thing. Questioned as to the Fall River cotton exposition which opens on June 15, Mr. Murphy said that the project has been largely backed by public subscription, although the city has spent some money to help it along. That, he said, would be largely a cotton exposition, while any industrial exposition which would be held in Lowell would show general manufacturing. But 43 per cent of Lowell's manufacturing is of cotton cloth, he said. In textiles of all kinds, it rises above 50 per cent. Machinery and foundry products come second. There are dozens of small manufacturers here who would be given an opportunity in an industrial exposition to show their wares. Middlesex street has many of them, the average citizen here knowing nothing of their existence. Such manufacturers would get a good opportunity to open the eyes of the average real estate holder here to the dozens of little but very profitable businesses which have been established here in recent years. He mentioned one place where all of the hat frames which are used for miles around are manufactured, and another where children's rompers, which have an immense sale, are made.

Mayor Meehan was averse to any parade, inasmuch as the city has had quite a number of parades lately. He said that no parade of any account could be held unless $2500 was spent. Mr. Barrett believed in a dignified observance of the occasion. "Lowell to me," he said, "is a mighty fine type of the American city which grew around a business proposition and the founders of this city are mighty fine types of men. We don't know enough about them. Take Lowell and Jackson and Boott and Francis! More than anything we want to hold up the lives of those men to the young men of today. Those men had foresight, great judgment, were excellent organizers. And Dr. Theodore Edson! Another who should be remembered in every school in this city. The founder of the public school system here. He fought almost single handed for it. And the first principal of the high school here afterwards became the first Protestant Episcopal bishop of Rhode Island, Bishop Clark. And in the first class which graduated were D. E. Butler and Gustavus Vasa Fox, national figures. We understate this city when we don't want to observe its anniversary. We have a whole lot to observe and to think about. I would have an oration which would carry us back to the days when Lowell had its beginnings, when men came here from Lancashire and from Waltham, when Whipple's mills were turning out cloth here for the American soldiers in the war of 1812 and when the first cotton cloth all finished in one building was made in America."

Stops Brownstail Itch

Toiletine, the well known remedy for relieving inflammation, irritation and other skin discomforts, is a truly remarkable means of stopping almost instantly the maddening itch of the brownstail pest. This torturing rash will continue frequently for many days without cessation. Those who have applied Toiletine as soon as the discomfort manifested itself have found the benefit to be almost immediate. In a few hours the discomfort is gone. The time is so close now when the brownstail will be all about through this section, it would be advisable for every family to have a bottle of Toiletine within easy reach of every member of the household. Brownstail moth is no joke, and Toiletine is a veritable blessing when the brownstail comes.

BANK SUSPENDS

The Deficiency May be $3,750,000

LONDON, June 9.—The Birkbeck bank in High Holborn, which withstood a run last fall caused by rumors that the institution was in trouble, suspended payment yesterday. The directors estimated the deficiency at $1,875,000, but the actuaries think that $3,750,000 will be nearer the amount. The total liabilities of the bank are $14,380,910.

An official receiver has taken charge of the affairs of the institution. The directors in a circular issued yesterday say the depreciation in the market price of the bank's securities has been so great that they do not feel justified in continuing the business without a reconstruction. A petition asking that the affairs of the company be wound up will be presented to the court with a view to reorganizing the bank.

NURSES' ALUMNAE

HELD REGULAR MEETING AT GENERAL HOSPITAL

The Nurses' Alumnae of the Lowell General Hospital held their regular monthly meeting at the Nurses' cottage, Wednesday, Dr. J. Arthur Gage delivered an interesting and instructive address which was received with much appreciation. The musical program consisted of violin solos by Miss Gretchen Carr, accompanied by Miss Irma Carr. A dainty lunch was served by Misses Holden, Dewhurst, Olsen and Campbell, the committee in charge of the meeting. The annual alumnae picnic will be held at Willow Dale June 26th. The September gathering will be held at the home of Mrs. William Rodden in Varnum avenue.

LOWELL PASTOR

Spoke at Banquet in Nashua

NASHUA, N. H., June 9.—The first laymen's banquet of the three Baptist churches of Nashua was held last evening in the vestry of the First Baptist. One hundred and fifty men attended. The arrangements were entirely by men, but the women of the church assisted in serving the dinner. Frank Luveno was toastmaster. The principal speaker was Rev. Solon W. Cummings of the First Baptist church of Lowell. Other speakers were Rev. J. Bruce Gilman, Rev. Stephen H. Huse, Jr., of the Crown Hill Baptist church, Rev. H. J. Tremblay of the French mission, and Rev. Harry I. Marshall of Burmah. The Vesper quartet, composed of William H. Levey, Walter D. Littlefield, Leroy K. Moulton, and George Buslin sang.

LEPER BOY

WILL BE SENT TO DETENTION HOSPITAL

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 9.—After failing to get permission for the admission of Harry Sheridan, the boy aged of this city, to Penitentiary Island, the board of health yesterday decided to isolate the lad at the detention hospital farm in this city. This building has been used for pesthouse purposes in the cases of smallpox from time to time, but is now unoccupied.

The health board takes this action after receiving from Governor Pothier a communication that his efforts failed. The boy is the son of Edward P. Sheridan of 55 Kenyon avenue, and has been at his home ever since the action of his case has been under way. The arrangements for the transfer are not yet made, but will be in a few days. In the meantime the home of the boy is under close quarantine, police officers guarding the doors.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Educational club the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. A. C. Huston; vice president, Mrs. G. E. Ames; secretary, Mrs. W. E. Smith; treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Clements. All reports showed an encouraging condition. Mrs. P. E. Varnum, in giving a retrospect of the club year, presented to each of the hospitality committee a dainty cut glass bon bon dish, as tokens of appreciation of their services.

Luncheon was served after the meeting and a pleasant hour was spent. The next meeting will take place next week at the home of Mrs. P. P. Crawford, 610 Varnum avenue and will be a "plaza party."

MRS. JANE MAGUIRE

FORMER RESIDENT OF CENTRAL-VILLE DIED AT LAWRENCE

The many friends of Mrs. Jane Maguire, for many years a well known resident of Centralville, will be pained to learn of her death which occurred last evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John J. Dobbins, formerly Miss Jennie Maguire, 5 Currier street, Lawrence. The deceased was a native of England, but had resided in Lowell many years.

She was a devout member of St. Michael's parish, a devoted mother and a kind friend. She is survived by two sons, Matthew and Fred Maguire, and one daughter, Mrs. Dobbins. The remains will be brought here on Monday morning by Undertakers Chas. H. Molloy & Sons, and a high mass of requiem will be sung at 9 o'clock at St. Michael's church, this city.

WAS PRESENTED TO MISS VALDA DUVAL

Miss Valda Duval, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Duval, was given a fine send-off last night by a number of her friends who gathered at the home of her parents, 472 Moody street, and presented her a gold bracelet and several other rich presents, the occasion being her departure for a two-months' trip to Canada. The presentation speech was delivered by Mr. L. J. Z. Robillard, and the presentation was made by a young sister of the host, little Miss Marie Louise Duval. Miss Valda, although taken by surprise responded in a neat way and a general good time followed. There were vocal and instrumental solos, and party games were also in order. Among those taking part in the musical program were: Mr. Willie Lusier, who gave several beautiful basso solos, C. Desautels, who delighted the

JUSTICE'S SON

Is Accused of Robbing Friends

NEW YORK, June 8.—Merritt Trimble Wyatt, son of Justice Wyatt, of special sessions, was arraigned yesterday in the Jefferson market court on a charge of grand larceny. Although young Wyatt is said to have a large income, he is alleged to have run up bills of various kinds, but for comparatively small amounts, and to have charged them to his best friends. Schuyler C. White, door manager of a Fifth avenue department store, appeared against the prisoner. The evidence offered by Mr. White had been obtained by John P. Larkin, the store's detective. It was alleged that the young man represented himself to the store management as the son of Mrs. E. J. Jenkins, of No. 71 Riverside Drive, and upon this representation obtained a vanity box, a mirror, face powder, three silk vests, a quantity of silk underwear, a cane, a clock and other articles valued at $1,000. Nearly all of the things obtained by Wyatt from the store were found in his apartments, at Fifty-ninth street and Madison avenue. There, too, was discovered twelve yards of the most expensive satin, which was afterward claimed by another department store. For what use the satin was intended could not be learned. That Wyatt intended to make gifts to women friends of these things, which were of a nature to appeal to women's fancy, was denied by the detectives. They said, furthermore, that he had apparently made no attempt to pawn the articles, although admittedly had up for money at times. Mrs. Jenkins, telephoned to the court she would not prosecute the youth. Nevertheless, he was held in $1,000 by Magistrate McAdoo for examination next Thursday. "This seems incredible," said Mrs. Jenkins to a reporter. "Mr. Wyatt has been regarded by me as one of my best friends. Why, he had dinner here only last Sunday. It must all be a mistake." Only last Saturday young Wyatt was arrested on a charge of attempted petty larceny in obtaining theatre tickets which were alleged to have been charged to Livingston Watrous, of No. 362 Lexington avenue. Mr. Watrous, like Mrs. Jenkins, is one of Wyatt's "best friends." Wyatt in court denied absolutely he had applied for tickets in any other person's name.

CHARTER BILL

Substituted for the Adverse Report in the Senate Today

Senator Hibbard Has Original Bill Substituted by an Almost Unanimous Vote — Further Action on Monday

In the senate this morning the Lowell charter bill was substituted for the adverse report of the committee on cities by practically a unanimous viva voce vote.

The committee's report was presented by Senator Joseph Lomasney, acting on behalf of the committee, and Senator Hibbard of Lowell immediately moved the substitution of the original bill to submit the proposition to the people. Senator Hibbard then addressed the senate briefly, stating that the people of Lowell simply wanted an opportunity to voice their sentiment on the new charter proposition and determine whether a majority of the citizens of Lowell wanted a new charter or not. He stated that the people of Lowell believed that they were entitled to the right to decide for themselves on such a matter.

Senators Newhall and Denny also spoke in favor of the bill. Senator Lomasney spoke briefly for the committee, but had nothing to say against the charter itself. A viva voce vote was then taken, and it was voted by all with the exception of Senator Lomasney to substitute the bill for the report.

The bill will come up for a second reading on Monday and Senator Hibbard expects that it will go through that body with flying colors. He will then ask for a suspension of the rules so that it may go to the house without further delay.

Rep. Barlow is of the opinion that the bill will pass the house.

Were Ordained Priests in Cathedral in Boston Today

At a mass celebrated at 8 o'clock this morning at the Holy Cross cathedral in Boston, Rt. Rev. Bishop Joseph G. Anderson ordained to the priesthood two Lowell boys. Rev. Joseph Henri Filion of the Brighton seminary and Rev. Daniel A. Barry, O. M. I., of the Tewksbury novitiate. A number of brothers from the latter place were ordained deacons and sub-deacons. The deacons are: Rev. Anthony Swanebeck, O. M. I., of New Westminster, B. C.; Rev. Robert J. McCoy of Chest Springs, Pa.; Rev. Daniel McCullough of Lonsdale, Ont.; and Rev. Herbert Bisette, O. M. I., of White Valley, B. C.

The sub-deacons are: Rev. Joseph Bolduc and Rev. James McCarthy of Lowell; Rev. Charles Weald, O. M. I., of Buffalo. Minor orders were conferred upon the following: Rev. Rosario Jalbert of Lowell; Rev. William Haley of South Boston; Rev. Charles Fallon of Kingston, Ont.; Rev. Terrence Lottus of Philadelphia, Ont.; and Rev. James McLaughlin, O. M. I., of Roxbury.

Rev. Daniel A. Barry, O. M. I., was born at Inack, County Clare, Ireland; his parents being Charles and Catherine Barry. He made his studies at the Guelphburn National school at Inack. He arrived in this city in 1885 and secured a position with the John Hancock Life Insurance Co. for which company he worked for four or five years. Later he entered the Holy Angels college at Buffalo, N. Y., and then the Tewksbury novitiate, where he finished his theological and philosophical studies.

His new Oblate father has a brother in this city, Mr. Michael Barry, of Duane street, and two sisters, Minnie and Catherine Barry, also two other brothers, Michael of New Haven, Conn., and Charles of Ireland. He will sing his first mass at the chapel of the Tewksbury novitiate Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., of the Sacred Heart parish of this city. A large number of friends and relatives of the young priest will be present at the ceremony. for the occasion will be Rev. Thomas Marie, of Montreal. After the mass a grand banquet will be served to several hundred people at the large hall of St. Louis' school. The banquet will be followed by a large reception at the home of the young priest's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Anacleto Filion, 345 Hildreth street. The many friends of the young priest will present him a beautiful golf club and a purse of gold. The entire cost $130, and the presentation will be made at the reception held in the afternoon.

SISTER JULIENNE

DIED IN CONVENT AT BOUC-TOUCHE, N. B.
Miss Marie S. Maillet, bookkeeper at Joseph Abbott's, received news today of the death of her aunt, Rev. Sister Julienne, superior of the Immaculate Conception convent at Bouctouche, N. B., which occurred yesterday at the latter place. The deceased is survived by a brother in this city, Mr. Sylvester Maillet, 55 Allen avenue.

A funeral high mass for the repose of her soul will be sung tomorrow morning at St. Louis' church at eight o'clock.

40 HOURS' SERVICE

OPENED AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH TODAY
A very imposing ceremony is that of the 40 hours' devotion which opened this morning at St. Mary's church, Collinsville. The service was opened at a high mass celebrated at 8 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Walsh, pastor of the parish. He was assisted by Rev. William H. Coyle, S. J.

The little church was packed to its doors, many faithful coming from the other end of the parish. After the mass a procession of the blessed sacrament was held in which took part the following children: Catherine Kiernan, Esther Godfrey, Catherine Kiernan, Mary Kiernan of Pine Avenue; Mary McDonald, Annie McNamara, Mary Kiernan of Middle street; Lillian Langlois, Margaret Cady, Josie Brennan, Rose Godfrey, Mary Cullinan, Agnes Nolan, Lillian Mooney, Angela Mullin, Mildred McNamara, Mildred Gorman, Mary Brennan of Middle street; Mary Brennan of Cottage street; Ceila Nolan, Bertha Lodge, Leola Snellman, Rosa Castello, Alice Gorman, Irene Fogarty, Cecilia Fogarty, Helen Willett, Vivian Willett, Lena Culbert, Beatrice Gordon, Annie Sullivan, Susie Gorman, Mary Pooley and Christabelle Gormley.

These little girls were all neatly dressed in white and they were under the efficient care of Miss Catherine Burke of Cottage street, who trained them for the occasion. The altar boys taking part in the procession were the following: Angelo Colli, cross bearer; Robert Galloway and Fred Godfrey, acolytes; Arthur Cullinan, censor bearer; Francis Cull-

SEEKS LIBERTY

Woman Has Been Married 5 Times

NEW YORK, June 8.—Mrs. Margaret E. Fauser, wife of Gustave M. Fauser, an artist, of No. 41 East Twenty-first street, has filed a separation action in supreme court. He is her 8th husband. She married first when sixteen years of age, divorced three husbands for desertion and was divorced by her fourth husband. She lives at No. 1 West Eighty-fifth street.

Mrs. Fauser has been married and divorced so often that she admitted to her own attorney that it was exceedingly difficult for her to remember the names of some of her husbands, and as to dates, they continually slipped her mind. Her application for $400 a month alimony will be argued in supreme court Monday. Walter E. Kountze, the third husband, shot the present Mrs. Fauser three times and killed John E. Walson, a Pittsburg contractor, in 1903. Kountze came upon Walsh and Mrs. Kountze together and opened fire. After Mrs. Kountze recovered, she divorced her husband. Mrs. Fauser charges her husband with abandoning her and also with making the accusation against her that she is insane. In order to dispose of this charge, Mrs. Fauser submitted to an examination by experts and was declared sane.

Herman Frommel, attorney for Mr. Fauser, denies that his client is as wealthy as his wife claims, or that he is able to pay her $400 a month alimony. He declares Mrs. Fauser forced her husband to separate from her by her charges that he was friendly to other women and too fond of her nineteen-year-old daughter by her first marriage. The girl is in a convent.

THE GRAND JURY

Investigating Affairs of Coal Companies

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—The federal grand jury today continued its investigation into the affairs of the Pittsburgh Coal Co. and the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Co., relative to the transfer of coal and coke properties valued at $17,800,000 to the U. S. Steel Coal Co., a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, to ascertain whether there has been any attempt to create a monopoly in the coal industry.

The transfer negotiations were officially approved last yesterday, notwithstanding the fact that the government probe into the matter had started by the house reassembling the May grand jury.

MYSTIC NOBLES

PLANNING FOR BIG EVENT IN BOSTON

To formulate plans for a monster initiation in July, Lowell caravan, No. 3, Mystic Nobles of Granville, will meet tonight, at which time it is planned to complete all details for the big event. A big list of candidates will go down to Boston, where the initiatory degree will be exemplified. At the Hub, the Boston nobles are preparing a banquet for the visitors that promises to eclipse anything ever served in Boston. While comparatively new to Lowell, the Mystic Nobles of Granville, whose aims and purposes are of a most laudable nature, have started out under most auspicious conditions and gives promise of being one of the most progressive branches of the order in this section.

FRAUD CHARGED

Two Men Before U. S. Commissioner Hayes

BOSTON, June 8.—On a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, Warren B. Wheeler and Stillman Shaw, who surrendered to the government April 7 after warrants had been issued for their arrest in connection with the flotation of the North American Rubber Co., appeared today before United States Commissioner Hayes at a continued hearing. L. R. Armistead, who purchased ten shares of stock at $3.50 per share, was the first witness. He testified that he received two letters from Wheeler & Shaw, incorporated.

SAVED MAID WHO ROBBED NEWPORT WOMAN

NEWPORT, R. I., June 8.—Mary Garry, until a short time ago maid for Mrs. William P. Buffum, of Newport, and whom the police in Philadelphia arrested last Tuesday for the theft of gowns and jewelry, will be given her freedom providing she returns the plunder, through the pleading with Mrs. Buffum yesterday by Chas. White, who married the maid last week and who narrowly escaped death in the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad wreck at Fairfield, Conn., Wednesday, coming here to plead forgiveness for his wife. He is on his way home with the goods.

A PICNIC PARTY

Broken up by Woman With Rifle

ATCHISON, Kans., June 8.—With the use of a rifle, Mrs. Tilley McGowan, a temperance advocate, broke up a picnic at which beer was being served here last night. Mrs. McGowan was passing the grounds when one of the party who knew her scoldingly invited her to have a drink. She accepted a glass of beer, intending to use it as evidence against the merry-makers. One of the men said she would have to drink the beer. She answered by picking up a stone and smashing him in the eye with it. The man closed in with her and in the struggle his face was scratched and his clothing torn. Mrs. McGowan procured a rifle and chased one of the party into the Missouri river, firing at him but missing. She finally shot the man to swim ashore and apologize. His companions fled.

BACHELOR PARTY

GIVEN TO NUMBER OF FRIENDS BY JOSEPH ROY

Joseph Roy is going to be married and just for that he gave a bachelor party to about 35 of his old chums yesterday afternoon. The scene of the bachelor party was just as picturesque as it could be. It was at Pleasant View camp on the banks of the Concord, in Billerica. The sun was shining, the wind was blowing, the birds were singing, the limpid waters were photographing the trees and everything was in absolute touch with nature. Just think of 35 men, of uncertain age, taking bachelor farewell of one who had been the bone of the whole bunch. It was one of the grandest parties ever held in camp on the Concord river. The menu was the most elaborate ever served in camp heretofore. You just ought to have seen that bill of fare. There was everything from soup to nuts—and then some. The menu was gotten up by Joe himself, and it was just too cute and too artistic for anything. Just as a matter of course the boys presented Joe a tailor suite and dresser, or rather, they presented him the receipted bill, and it was some preparation speech was by John McCarthy.

Warren Borden was toastmaster, and they do tell that Warren did himself proud. He waxed eloquent as well as witty and his hits were all to the good. He showed it was time that others of the party were getting ready to blow themselves on a bachelor party, and the few who read between the lines seemed to take it for granted that Warren was soon to do something of the kind himself. There was an entertainment, too. The talent speaks for itself. There were songs by Walter Bruce, Martin Makure of Glen-fade quarter lot, Tom Rourke and Patrick Harrington. Mr. McCarthy presided at the piano, John D. Grallin favored with several recitations, including one of his own composition, entitled "Why did they build the water so close to the shore?"

WANTS TRAIN RETAINED
Mayor John F. Moynihan has addressed a letter to President Mellon of the Boston & Maine railroad protesting against the discontinuance of the 8.08 train in the morning from Lowell and the 1.55 from Boston in the afternoon, which changes are said to be contemplated in the summer change of time table.

MASTER COLT

Finds in Favor of the Whittenton Manufacturing Co.

BOSTON, June 9.—In view of conditions and needs at the big Taunton cotton mills, the proposition of the Whittenton Manufacturing Co. to raise $300,000 by the issuance of new stock is found to be reasonable and proper by James D. Colt, a master appointed by the supreme judicial court. He filed his report today.

Master Colt finds that if the proposed plan is carried out it will result in no pecuniary gain to the Lyman family who are deeply interested in the mill, except insofar as it enables the company to conduct its business profitably in the future.

The appointment of the master was the outcome of a suit brought by Edward Page and other minority stockholders against the company and Arthur Lyman, Arthur T. Lyman and Donald T. Lyman. The court issued a temporary injunction restraining the defendants from carrying into effect a vote of the directors to change the capital stock in a plan of re-organization.

Mr. Page, the complainant, is the senior member of the firm of Faulkner Page & Co., which for ten years was the selling agent of the mills and during that time is said to have dictated its policy. Page being a director, Master Colt finds that while Faulkner, Page & Co. were selling agents the company's plant became less and less efficient.

When the Lymans in March, 1909, he says, obtained control of the company they transferred the selling agency to another firm. Page ceased to be a director. The Lymans, the master says, ordered and have installed much new machinery and are rapidly modernizing the plant—a great benefit to the company. In order to continue this policy Mr. Colt reports that the amount of money they propose to raise is necessary.

SEVEN SENTENCED CHARGED WITH PLOTTING TO GET PRINCE'S ESTATE

ST. PETERSBURG, June 9.—Seven of the 12 men, including two noblemen, a lieutenant, a clergyman and four lawyers, charged with conspiring to get the fortune of the late Prince Boh-

dan Oginsky, were sentenced yesterday.

Staff Captain Dmitry von Liarskiy was condemned to two years' imprisonment and his accomplices were deprived of their civil rights.

Von Liarskiy and his stepfather, Col. Vladimir von Liarskiy, who until his arrest was master of the horse at the imperial court, were the chief persons accused. The Oginsky family is one of the oldest and richest of the Lithuanian nobility. Its last representative, Prince Bohdan, died childless.

Capt. von Liarskiy soon appeared in St. Petersburg with what purported to be Prince Bohdan's will, appointing Gen. Nikolai von Liarskiy the sole heir of his estates and providing that should Gen. Nikolai predecease the testator then Capt. Dmitry was to be sole heir.

He produced proof of the death of Gen. Nikolai and secured permission to use the title of Prince Oginsky without waiting to prove the will. Princess Oginsky brought an action which established the alleged will was a forgery.

Baron Hamilton of Dalzell was originally chosen as civil attaché to Mr. Hammond, but the continued illness of Earl Spencer made it necessary to continue Lord Dalzell as acting Lord Chamberlain to His Majesty.

From the High School This Year

Owing to a vote of the school board taken last year the exercises of graduation of the Lowell High school will be held one week later than usual this year. The exercises will be held in the Lowell Opera house on the evening of June 28, the vote of the board being that the exercises be held on the last Wednesday of the month.

There will be about 220 graduates. The high school last year graduated a class of 219. The exercises were held June 21. The entire program for the graduation exercises this year has not been completed. The address will be by Pres. W. H. P. France, D. D., of Brown university, Louisiana. Knowlton will be the valedictorian and the salutatorian will be Miss Gertrude Rush. The class ode will be by Miss Marion Martin. The president of the class is Joe V. Meigs, Jr.

NEW YORK CITY

TO HAVE INEBRIATES' HOME TO COST $500,000

NEW YORK, June 8.—The board of estimate and apportionment will authorize the appointment of a board of inebriety and appropriate $500,000 for the establishment of a hospital and industrial colony in which habitual drunkards may be cured.

The plan was outlined in a report submitted to the board yesterday by Borough Presidents McAneny and Cronwell. It was laid over until next week, when it probably will be adopted.

President McAneny declares the step is necessary to aid these unfortunate and that it will save the city large sums of money annually. He says 29,461 persons were arrested and arraigned in the police courts last year on charges of intoxication, of whom 20,291 were held for trial and about 15,000 committed to the workhouse.

"There is no pretense," he says, "that the individual is helped. He is rather confirmed in his habits of inebriety and is permanently fastened on the community as an expense and as a bad example."

"These people become intoxicated, are arrested, arraigned in courts, fined or sent to prison. On being released they repeat the offense, are again arrested, sent to prison, and so on, indefinitely. This in-and-out of prison method leads nowhere. It offers no protection to society and no help to the inebriate."

"It is a wrong method due to a misconception of inebriety as a purely moral offense. Inebriety is now recognized by the best experts as quite as much a medical as a penal problem." The new plan has been in use in England, Germany, Massachusetts, Iowa and Minnesota. Under it persons arrested for intoxication will be sent direct to the hospital for treatment. A regular ambulance service for this class of cases will be established.

Getting From Under

Impending Tariff Changes Have Demoralized Prices On Woolens

Woolen clothing is going to be cheaper, whether Schedule K is amended at this special session or not. Clothing manufacturers are "getting from under" and clearing their counters of piece goods.

The effect of the tariff legislation is felt already in the forcing of these surplus woolens on the market. The makers' selling season is about over—ours is at its height. Plenty of men haven't bought their spring suits yet. These conditions favored us in getting in a bunch of splendid suits and are in your favor if you can use one.

This Week You Can Pick $20.00 to $25.00 Spring and Summer Suits at

$17.50

We didn't "close out the entire stock" of any manufacturer—we skimmed the cream from the offerings of several of our regular makers—so that the lots we offer are choice and high grade. In addition we have scaled down the prices on our own surplus lots in order to make this $17.50 sale really worth while.

In the group are Stein-Bloch suits, College Brand suits and other high grade makes: Three-piece suits, coats full lined; two-piece suits with coats full lined, half lined or quarter lined; three-button, two-button, outing and Norfolk coat models.

There's as great a variety of fabrics as of models; fancy worsteds, serges and cassimeres in the spring suits, and wool crash homespuns and cassimeres in gray and tan shades in two-piece suits.

If you need a suit for any purpose and there's one in this lot that pleases you, there's a saving of $2.50 to $7.50 on whatever you pick.

Worth looking into, isn't it?

YOUNG WOMAN SHOT SALOON CROWDS

Chinese Student is Held by the Authorities

Were Scared Away by Snakes

PORTLAND, Me., June 9.—Two employees of an express company made a great sensation last evening and emptied two saloons of a crowd of customers at a moment's notice. A non-resident, whose name was not given, ordered a box of snakes sent to him from the south for the purpose of cleaning out a vast number of rats from his place. The snakes reached here in rather a bad condition, and all but two died.

No one here with the exception of old soldiers are familiar with southern snakes and they only recall the rattlesnakes and moccasins, and the two living snakes are not of either species. One is a dark brown snake and the other, perhaps seven feet long, of the boa type, it is said, and a great rat killer.

The owner was notified of the arrival of his snakes and of the fact that only two were living. He directed that the remaining two should be warned and assured the express people that they were entirely harmless.

The large snake was given a chance to demonstrate its rat-killing ability, and destroyed 15 in a few minutes. The other snake remained torpid, and will, it is expected, die. The two men took the snakes and went to a saloon. One look at the big fellow was enough and the crowd bolted for the door.

A visit to a second saloon was equally successful and the crowd vanished at once. Patrolmen Keating and O'Brien tried to arrest the men, but they did not venture too near the snakes and after paying a visit to the office of a local paper, the two went back to the express office and left the snakes.

There seems to be no doubt of the harmless nature of the snakes, and there is certainly no doubt whatever of the rat-killing ability of the larger of the two, but they will be sent to the owner at once. The two employees of the company are well satisfied that the snakes are not poisonous, and actually open saloons in Portland.

SPAIN'S DUTY

TO RESTORE AND PRESERVE ORDER IN MOROCCO

MADRID, June 9.—Premier Canalejas informed the chamber of deputies last night that Spain's projected military operations at El-Araish, Morocco, were not inconsistent with the treaty of Algeiras or other agreements.

It was necessary, he said, for Spain to restore and preserve order in that part of Morocco.

It is understood that the government plans the occupation of Tetuan, Morocco, also because Spanish subjects have been killed or maltreated by rebellious tribesmen.

In both the Tetuan and El-Araish regions Spanish interests are endangered. The French government is endeavoring to dissuade Spain from these military movements.

HOTEL MEN'S CONVENTION

BOSTON, June 9.—A sail down the harbor and along the North Shore was enjoyed by the delegates to the National Hotelmen's Mutual Benefit Association and their families today. The party left early aboard a big excursion steamer. The day was ideal for a short sea trip. The party crossed the bay to Nantasket beach on the return voyage and had a good old fashioned New England clam bake. The evening was left free for trunk packing and a farewell to Boston, for the visitors go out to the Berkshires tomorrow.

A BLOOD GAME

Edsons and Bartletts at Spalding Park

If you want to see a real hot base ball game, get out to Spalding park early tomorrow, for the Edsons and Bartletts of the Grammar school leagues will play off their protest game before the regular game is called. The school boys starting at 12.30 o'clock. The last game played by these two teams ended disastrously and was thrown out by the judges. It was deemed unsafe to have it played off on either common or account of the intense feeling among the partisans of both teams. Hence it was decided that the game should be played on neutral ground with an umpire selected by the judges. The latter made arrangements with Manager Gray whereby the game will be played at 12.30 tomorrow. This will give the boys ample time to play nine innings before the big game. Mr. John Neeson will umpire and those who have seen him direct a game know that he is strong on the rules and impartial in his decisions. One admission admits to both games. Players of both teams are requested to be present in time to start the game at 12.30 sharp.

A "SANE FOURTH"

PICTURES SEEN BY MINISTERS AND OTHERS

A special film entitled "A Sane Fourth of July," which is of an educational nature was displayed at the Theatre Vovons yesterday afternoon and witnessed by a delegation from the Ministers' Federation, members of the school board and of the Women's club, school teachers, principals and members of the press, together with a number of representative business men.

This is the latest Edison film of purpose and carries its lesson by means of vital, human emotions which accentuate the idea as well as add to the popularity of the film. It is confidently expected that the little drama here unfolded will set some millions of Americans to thinking seriously on a subject which really calls for some attention.

The mayor of a small and well-to-do suburb of New York is asked to aid in the work in the "Sane Fourth" propaganda, the leader of which is a young widow with whom he is already somewhat in love. She pleads for the Fourth without explosives for the sake of her own boy and the mayor's motherless little girl. He is rather inclined to accede to her request, until he finds that the political bosses of the town are mixed up with the dealers in fireworks and that his chances for re-election to the office of mayor may possibly be endangered if he takes a positive stand in favor of the ordinance prohibiting the sale of explosives to the young people.

The mayor is very careful about what his little girl buys to play with and she has nothing but little fire-crackers which seem to be quite harmless. But the widow's little son slips into the store secretly and buys a good big cannon cracker to add to his other stock and then the trouble begins. The little girl hurts her finger with a small firecracker and the hurt seems very slight. Then the little boy climbs over the fence from the next yard and brings his big cannon cracker which he proceeds to set off for her edification. It explodes prematurely when he thinks the fuse has gone out and he is apparently blinded for life. A week later the mayor finds that he is in trouble indeed, for symptoms of lock-jaw have developed. From the slight hurt in his little girl's finger. When the crisis has passed and he knows that she will recover he shows his gratitude by calling the rival committee together and announcing his determination to help the ordinance for a "Sane Fourth" next year. The widow is grateful but cannot forget that her son still lies in danger of loss of his eyesight because of the mayor's attitude. Then follows a series of scenes a year later, showing the joys of a "Sane Fourth." There are all kinds of games, dances, parades and processions and at night a remarkable exhibition of fireworks under the city's own control.

KNOWS WHAT CURED HER

This Maine Woman Does Not Hesitate to Recommend the Remedy She Used.

A high endorsement is given Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by Mrs. Albert Bennett, of No. 124 Palm street, Bangor, Maine. She says:

"For fully eight months I was in a general run-down condition, which I think may have been due to my age. The doctor said my sickness was caused by the condition of my blood. My appetite was poor and I would feel faint at my stomach. I was so short of breath that I couldn't walk much. I lost several pounds in weight and could not do my housework. It was a burden for me to get around and many people would have given up and gone to bed. My blood was in a poor condition and a rash broke out all over my body."

"I was treated by two doctors but their help was so slow that I gave up taking their medicine and used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In two weeks I felt better and as I continued using the pills I improved until I was cured. I took no other medicine while using the pills and give them the credit for the cure. A great many people, who know how badly I was, have asked me what cured me and I am constantly recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

To avoid ill health and suffering at the critical time, a woman should make every effort to keep her general health in the best possible condition. If you are approaching the fortieth year or already passing through the change and your system is not strong enough to bear the strain, you can get no more certain or quick relief than through a thorough trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They quickly build up and purify the blood, which, in turn, tones and strengthens the nerves and every other part of the body until robust health is enjoyed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are guaranteed to be safe and harmless to the most delicate constitution. They do not act on the bowels but they actually make new blood and strengthen the nerves. If you want good health you must have good blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

TRUSSES AND ELASTIC HOSIERY

Some are unfortunate enough to be obliged to wear Braces, Supporters, Elastic Hosiery or Trusses.

If you are one of these you ought to provide yourself with the best device of its kind.

Our Truss and Elastic Hosiery Department is for this very purpose. We have a complete line of the best varieties of all such goods—and with surprisingly low prices.

The male and female attendants in this department are all experts, and the women trained nurses as well. We guarantee the quality of the goods, that the fitting is perfect, and we can supply special orders at exceptionally short notice.

DIRECTIONS FOR TAKING MEASUREMENTS

We always recommend, if it is convenient, for a person to be measured for elastic hosiery in our stores by our attendants. If this, however, is not convenient, measurements may be taken at home and the figures placed opposite the letters on the diagram. Measurements should be taken at the different points as indicated, preferably in the morning, on fasting. The actual measurements of the limbs should be given. We make the proper allowance for pressure.

A $20,000 GIFT WORKING WOMAN CHECKS STOLEN

Has Been Made to Yale University

Should Earn at Least $12 a Week

Mail Boxes in Manchester Were Robbed

NEW HAVEN, June 9.—A gift of $20,000 to be devoted in aiding original research in the study of diseases at the Yale medical school was announced by Secretary Phelps Stokes, Jr., of Yale university today from Francis E. Loomis of the class of 1884. Further gifts of $10,000 toward the endowment of the university clinic and $12,000 to the Peruvian expedition fund for the Yale expedition under Assistant Prof. Hiram Bingham were also announced. The Wright memorial committee has turned over to the treasurer of the university $12,500 toward the amount subscribed for the Wright memorial dormitory.

FOUNDERS' DAY

WAS OBSERVED THROUGHOUT RHODE ISLAND TODAY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 9.—The advent of Roger Williams and his sturdy band of settlers into Providence plantation 275 years ago was commemorated today in this city and in the schools throughout the state. The observance of the event was launched by the descendants of the founders of the city and the day christened Founders' day.

While the city took no official cognizance of the occasion, exercises of an historical nature were held in all the public schools, where the children were told the story of the banishment of Roger Williams from the Massachusetts colony by the Puritans, of his arrival here, where he was met with the memorable greeting "What cheer, Nelep?" from the Indians, and of the establishment of the state "to hold forth a lively experiment, that a most flourishing civil state may stand and best be maintained with full liberty in religious concerns."

JOHN DILLON

IS ON THE ROAD TO RAPID RECOVERY

BOSTON, June 9.—John O'Callaghan, national secretary of the United Irish league of America, received yesterday another telegram from Joseph Devlin, M. P., national secretary of the United Irish league in Ireland, stating that John Dillon, M. P., who was severely injured in an automobile accident on Monday night while on his way to the railroad station at Dun-dalk, is recovering rapidly.

Mr. Devlin's message read: "Dillon making splendid recovery. Cardinal Law was among callers to see him today."

Strange to say Mr. Dillon has always been averse to riding in automobiles and only used them when no other method of locomotion was available.

BOSTON, June 9.—"No working woman can possibly live in simple comfort on less than $12 a week," declared Mrs. Raymond Robbins of Chicago today. Mrs. Robbins is in Boston to attend the national conference of the Women's Trade Union league, of which she is president. "If her wages fall below that amount she merely exists," Mrs. Robbins continued. "She is obliged to deny herself proper food and suitable clothing. Until such time as votes for women prevail the wage workers must join a union and go on a strike, if necessary, for the protection denied them under man-made laws."

On the question of marriage, Mrs. Robbins said: "A trade union girl might perhaps become the wife of a passive non-unionist and still be happy, but under circumstances should she marry a pronounced anti-trade unionist, regardless of his wealth and social standing?"

CHILDREN'S SKIN TROUBLES

Cadum, the new medical compound for skin troubles, is perfectly safe to apply to the tender skin of infants suffering from teething, rash, eczema, chafings and similar troubles that afflict the little ones. Instant relief is felt as soon as Cadum is applied. The itching is stopped at once, and so soothing and healing is the effect of this new compound that infants resume natural sleep immediately. Cadum is good for many skin troubles in adults as well as children. 10c and 25c. Sold by all druggists.

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 9.—That some unauthorized person is possessed of a key that will open Uncle Sam's mail boxes is evident by the mysterious pilfering and juggling of letters containing checks which have been dropped in the street boxes. A South End produce dealer recently mailed two checks, one for $32 and the other for $8.25, at the corner of Elm and Granite streets, addressed to two firms in Boston with whom he was doing business. Neither of the checks arrived on time, a fact of which the Manchester party was notified by the Boston exchange, and he at once made good.

Later one of the Boston firms received one of the letters under cover of a separate envelope, but minus the check. It did, however, contain a letter written in Greek, which on being translated was found to be a communication saying that the writer was a member of the Black Hand, and traveled from city to city "to find rich things."

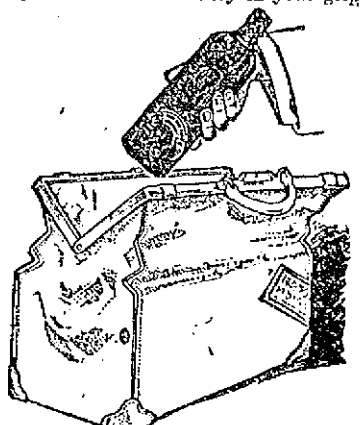

A few days later one of the Boston firms received a letter mailed in New York city and containing the larger check which was indorsed on both the front and back with the name "Basilis Gregorides, Chrystie street, New York." The check was, however, made out to the second party.

A few days later the other check turned up in the mail of the other firm, the sender evidently in some manner mixing them up in mailing. The matter was reported to the postal authorities, but as far as known no clue to the perpetrators of the robbery has been obtained.

HIGHLAND HEIGHTS

City Gets Park in New Residential District

Frank E. Harris, Developer of "Highland Heights," Gives Harris Park to the City—Building Boom in Vicinity of St. Margaret's Church—Notable Restrictions on Land

Through the coming of St. Margaret's Catholic parish to the Highlands and the advent of Frank E. Harris into the real estate business in the same locality a new and booming territory has been opened up in that attractive part of the city while the city of Lowell gets a brand new park into the bargain.

Mr. Harris, who started the development of the new district, has called it "Highland Heights" and therefore, that's the name by which the new district will henceforth be known. A new Catholic church is being built on one side of it and a new Protestant church has only been completed on short time on the other side. The Washington and Highland schools are within a stone's throw and thus it is well fixed at the start for religion and education.

cate within reasonable distance of the church. Then the district has its own natural advantages while Mr. Harris, who has certain ideas of a high plane in regard to localities has spent a large amount of money in developing that portion of the district controlled by him according to his ideas and he has placed restrictions on the property owned by him that will insure a first class residential district for years to come. The Highland Heights district is the district lying between and adjacent to Stevens, Pine, Wilder and D streets. Mr. Harris property lies within those bounds and in starting to develop the territory he constructed several new streets, three of which have already been accepted by the city, namely, Chauncey avenue, Harris avenue and Bennett street while there is still another street yet to receive a name.

In the centre of his lot at the junction of D street and Harris avenue is Harris park which Mr. Harris has turned over to the city. The park is oval shaped with broad roadways all around it. It is planted with grass and flowers while the park board intends to further beautify it.

After laying out his property Mr. Harris built five houses and a bungalow and offered them for sale. Three of the houses are of cement and all frames have asbestos roofs. One of the houses and the bungalow already have been sold and will be occupied within a week or two. The house was taken by Abel R. Campbell, the well known real estate agent, who has charge of the property for Mr. Harris, and the bungalow by Mr. Charles F. Libbey. Dwellings are now under construction by Alfred F. Prescott, and A. J. Finard while S. D. Green of Pawtucketville is about to build three two-family dwellings. As fast as Mr. Harris disposes of his houses he will build more until the locality is comfortably filled.

Building Restrictions

The restrictions placed on all land by Mr. Harris are as follows: All houses must be either one or two family houses, nothing larger. Each house must set at least 20 feet back from the sidewalk. Each house must have either an asbestos or slate roof. Telephone and electric light poles are being put down in the new district and there are even restrictions on these, for they must be laid between the lots instead of on the sidewalk in front of any particular residence.

Mr. Harris' Hobby

Mr. Harris has a hobby and that is poultry farming and he has about completed an immense set of hen houses along Shaw street in which he expects to install 2000 hens and as many more as Nature and a modern set of incubators will permit. A six room house of cement and wood has been built at the poultry establishment for the caretaker and beside it running along Shaw street is a cement brooder house for his sensibilities. With due regard for the sensibilities of the neighbors Mr. Harris purposes to surround the hen-houses with a "beautiful conservatory" in which he will raise choice flowers and hide from view the little low buildings that constitute the henery.

Geographical Advantages

Real estate men almost without exception look upon the upper Highland district as the next part of Lowell to have a building boom. Located in the extreme western part of the city that district is peculiarly free from smoke at all times. Its height gives it another advantage, that of pure air, for according to the records in the city engineer's office that part of the district in the vicinity of St. Margaret's church is within six feet as high as Fort Hill park. The Highland line of cars runs through the district, while the Westford street line is but a few minutes' walk distant.

At St. Margaret's

The architect who is building St. Margaret's church spent Thursday at the work and was much pleased with the progress made. The foundations are completed and all is in readiness for the laying of the corner-stone which will take place on Sunday afternoon, June 18th at 3:30 o'clock. As was previously announced, Bishop Anderson will officiate and the sermon will be by Very Rev. Dr. Supple.

Nice, fresh, large mackerel, 25c each. The Tarpon, 124 Central street.

IN POLICE COURT

SMALL DOCKET BEFORE JUDGE HADLEY

The police court session this morning presided over by Judge Hadley was very brief, as there were only drunk cases, and the court disposed of them in 10 minutes.

Fourteen altogether were arrested for indulging too much of the "foam" six first offenders were released this morning by the probation officer, two were fined $2 each and the others were sentenced, as follows: James Burns, Edmund J. Champagne, Samuel Adams and Hannah Seamus were fined $5 apiece, while Patrick Conley and Patrick Lynch were both given a sentence to the state farm at Bridgewater.

THE CATHEDRAL

Was Badly Damaged by Earthquake

TUXPAN, Jalisco, Mexico, June 9.—Blass Ruiz, a merchant, is the first to arrive from Colima, the region said to have suffered the greatest shock from the earthquake. He reports the railroad blocked by landslides and that there were only two or three victims at Colima. The roofs of the cathedral and the church of La Merced fell in. The principal damage other than this was a number of small houses. The principal buildings suffered little damage.

SAFE ROBBED

PITTSFIELD, June 9.—A safe in the William Conley Co.'s store was robbed of over $5000 in money and non-negotiable paper early today. A stranger, representing himself as a dealer in safes who had been in Pittsfield lately is being searched for. The safe is of an old lock and key affair.

LOWELL WOMAN

Arraigned in Superior Court Today

Mrs. Edith Butterfield, of this city, appeared at the criminal session of the superior court at Cambridge this morning and was given a hearing on an appeal of a fine of $85 for alleged illegal keeping of liquor. Lawyer Joseph E. Loughran appeared for the defendant.

Mrs. Butterfield, who conducts a lodging house at 42 Tyler street, came into prominence recently when Helen Hartnett, aged 14 years, who had been missing from her home in Haverhill for several months was located at the house in Tyler street and as a result of what the girl told the police Mrs. Butterfield was arrested. The principal witness for the government was the Hartnett girl.

MANY SISTERS

COMING HERE FROM BELGIUM TO TEACH

NEW YORK, June 9.—The mother-general of the Holy Union of Sacred Hearts arrived here today from Toulon, Belgium. Her sister, Mother Leontine, accompanied her on the Mauretania. They will go to Fall River, Mass., first to inspect a local branch of the order. The mother-general brought the uniforms of 110 sisters of the order, who are coming here soon to teach.

FOUND A PEARL

BUT IT RESTED AGAINST BLACK PART OF SHELL

NEW YORK, June 9.—Because a pearl lay against the black part of the inside of a clam shell, the Rev. F. E. Grunert, pastor of the Moravian Episcopal church at New Dorp, S. I., today has about $5,000 less than he would have had the pearl rested against the white part of the shell.

Mr. Grunert bought claims about two months ago and Mrs. Grunert served them on the half-shell for luncheon. The clergyman was about to eat one of the bivalves he observed a shiny object in the shell. He pulled it out and found it to be a black and white pearl.

Mr. Grunert laid the gem aside for several weeks, and yesterday sent it to Read Benedict, of the firm of Benedict Brothers, Jewelers, Broadway and Liberty street for appraisal. Mr. Benedict found that the pearl weighed 41 grains. He went over to the case and produced a pure white pearl hanging in a pendant. The pearl was about the same size as that which Mr. Grunert had found in the clam.

"This pure white pearl," said Mr. Benedict, "is worth $7,000. The one you found would have been worth as much if the clam had not allowed it to rest against the black. As it is now, white and black, I think it's worth about $100."

STOCK MARKET

WAS IRREGULAR AT THE CLOSE

TODAY

Canadian Pacific and the Eries Reached a High Level—An Increased Demand for the Copper Stocks—Market Leaders Dropped to Lowest of the Day

BOSTON, June 9.—Stocks were steady at about the level of yesterday's close at the opening today. Many of gains were made but most of the changes were small. American Beet Sugar was the strongest, advancing a point. Brooklyn Rapid Transit gained 1/2 and Northern Pacific, Great Northern pf, Reading and Anaconda Copper 1/2. Denver & Rio Grande pf, lost a point and Pittsburg Coal pf, 1/2. During the first half hour the market advanced briskly over yesterday's closing prices, then receded some, and toward 11 o'clock prices again began to rise.

After an upward movement of small dimensions and a quick relapse, the market grew quiet at the level which prevailed at yesterday's close. Speculative interest seemed to have grown less active and the volume of trading was smaller. U. S. Steel was watched closely in view of the belief that an unusually powerful bear combination had been responsible for the recent pressure against it, but the stock held steady throughout the morning session. The bond market generally was firm.

Canadian Pacific achieved distinction in an otherwise uninteresting market by rising to 241, a new record price, compared with 239 1/2, its low figure of the morning.

The sluggishness of stocks directed speculative interest into bonds, in which trading opportunities were better. Large transactions occurred in New York city 4 1/2, Atchafalpa Convertibles, American Telephone Convertibles, Third Avenue certificates and Washish Pittsburgh certificates.

The market closed irregular. Canadian Pacific and the Eries reached a high level and there was an increased demand for the copper group on the better trade conditions. The market leaders were sold under cover of this demonstration of strength and dropped to the lowest of the day.

Braved Death

To Administer the Last Rites

NEW YORK, June 9.—While a crowd of ten thousand persons were shouting in the street below, Fr. Duffy of St. Ann's church, No. 112 East 12th street, crawled beneath a car of an uptown Third Avenue "L" train at the 14th street station last night and braving the third rail administered the last rites to John Brennan of No. 417 East 121st street.

Brennan had fallen from the platform in front of a moving train and lay dying for 45 minutes, wedged between the brake shoe and the steel box of the forward truck.

Beneath the "L" structure a small pool of blood was forming on the street. A watch that Brennan carried in his pocket fell from his vest, through the opening between the ties, and crashed to the street near the growing pool of blood.

The crowd that had been attracted to the scene by the cries of "Man killed!" fought to gain the stairs leading to the "L" platform, and the police were overpowered.

Upon the arrival of a wrecking train the car beneath which Brennan lay was raised with hydraulic jacks and the mangled, unconscious form was taken out and laid upon a stretcher. Scores of persons volunteered to carry the stretcher to the street below where an ambulance from Bellevue hospital was waiting.

At the foot of the stairs the crowd that struggled to get a glimpse at the dying man crowded past the windows of neighboring shops, crushing several plateglass windows. The arrival of police reserves enabled men to carry the stretcher to the ambulance, and Brennan was rushed to the hospital dying. He cannot recover, the physicians say.

FACE SLAPPED

Man Accosted Woman by Mistake

NEW YORK, June 9.—Frederick Berg, a young electrician of No. 437 West Forty-fourth street, who slipped in the face by a woman who alleged he accosted her on the street, was vindicated yesterday on the charge of disorderly conduct when Chief Magistrate McAdoo, in Jefferson market court, discharged him.

The complaint was Miss Margaret Stewart, who gave her address as No. 339 West 115th street. She said Berg came up to her while she was looking into the show window of a Sixth Avenue department store at noon yesterday and took hold of her arm, at the same time saying: "Come on, sweetheart." She said she had never seen him before, and when she turned around she slapped him in the face, grabbed him by the coat-collar and coat-tail and started off for the West Thirtieth street police station with him with a crowd following.

Berg said in defense that he had been looking in at the show window with a woman friend, and had moved to the next window and then back to where he had left his friend and had reached out and taken her—or the woman he supposed to be his friend—by the arm and had said: "Come on, sweetheart."

"Then," said Berg, "this woman turned around and slapped me in the face before I knew I had made a mistake. I apologized, but she grabbed hold of me and pushed me along amid a jeering mob."

Miss Elsie Weller, an actress, No. 233 West Sixteenth street, testified she had been looking into a show window with Berg, but had gone into the store, thinking he would follow. Then, after she had reached the elevators, she missed him.

KING GUSTAVE

PAID A VISIT REAR ADMIRAL BADGER

STOCKHOLM, June 9.—King Gustave, accompanied by his ministers and members of the court yesterday visited Rear-Admiral Badger, commanding the American squadron, on board the Lusitania. His majesty first made a tour of the Swedish and American squadrons on the royal yacht.

He was received on the flagship by Admiral Badger and the officers, while the men manned the ship, the band playing the national anthems and guns firing a salute.

The American line officials hope to be able to get the vessel started on her voyage to New York by way of Cherbourg on Monday.

When the officers of the Olympic, which is due to sail for New York by way of Cherbourg and Queenstown, June 14, tried to engage a crew this morning the men demanded that their wages be increased to $30 a month. The White Star officials refused this demand and the men marched ashore.

FOREST FIRES RAGING

EL PASO, Texas, June 9.—Forest fires raging in Dragoon mountains, near Tombstone, have been gaining headway since Sunday despite efforts of a large force of forest rangers who have been fighting the flames. Many square miles of timber has been destroyed.

SEVERAL PERSONS REPORTED KILLED

LAS VEGAS, N. M., June 9.—Santa Fe train number 3, the California Limited, smashed into a work train between Carrillos and Domingo, west of here, this morning. Several are reported killed and injured.

PASSENGERS REACH LAND

NOME, Alaska, June 9.—Unable to find an open lead the steamer Corwin, whose coming marked the opening of navigation in Behring sea, landed her 102 passengers on the solid ice seven miles from shore here yesterday. The passengers, four of whom were women, reached land safely.

The Corwin was unable to discharge her cargo but sufficient provisions for immediate needs were brought in by dogsleds. The Corwin left Seattle May 19.

TEACHERS LOSE

Governor's Veto of Bill Sustained by One Vote

Sen. Lomasney Made an Attack on Gov. Foss—Senator Hoar Defended the Executive—The Gallery Was Thronged With Teachers, Who Watched the Battle

BOSTON, June 9.—After a debate in which Senator Lomasney accused Gov. Foss of "insincerity, chicanery and hypocrisy," and of having used his executive clerk as a lobbyist and of having broken his pledges to the democratic party, the senate yesterday sustained the governor's veto of the Boston elementary teachers' salary bill, 14 to 25, a margin of one vote.

The bill is now dead, unless upon reconsideration today, notice of which was given by Senator Hutton, one of the 11 opposing senators should change his mind or remain away—a contingency not anticipated by even the most sanguine of the teachers' friends.

Never within the memory of any one on Beacon Hill has a governor been so became governor he scattered those promises to the four winds of heaven. We hear now and then of his releasing life prisoners from the state prison at Charlestown. He has been flaunting his humanity in the faces of the people, but when it comes to a matter which would benefit women and children it requires all the efforts of the leaders of his party to make him see the right.

"This is the man who, while he was attempting to arouse public sentiment by releasing prisoners, would have forgotten the telling thousands of women and children by vetoing the 54-hour bill. And yet he has allowed numberless base and pernicious bills to become law without comment.

"If this were a matter of commerce, industry or finance, his gray matter would grasp it easily enough, but when it comes to a matter of humanity it is another story."

Tading Intervenes

At this point President Treadway reminded the senator that he could not permit disparagement of the chief executive, and asked him to speak to the matter on the calendar. Mr. Lomasney said he did not intend to disparage, and hoped the president would call him to order whenever he became unparliamentary.

It was on the question of lobbying that Mr. Treadway again called the senator to order. Mr. Hutton first raised the point that persons from the governor's office had lobbied against the bill, and Mr. Lomasney said he had personal knowledge that this was a fact. He also charged that senators, at the instance of the governor, had acted as lobbyists.

Executive Clerk Hatlow later denied that there was any truth in Mr. Lomasney's statement as far as he was concerned. The governor smiled and said he thought he could stand anything the senator had said about him.

Teachers Are Indignant

The teachers are indignant at the manner in which, according to Mr. Lomasney and others, the governor used his influence to encompass the defeat of their bill, and by the friends of the measure generally his alleged activity is regarded as a distinct violation of the constitution.

Six democrats—Moyle of Boston, Hunt of Worcester, Mack of North Adams, Malley of Springfield, Murray of Boston and Quigley of Holyoke—united with eight republicans to sustain the veto. The roll call follows:

To sustain the veto—Adams, Bennett, Doyle, Greenwood, Hunt, Mack, Malley, Mulligan, Murray, Pearson, Quigley, Schoonmaker, Tinkham, White—14.

For the bill—Barnes, Blanchard, Brown, Chase, Curley, Denny, Evans, Gates, Gralings, Hall, Hutton, Kilbuck, Hoar, Keith, Lomasney, Melien, Nash, Nason, Newhall, Powers, Ross, Stearns, Timilty, Tolman, Turner—25.

A serious attempt is to be made by the committee on cities and by all representatives and senators who believe the teachers should have higher salaries to secure the passage of a bill which will give them what they want, without antagonizing either the governor or the school committee.

Representative Montague has a bill, based upon the Governor's recommendation, which he will ask the house to substitute for the bill the committee on cities voted last week to report, and Senator Newhall, chairman of the committee, says the understanding is that Mr. Montague's bill will be accepted.

Refer to Masters' Increase

The teachers, however, will accept no bill which does not guarantee them all that the vetoed bill would have given them.

"We are now on the defensive," said one of them yesterday. "We are no longer supplicants. The masters want an increase. Let us see how much they want it."

The debate on the veto opened shortly after 2 o'clock and lasted nearly two hours. The galleries and the spaces on the floor of the senate reserved for spectators were crowded with teachers, most of whom had worked for two years for an increase in salary, only to see their hopes dashed at last.

Senator Hoar followed Senator Lomasney in support of the bill, and then came Senator Malley, who said: "I had expected to hear some convincing argument from the senator from Suffolk, but instead I heard a speech which came as near being abusive of the chief executive of this commonwealth as the rules of the senate and parliamentary usage would allow. Certainly it was not a violation, those rules were very much strained."

A senator of Massachusetts of the same party as the chief executive I do not feel I would by any means say I did not utter my protest against the characterization that has been given by the senator from Suffolk of the motives of the governor."

Hutton Called to Order

Senator Hutton asked Senator Malley what he thought of the action of the governor in sending lobbyists to work against the bill, but President Treadway called him to order, declaring that he could not allow personalities.

"For the first time," continued Senator Malley, "a democratic governor has had the courage to veto a bill that violated the principle of home rule. It makes no difference what past legislatures have done. I believe the governor to be absolutely right. He was elected to do his duty and he has done it."

Senator Lomasney again secured the floor. "When I came into the state house this morning," he said, "I was met with the story that the governor was sending his secretary, and an honorable senator, too, to lobby against these 2500 noble women. I cannot remember the time when another governor of Massachusetts has sent his secretary or even a member of the legislature to lobby in this manner."

The president again called the senator to order, reminding him that he was not conforming to strict parliamentary procedure. "I understand," he said, "that the honorable senator is basing his remarks on hearsay."

"Many of the things of which I speak," said Mr. Lomasney, "I saw with my own eyes. I have no desire to criticize the governor unjustly but I desire to protest with all the power that is in me against interference by the executive in the functions of the legislative body."

Mack Defends Veto

Senator Mack of North Adams said he believed the governor's veto was sound. Senator Hutton asked him what difference there was between the home rule principle in this bill and in the bill to increase the wages of metropolitan park employees, the veto of which he voted to override. Mr. Mack said he had voted for that bill at the request of a senator, and had not looked into it closely. He understood, however, that the principle was different.

Senator Doyle said the difference in principle between the two bills lay in the fact that the metropolitan park commission was appointed by the governor, while the school committee of Boston was elected by the people of Boston.

"Personally," he said, "I do not like the members of the school committee, but I respect the will of the people who placed them in office."

Senator Newhall of Lynn, chairman of the committee on cities, explained why the committee had favored the bill unanimously. The school committee a year ago, he said, told the committee that if the matter was put over a year they would submit a bill. They had a year to think it over, but failed to keep their promise. Senator Barnes of Weymouth closed for the bill.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Centralville Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., was held last night at Centralville Odd Fellows hall in Bridge street. There was a large attendance, and considerable business of importance was transacted during the course of the meeting. District Deputy Grand Master Mrs. Katherine Salisbury, Deputy Grand Marshal Mrs. Margaret Sewall, Deputy Grand Warden Eliza Summerville, Deputy Grand Secretary Mrs. H. Hadley, Deputy Grand Financial Secretary Mrs. Susan Furneaux, Deputy Grand Chaplain Mrs. Langley, Deputy Grand Ward Mrs. Jennie Merrill, Deputy Grand Harbinger Mrs. Hinkman and Miss Monk, all from Lowell, Mass., who were present on an official visit. Several candidates were received into membership. Sister Cora J. A. Wells of Lawrence was a visitor.

A collation was furnished to the guests before their departure for Lawrence.

Royal Arcanum

Highland council, R. A., held a well attended meeting in Highland hall last night. Routine business was transacted, and two applications were received. There was a very interesting talk by Past Grand Regent A. G. Walsh on the proceedings of the supreme council of Minneapolis and this was followed by a whist party at which the winners were J. J. McVey, L. M. Fuller and J. S. Breen.

BRICKS WERE THROWN

Strike-breaker Pulled Revolver and Knife on Strikers

BOSTON, June 9.—Foreign workmen chasing and hurling bricks at one of their own countrymen, furnished an unwanted spectacle for the quiet Back Bay district today. A strike of about 1000 laborers on the work of constructing a new hotel on the site of the old Art museum has been under way for some time. A gang of 35 strike-breakers reported for work this forenoon. About 75 of the strikers were nearby and following an argument one of the strikers threw a brick at a strike-breaker. Angered at this, the strike-breaker pulled a revolver and a knife but before he had time to use either weapon he was the target for various missiles thrown by the strikers. The strike-breaker fled to one of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology workshops nearby and hid on top of a boiler, where he was found an hour later by a policeman.

FIREBUG BUSY

He Resumes His Work in Boston

BOSTON, June 9.—Although one man is in Charles Street Jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of having set fire to the building at Stillman street, Sunday, May 14, and the police are still doing special patrol duty in the North End, it is said, shadowing a milkman supposed to be connected with the epidemic of incendiary fires in that district the past month, another fire, believed to have been set, occurred at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the house at 3 Prince street, the scene of four suspicious fires on May 11.

This, following a fire in the North End and another in the West End early Tuesday morning, both of which were suspicious, leads the authorities to believe several firebugs are terrorizing the season.

the crowded tenement districts downtown. The fire yesterday at 3 Prince street was on the second floor, occupied by Pasquale Della Russo. It started in a feather bed in a rear room that looked out on a shed. The Russo family were absent, but the window was open. The police say it would be an easy matter for the firebug to have scaled the shed and entered the room or to have thrown a lighted torch through the window. The damage was slight. The building is of four stories and occupied by three Italian families. With the arrest of Giuseppe Morello, a baker, living at 31 Shawmut avenue, the police thought they had solved the mystery attached to the long series of fires in the North End. Morello was arraigned in the municipal court last Saturday and held for the grand jury. He recently finished a three-year term for setting fire to a building on Harrison avenue. He had been employed as a baker in the North End.

"Ty" Cobb Threatened by Mob

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Ty Cobb had a narrow escape from personal injury at the hands of an incensed mob in the game here yesterday which Detroit won handsily by 3 to 1. A record mob of 22,000 witnessed the game and, becoming thoroughly enraged, drove Cobb's unruly actions toward Baker and Plank and the fight field bleachers, many thousands of the rioters tried to mob Cobb when the game ended. It required an extra force of police and ground attendants, aided by the rest of the Detroit players, to plough a way through the human wall and get Cobb to a waiting taxi-cab. Cobb had a run in with Plank in the first inning over a ball and the two never lost a chance after that to peek away at each other verbally.

The right field bleachers took up Plank's case and whenever Cobb came in on the field they pelting him with lemons. Cobb usually pulled them back at the start with as much force as he could use. In the sixth inning Cobb slid into Baker's feet first and the latter claimed that Cobb tried to spike him, he throwing Cobb's feet, which were entangled in his glove, aside with too much force, which naturally turned Cobb around. In the eighth inning, with Cobb on third, Plank tried to catch him napping and on a quick toss to Baker came near doing it. As Baker tagged Cobb the latter tried to treat on Plank's toes. Baker resented this and tried to repeat Cobb's trick. Cobb then bumped Baker and both players were hauling off punches each other when Umpire Shelden intervened.

Plank rushed to Baker's aid and he had to be forcibly pushed back to the pitcher's box by Davis before peace reigned.

This added to the crowd's excitement and as Ty made the last putout on Collins they made a rush for him. However, quick action by the police and Detroit players saved the "Georgia Peach" from harm.

PAPKE WON BOUT

Sullivan Never Had a Chance

LONDON, June 9.—Billy Papke, the American middleweight, otherwise known as the "Illinois Thunderbolt," took the measure of Jim Sullivan, the middleweight champion of England, in nine rounds of fast and furious fighting last night. Again it was the fighter against the boxer, and the fighter won with ease.

The contest was for the middleweight championship of the world, a purse of $10,000 and a side bet. It was boxed under the management of Hugh D. McIntosh, the Australian promoter, who hired the Palladium, one of London's noted music halls, for that purpose, and crowded it to the doors.

Throughout the fight was a savage one. Sullivan proved the cleverer at long range work, but Papke excelled at infighting. There was much clinching and much hitting in the clinches, and Referee Eugene Corri was compelled to remain in the ring. He had difficulty at times in separating the men, and he warned Papke twice.

The meeting of the American and English champion had been the sole topic of discussion in sporting circles for some days, and large sums were paid for seats near the ringside. Notwithstanding that the fight was advertised as "America vs. England," Papke ruled a strong favorite in the betting at odds of 3 to 2 and in some cases 2 to 1. Papke has a long list of knockouts to his record, while Sullivan's best fight was that in which he defeated Tom Thomas and won the middleweight championship of England and the Lonsdale belt.

Sullivan showed nervousness when he climbed into the ring last night, but after the fight had gone a few rounds he seemed to recover confidence. For a time he was able to stand off the sturdy Papke, who "roughed it" from the beginning, and he dodged with great cleverness several of the American's slashing swings. These, had they landed, would have ended the fight then and there. Sullivan used his left and right with good judgment, but without affecting the stamina of Papke, who was able to take an unlimited amount of punishment.

Toward the close of the ninth round Papke landed a savage uppercut which sent Sullivan to the floor. He took a count of five and, when the bell rang, staggered blindly to his corner.

When the call to the tenth round sounded he was unable to stand up, and Corri awarded the fight to Papke, amid great applause by the spectators.

A LIVELY FIGHT NEW BUILDINGS

After the Ball Game Several Permits Were Issued Today

LYNN, June 9.—As a result of a disturbance on a street car on Washington street, which came very near developing into a serious fight, while several hundred persons were returning from the baseball game at Ocean park yesterday, Michael O'Hara of 26 Second street, Chelsea, and James O'Hara of 34 Essex street, Lawrence, were arrested. A general attack had been made upon Henry Robie, a conductor. The Chelsea O'Hara was charged with evading his fare, while the Lawrence man was charged with assault.

During the game between Lawrence and Lynn, quite a delegation of rioters from Lawrence and Charlestown, the latter coming to see Welch, who belongs in Charlestown, pitch for Lawrence, made things so unpleasant that they were asked several times to be gone.

When the game was over the crowd boarded a car in charge of Conductor Robie and trouble ensued because of the alleged refusal of some of the men to pay the fares. Someone made a kick at Robie and he went for his assailant and knocked him into the street.

The rest of the gang were piling upon the conductor, who was putting up a fierce scrap, when a half dozen policemen, headed by Deputy Chief Bartlett, jumped from another car and broke through the crowd.

In the squad were Inspector Barrows and Sgt. Murphy, both in plain clothes, and they had to force their way to the center of the crowd of several hundred. There were a score or more fighting and everyone seemed to be trying to get a crack at Robie.

The police grabbed the O'Haras and dragged them from the center of the crowd. When the rest of the gang discovered that the men in plain clothes were policemen they hustled to get back upon the car and out of sight of the police.

No difficulty was experienced in landing the prisoners at a patrol box. But for the timely presence of the officers there would have been a bad row on Washington street, for Robie had many friends in the crowd and they were ready to mix in the fight.

The new apartment house being built on the Coburn lot in Merrimack street, corner of Coburn and Thilen streets, will be thoroughly up-to-date and equipped with all that is modern in the line of conveniences. Application for a permit to build was filed at the office of the inspector of buildings this forenoon. The builder is A. B. Beal of Boston and the architect is F. A. Norcross, also of Boston.

The building will extend 51 feet in Merrimack street, running back 65 feet. It will be of brick, granite trimmings, five stories high, with large restaurant and store on first floor. The second, third, fourth and fifth floors will be divided into apartments, 37 in all, two and three room suites with private bath, telephone and kitchenette. The estimated cost of the building is $93,000.

Building Permits Issued Permits to build issued at the office of the inspector of buildings since the last were published are as follows:

Mrs. Susan D. Wood, two-family house, Hildreth street, corner of Jewett street. The building will be 51 by

FACTORY INSPECTION

It is proposed to have a special commission investigate factory inspection and report its findings to the next legislature. The commission is to consist of the chairman of the state board of health and the chief of the district police ex-officio and three persons to be chosen by the governor. The result will probably be an increase in the number of inspectors which is now claimed to be too small to do the work effectively.

HOW THE LYNN CHARTER WORKS

Down in Lynn Mr. Bayrd, commissioner of public property, has removed Chairman Hawkes of the park board for the reason, it is alleged, that Mr. Hawkes did not apply business methods in a manner satisfactory to Commissioner Bayrd on whose shoulders rests the responsibility. Mr. Hawkes is out and that settles it. There will be no court proceedings to restore him to office. The man who is responsible is the only one to be satisfied and nobody else has any right to butt in. That is business and it shows the beauty of the commission charter. The next man who goes in there will understand that he must give satisfaction to his chief or he also quits the job.

FALL RIVER'S STATE POLICE BOARD

The aldermen of Fall River have voted 21 to 6 in favor of a referendum on whether the city shall petition the legislature for the abolition of the state police regime by which the city has been governed for a number of years. We cannot conceive of anything but an affirmative vote on a question of that kind, for the very presence of the state police is a standing rebuke to the city as if her citizens were unfit to be trusted with control of the police power. It is alleged that the state police board of Fall River was the outcome of high handed political trickery in a conflict for party supremacy. Under such conditions there is no excuse for having a state police board in Fall River.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

The spontaneity and genuineness of the tributes to Cardinal Gibbons on his jubilee celebration are a fitting recognition of his eminent virtues, his patriotism and devotion to the cause of religion and humanity. He is a strong advocate of universal peace, and his address in response to the tributes paid him by high government officials from the president down was an eloquent appeal for recognition of a superintending providence in the affairs of men and for loyal support of duly chosen officials as clothed with divine authority in guiding the destiny of this republic. Senator Root put it tersely when he said: "Cardinal Gibbons illustrates the union of service to the state and service to God, a bulwark against anarchy, a bulwark against the tearing down of morality and government upon which the foundation of our country depend."

FOR A SANE FOURTH

It is not too soon to agitate for a sane observance of the Fourth of July. The National Fire Protective Association has issued timely warning against a reckless celebration that may result in hundreds of deaths and thousands of wounded in the homes or the hospitals.

Last year's celebration cost 131 lives and the maiming of 2023, a total of 3054 casualties. The casualties in 1909 were 5522, so that there was an important reduction last year as a result of the campaign for a sane observance. The proper method of bringing this about is for each city to adopt a strict rule against the use of firearms and explosives, except in the regular display from which there is little danger. The fire cracker is a fruitful source of fires that cause great loss throughout the country. Firemen throughout the land dread the Fourth as their busiest day. Usually the fires are small but the most insignificant blaze is liable to develop into a great conflagration.

Whether we have a sane or an insane Fourth depends entirely upon the police regulations and how they are enforced. Our observance last year was fairly free from bad accidents and the noise was not so deafening as usual, all of which was the result of strict police regulations. It is hoped that this year the restrictions will be even greater, so that the number of accidents from exploding cannon crackers or firing off revolvers may be still further reduced.

THE DOWN-RIVER HIGHWAY

There should be no let up on the work of completing the down-river boulevard. Practically all of the road had been rough graded by Middlesex and Essex counties, and if the work is not satisfactory to the highway commission that fact should be known. The city of Lowell and the town of Dracut are paying their share of the expense to the county and both should see that the work is pushed with all possible haste. That road to Lawrence is greatly needed. Strange to say it is the only break in the state highway from New Hampshire to the sea. Lowell and Lawrence have been backward in demanding recognition from the counties in the line of better interurban roads. Were it otherwise this boulevard might have been completed long ago as it should have been. It is dangerous for an auto or vehicle of any kind to attempt to pass from Lowell to Lawrence by the north side route. That is a disgraceful state of affairs under which both cities have labored for years. Neither city should brook any delay in the completion of this road. It is alleged that the state highway commission will not accept the road in its present condition. The Middlesex county portion is said to be the cause of the objection. The commissioners should see that the work necessary to have the highway commission accept the road be done at once. Is there any opposition due to the fact that in the first place the commission or some of the members preferred a different route? The general public wants that road completed and are tired of this delay and haggling between the counties and the highway commission.

SEEN AND HEARD

There'll be some class to those city hall grounds when the bloom is on the clover.

Turn on the love, turn on the sweet,
Turn on the song and cheer;
We need them in the roaring street,
We need them far and near.
Turn on the thoughts for other lives
Besides our own, O, O, O,
That helps the world wherever it strives—
Keep up the sunshine style.

No king had passed, no crowd had come,
No army marched with flag and drum;
No rose had bloomed, no bird had sung,
Yet all the world seemed strangely young.

And all the hearts that murmured there
Were stirred by some soft touch of prayer—
For, where tolling throngs were massed,
Some neighbor's little child had passed!

Down in Norfolk, Va., the windows to the office marked "Health Commissioners" look as if they had not been washed since Hiram was a pup and the street door to the office is littered with all kinds of rubbish.

A Maryland congressman confides to the Congressional Directory that he is married and lives with his wife.

Never get it into your head, young man, that just because you are near the water, where the very trees baffle their sun-blessed leaves and the little birds sing the sweetest of love songs, that you can drink all the booze in the world and get away with it. Whiskey can throw romance and poetry ten times in so many seconds.

Talking machines are all right but they were not intended for legislative halls.

Down Baltimore way they say that the Mint Julep association needs rain. They don't seem to care anything about strawberries.

"Turn on the lounge sandwich," seems to be the slogan at city hall meetings.

ASHAMED OF GOD

Some men remember, I know you will,
When you slept with a comrade, the nameless thrill
Of not knowing whether to kneel down there
Before him and offer your nightly
prayer.
For fear he would tease you, or make you feel
It wasn't just manly in prayer to kneel.
You thought what you felt was ashamed of yourself,
But it wasn't just that that away on the shelf
And don't contradict, or shake head, or nod,
When I tell you that you were ashamed of God.
An' so many are when they kneel to pray
In a room with a comrade or stranger, that way.

Ashamed of God! Now, isn't that nice
To pay such a forfeit and give such a price
For weakness and pride! You know better now
Since you've gathered world wisdom and guile,
That it makes no difference how many are there,
There's nothing to be ashamed of in prayer!

Nothing to be ashamed of in Him!
Alone in your closet, with lamp turned dim,
Or one in a million in strange lands met,
There's nothing to be ashamed of yet in kneeling and praying just as you would do
With none in the room but your Father and you!

Pimples, Skin Blotches

Disappear Over Night in Many Instances When This Simple, Old-Fashioned Home Remedy Is Used

My complexion is naturally bad. If I neglect it, I can find my pimples and blotches breaking out, or unsightly red skin blotches appearing in conspicuous places. I know of used to hate to leave home or appear in public places because of my horrid skin. A friend of mine who has one of the most delicate and most beautiful complexions I have ever seen, visited me one day and in despair asked her how she did it. She said: "It's no secret at all and you or any woman can do it just as well as I. I use no rouge, no cosmetic of any kind, but each night before retiring I bathe my face with a simple lotion that I prepare myself at home. I mix two ozs. of Water and 1 drachm. Tincture of Benzoin. Any druggist will keep these ingredients, or get them from his wholesaler."

I followed my friend's advice, and the results have been simply wonderful. My skin is smooth, clear and velvety always and the treatment takes me less than five minutes each night and costs next to nothing. I simply moisten a cloth with the lotion and apply it gently all over my face and neck, and in the morning I wash it off. I find this lotion delightful. I use it for everything and something my hands, face or lips are roughened, or chapped from exposure to wind and weather. My husband uses it after shaving and says it's the most soothing and refreshing he ever used.

I think a great many readers will be glad to hear of this remedy, and the ingredients here in Lowell, from the Hiram-Jaynes drug store, but I guess almost any druggist will have them.

Yesterday from Havana was Chief of Police C. M. Aguirre of the Cuban capital, who is on his way to attend the convention of police chiefs at Rochester. The convention doesn't begin until next week and Chief Aguirre will spend the intervening days studying the New York force and its methods. Aguirre, who took his present job a year ago, is said to have made a record by cutting robberies in Havana from a monthly average of 40 down to 13 and by playing elder brother to tourists and keeping them out of trouble.

On the Havana also was Miguel Mariano Gomez, a son of the Cuban president. He is on his way to London as secretary to the Cuban commission to the coronation of King George V. Major W. M. ## In Which Former Yale Football Hero Figures

NEW YORK, June 9.—A romance involving a pretty young woman of twenty-two, whose father owns at least a million dollars for each of her years, and one of the most famous line-men who ever carried the Blue of Yale to victory on football fields, came to a dramatic climax yesterday in the quiet rectory of St. George's Episcopal church, at 207 East Sixteenth street.

Miss Helen Whitlir Andrus, daughter of Congressman John Emory Andrus, of Yonkers, and Henry Homer Hobbs, a young merchant of Springfield, Mass., but better known as "Hobbs," left tackle of the great '99 Yale team, were married there by the Rev. John F. Scott.

It was an elopement, pure and simple, and with all the spectacular features an elopement should have. The young bride had met "Hobbs" several years ago through her brother, "Ham" Andrus, who, as right guard of the 1907 Yale team, inscribed his name in gold letters on Eli's records.

"Hobbs" had been forbidden the Andrus house by the stern old parent. But with the aid of "Big John" Kilpatrick, of the 1910 team (the greatest height and end ever known) he arranged for Miss Andrus to get her trunk out of her home secretly at the dead of night to meet him and his hotel yesterday morning, and then with "Big John" as best man and a confidential chum, Miss Alice Foss, of Nyack, to get a license and motor to the rectory.

Will Not Forgive

TO GROW HAIR ON A BALD HEAD

BY A SPECIALIST
Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair, but having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-growth without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist. Day Rum, 6 ounces; Lavender Compound, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is slightly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics. Do not apply to the face or where hair is not desired.

Patent publication we presented this prescription to Riker-Jaynes Drug Co., this city, and they state that they have filed it many times for their patrons who report most astonishing results from its use.

HUNT BIG GAME

FRED STONE AND PARTY START FOR FROZEN NORTH

NEW YORK, June 9.—A new danger threatens the polar bears and musk-oxen of the Arctic circle. Fred Stone, the actor, and a party of three friends sailed yesterday on the Scandinavian liner Oscar II for the frozen north, on a hunting expedition. In addition to carrying a full complement of heavy calibre firearms, Mr. Stone is taking a moving picture machine and a supply of Mexican ravens. He hopes to bring back to the United States a large number of musk-oxen alive and bring them back to the United States. In the party, besides Mr. Stone, are Arthur J. Houghton of Charles Dillingham's forces, and two wealthy Massachusetts sportsmen, R. E. Burns of Cambridge and Edward S. Farmer of Brookline.

The party is due at Christiansand, Norway, on June 15. They will then voyage for six days up the west coast of Tromsø, which is 150 miles above the Arctic circle. Here they will meet the 50-foot whaling ship Fenix which has been chartered for the hunting trip.

They will sail July 1 for the ice fields on the east coast of Greenland, and if the ice has broken up sufficiently Mr. Stone hopes to get through to the musk-ox region on Greenland. The party will spend all of July hunting.

PHYSICIANS SAY THAT KOHL HAS A CHANCE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The condition of C. F. Kohl, prominent capitalist and clubman, who was shot and dangerously wounded yesterday by Adele Verge, a French maid, was slightly improved this morning. According to his physicians, Kohl may recover. No effort has been made to locate or extract the bullet lodged in his breast but an X-ray examination will be made today.

Adele Verge spent the night at the city prison, praying for the recovery of Kohl. Hysterical and unweary, she declared that she had bought the pistol many months ago as a protection against the detective she says Kohl and Frank Miller hired to watch her.

THE TRACK TEAM

Again Elected Leggatt for Captain

Horatius F. Leggatt was unanimously re-elected captain of the high school track team at a meeting held yesterday afternoon. The success of the team under the direction of Mr.

HORATIUS F. LEGGATT, Captain.

Leggatt was due in no small measure to his work. He was elected to the captaincy of the track and football teams in his sophomore year at school. He is an all round athlete and one of the best that has ever participated in any of the high school sports.

ETHAN ALLEN SMITH

The following memorials will become a part of the records of corporations with which the late E. A. Smith was connected in official capacity:

Voted in meeting of Directors of Middlesex Safe Deposit and Trust Company that the following be spread upon the records:

Whereas death has removed our beloved fellow member Ethan Allen Smith, who died in Lowell, June 24, 1911, we desire to express our appreciation of him, our estimate of his life work, in the expectation and hope that our expressions will live and be an inspiration to others, and in some measure be comforting to those of the family circle. Most of us have known Ethan A. Smith for a life time, and our relations with him extend beyond the councils of this company.

Voted in meeting of Directors of this company that we express our sympathy and our appreciation of his life work, in the expectation and hope that our expressions will live and be an inspiration to others, and in some measure be comforting to those of the family circle. Most of us have known Ethan A. Smith for a life time, and our relations with him extend beyond the councils of this company.

"To live in hearts we leave behind. Is not to die."

Voted that the following tribute to our late associate be spread upon the records of Trustees of Lowell Cemetery:

Died in Lowell, Mass., June 24, 1911. Ethan A. Smith, a member of the Board of Trustees of Lowell Cemetery, having served in such capacity continuously since March, 1892.

"Friend after friend departs— Who hath not lost a friend?"

Friendships are formed in the directing bodies of business institutions that are life lasting. In our own circle we well know how dear to us are the memories of our fellow trustees who have gone from us. We shall remember Mr. Smith for his upright, his courage in facing perplexing business problems. His loyalty to any cause in which he had joined. His loyalty and interest in the Lowell Cemetery was never wanting. The city of Lowell and its citizens have lost one of its best and truest men. That loss must be shared by the Proprietors of the Lowell Cemetery.

To Lower Pollard Ave. Sewer

Newell F. Putnam, superintendent of streets, says that the lowering of the Pollard avenue sewer will be a rather ticklish job. "It will be a case of blast from start to finish," said Mr. Putnam, "and to blast at the very foundation of buildings is a work that will necessitate great care. The sewer will have to be lowered from four to six feet and but for the fact that it is so solid ledge the proposition would be less formidable. I understand that the vaults in the Hildreth building are directly over the present sewer and I think that a great deal of trouble could be overcome by putting in a new sewer beside the old one and allowing the old one to remain until the new sewer had been installed. I think this would be the safer and the cheaper way out of it. The blasting process will be necessarily slow because the blasts will have to be very small. There is danger to buildings in work of this kind unless the greatest care is exercised."

MARCHAND BILL

Was Passed to the Third Reading

The bill introduced by Representative George Marchand relative to all vehicles carrying lights between sunset and sunrise, was passed to a third reading in the house of representatives this morning by a vote of 103 to 75. Mr. Marchand made an able plea for the passage of the bill and owing to his energetic work it is expected that the measure will be passed.

At the present time automobiles are required to carry lights but horse drawn vehicles are exempt. This makes it dangerous both for the automobile operator as well as the driver of a carriage. In the event of the passage of the measure the carriages will carry lights which will show white light in the front and a red in the rear.

Man Committed Suicide in Hotel

BOSTON, June 9.—A little flowerboy named Max Sigel was startled to hear the loud report of a revolver near him in the basement of a downtown hotel today and ran upstairs. Guests who were in the dining rooms and at the bar also heard the shot. Hotel employees hurried to the basement, where they found the body of a man bled in the corner of a closet. The man had smoking revolver in his hand and there was a bullet hole in his right temple. He died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital. He was smartly dressed but nobody had identified him up to an early hour this afternoon.

The strike is due to four causes: shops.

SERIES OF BREAKS

Believed to be Explained by the Arrest of Avey

GREENFIELD, June 9.—An epidemic of thefts and petty burglaries perpetrated in this town during yesterday and the day before are believed to be explained by the arrest at Turners Falls today, of Frank Avey, who claims Woonsocket, R. I., as his home, and who, it is alleged by the police, has made a complete confession. Avey, according to the police, came here Wednesday night and soon after his arrival robbed the Daniels' home on Silver street, where he secured a large amount of jewelry.

The next morning, according to the alleged confession, Avey entered the house of J. J. Cranston on Davis street, where he stole considerable jewelry and silverware. A little later the police say he entered the house of Miss Pierce, where he obtained jewelry, diamonds, old coins and gold beads belonging to a lodger named Mrs. Hawkes.

The next break was at the home of former Sheriff Smead, but nothing of value was found here. Avey is also alleged to have broken into Yeter's drygoods store last night, but little of value was found there.

Avey was arrested in Turners Falls this afternoon. It is alleged that most of the plunder taken from the various places broken into was found on his person.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT

Says Salaries of Officials Came From Redemption Fund

BOSTON, June 9.—Evidence tending to show that the salaries of Rev. Norman Plass, Charles H. Brooks and John I. Traphagen as officers of the Redeemable Investment Co. were secured from the redemption fund, was introduced by the government today at the resumption of the trial of the three officers on charges of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

William E. Hingston, the public accountant, resumed the stand and testified that Brooks was drawing an annual salary of $500, Plass $600 and Traphagen $200. These salaries were paid, he said, out of the general fund, which witness testified, had been swelled by money taken from the redemption fund by means of fictitious sales of redeemable stock to Brooks and Traphagen. This stock was afterward redeemed for cash by the company and part of the proceeds was turned into the general fund. The defendants enjoyed these salaries from September, 1909, when the company was incorporated, up to October, 1910, when the postal authorities ruled their offices and forced the company to suspend business.

W. G. Poor, treasurer of the Boston & Canada Wheatlands Co., one of the subsidiary concerns of the Redeemable Investment Co., was called by U. S. District Attorney French for further inquiry into the contracts, which he had previously testified the company held, for 11,011 acres of wheat land in Saskatchewan, Canada. The disappearance of the contracts themselves has not been cleared up. The defendants claim that they were taken away by the postal authorities in the raid. The government, however, denied that the postal authorities ever saw them.

In consequence of their disappearance, Judge Dodge permitted an examination of the witness as to the terms of the contracts. As on the ax-

TO AID WOMEN

PROMINENT WORKERS BELIEVE PENSIONING MOTHERS

The advisability of keeping families together instead of separating mother and child when the former is unable to support the latter is being vigorously upheld by representative women.

Mrs. Robert G. Clarkson recently read before the board of charities and corrections of New York city a paper on the subject in which she declared no institution, however well planned, could take the place of the mother and moved she be pensioned so that she could continue to stay in the home.

Mrs. William Einstein, president of the Widowed Mothers' Fund association, read a paper on "The Keeping Together of Families," especially as concerned the preservation of the families of deserting husbands, consumptives or widows. She favored the method in use in Washington of pensioning deserting husbands and turning over the proceeds of their work while in prison to their families. In the case of widows she urged the adoption of the system in vogue in Kansas City, where the judge of the juvenile court is empowered to pay a regular pension to widows with children from a fund placed at his disposal.

all the payments to be made only when the widow remains at home to care for her children instead of working outside. Only such a system, she said, could end the breaking up of families.

The Archduchess Isabella of Austria, wife of the millionaire Duke Frederick, is doing much to help the Hungarian peasant women by selling their beautiful laces.

In the spring she went to Paris, and, stopping her automobile at the principal shops, she sent in her card to the proprietor like any ordinary drummer and then descended, followed by two footmen carrying hampers filled with the lace. It may be imagined it was readily bought.

She also went into the principal tea room and suggested to the proprietor that he use real lace instead of lace paper frills on his boxes. He accepted with enthusiasm and was afterward rewarded by a visit to the archduchess beautiful castle at Presburg.

The Boston Trade School For Girls is doing a notable work. This school last year earned more than $5000. The city provides $200 for the purchase of material. This annual provision is repaid once or twice over.

VICARAGE CAKE

Use one pound of flour, six ounces of butter and lard mixed, six ounces of currants, six ounces of sugar, two eggs, one teaspoonful of tepid milk, one small teaspoonful of carbonate of soda, half a teaspoonful of ground cinnamon.

Put the butter and lard into the flour, add all the dry ingredients, except the soda, which must be dissolved in the milk. Beat the eggs, yolks and whites separately, stir into the flour, etc., then add the soda and milk. Line a tin with greased paper, pour in the mixture and bake for one hour and a half to two hours.

MARY'S CAKE

Use one pound and a half of flour, half a pound of sugar, two ounces of candied peel, three-quarters of a pound of currants and raisins mixed, a quarter of a pound of butter, a quarter of a pound of lard, three eggs, half a pint of milk, one teaspoonful and a half of baking powder.

Put the butter and lard into the flour, add the dry ingredients, lastly the well beaten eggs and the milk. Beat all thoroughly and bake about two hours.

RICE CHEESECAKES

Mix smoothly with a little cold milk one ounce of ground rice, add about two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a pinch of salt and half a pint of new milk. Boil all together, and when cooked mix in two eggs and a few drops of any flavoring best liked. Fill pastry shells and grate a nutmeg on the top before baking. Bake in a moderate oven.

MANY WOMEN

SPEND THEIR SUMMER PLAYING CARDS AND EMBROIDERING

It is universally conceded that summer is about the only chance dwellers in towns and cities have of really recuperating their health.

They are supposed to live out of doors and to inhale enough ozone and enjoy enough sunshine to last them for the rest of the year, and yet any number of women spend their entire vacation playing cards or doing fine embroidery, which exhausts both eyes and nerves.

How far the card playing mania may be carried can be told by almost any dweller in a summer hotel. There are women who sit down immediately after breakfast, are persuaded with difficulty to take lunch, resume immediately afterward and are only interrupted by dinner. There are many also, who, in addition to playing all day long, enjoy a game in the evening as well.

During the game, which must be played indoors to avoid distraction, some of the best players even object to the windows being opened, as it blows the cards about.

The embroiderers are not quite so bad. They sit on the piazza to do their work, but they stitch through all the beautiful hours, scarcely looking at the scenery. The birds, the sky and the sunshine mean nothing to them. They are engrossed in a web of stitches.

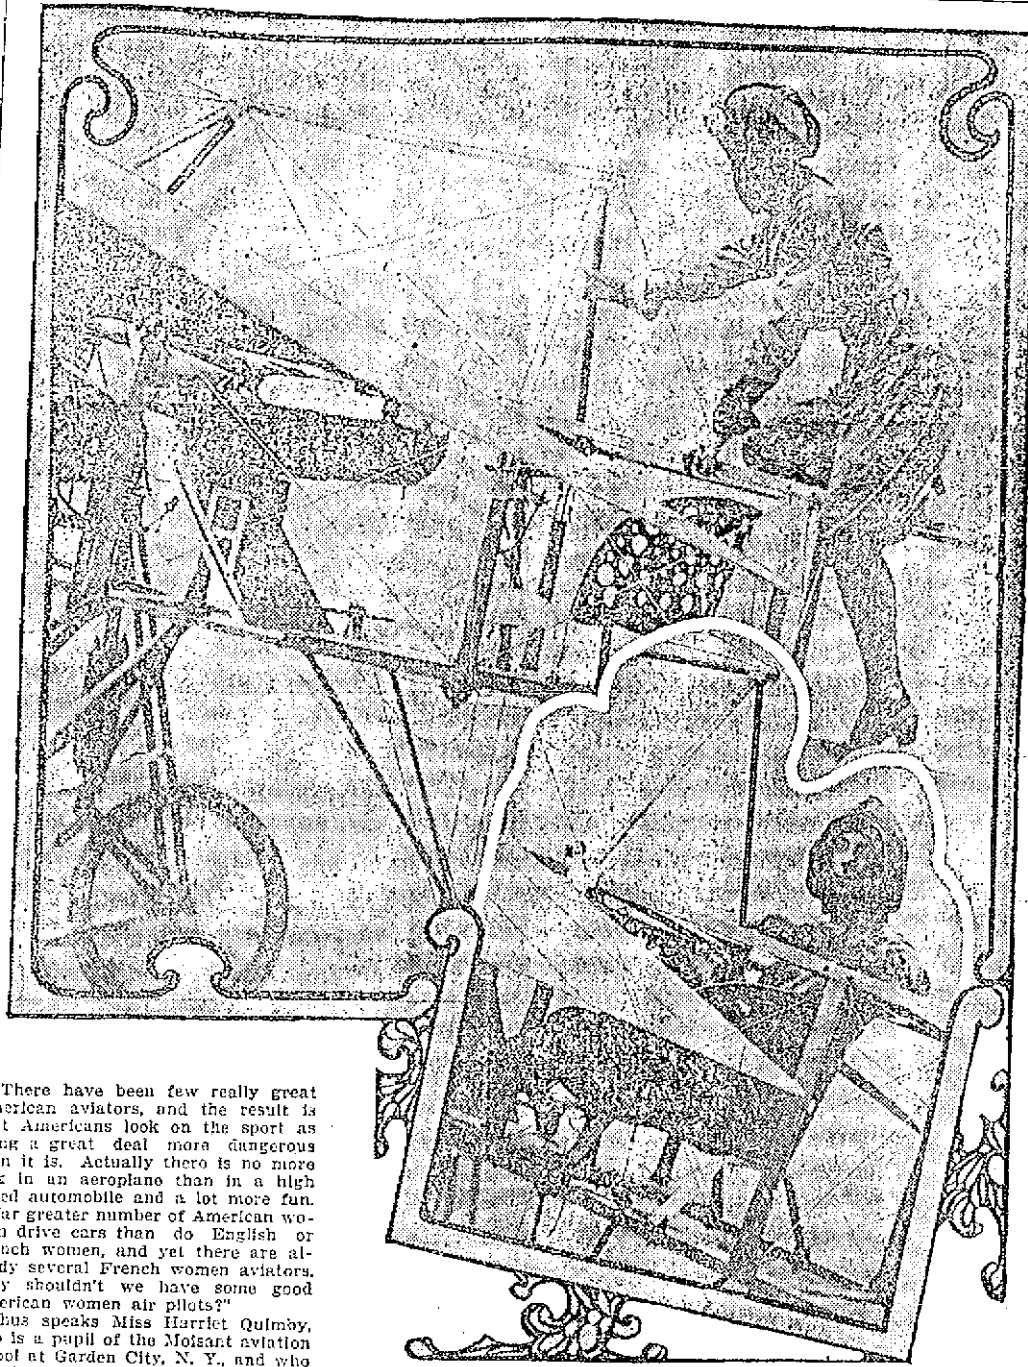

A woman will work bent in two over some intricate bit of white work until her head aches and her face grows flushed and hot with nervousness, and to what purpose does she thus ruin her health and waste the precious hours of sunshine to decorate some piece of linen with a few criss-cross stitches? Is it worth while?

If you want health, if you want to have the benefit of your summer vacation, don't stay shut up in the house playing cards, don't sit continually embroidering on the piazza; have a garden, dig in the dirt and play in it with your seeds and your watering pot like a happy child. Take walks, breathe all the air you can and expand your chest instead of contracting it in a sitting position.

"There have been few really great American aviators, and the result is that Americans look on the sport as being a great deal more dangerous than it is. Actually there is no more risk in an aeroplane than in a high speed automobile and a lot more fun. A far greater number of American women drive cars than do English or French women, and yet there are already several French women aviators. Why shouldn't we have some good American women air pilots?"

Thus speaks Miss Harriet Quimby, who is a pupil of the Moisant aviation school at Garden City, N. Y., and who has already made several flights. Miss Quimby is a San Francisco girl who has up to date been a magazine writer.

Permanent Injunction Wealthy Man Is Likely Asked at Boston to Die

Lawyer D. J. Donahue appeared in the equity session, third division, at the court house in Pemberton square, Boston, today, asking that the temporary injunction granted in the case of Harry Loures, James Countantors and George Couzoules be made permanent.

Loures and Countantors were in partnership at one time and at the present time Loures is in partnership with Couzoules. Recently a temporary injunction was granted by the court whereby Loures was not to receive any money from either of the partnerships until the court so ordered. The purpose of the hearing this morning was to petition that the temporary injunction be made permanent.

GENERAL DIAZ

Is Much Improved in Health

ON BOARD S. S. YIPRANGA, by wireless June 9.—General Porfirio Diaz received news of the earthquake in Mexico and the arrival of Senor Madero at the capital by wireless late last night while his steamer was speeding eastward for Havre, a thousand miles due east of Cape Hatteras. All night long the ship was in communication with the United Wireless Co. station at Atlantic City and ex-President Diaz postponed his usual early retiring hour until long after midnight to receive all the available news of happenings in this country.

After the first brief bulletin of the quake and the announcement that the number of dead might reach 150 or more, there came a brief account of Madero's reception at the capital. Then, as the wireless continued to work smoothly and without interference, the Atlantic City telegrapher sent full details following them with long clippings from the metropolitan dailies and newspaper comment of various sorts on the Mexican situation. Diaz read eagerly. He expressed great sorrow over the earthquake disaster, being especially concerned over the number of lives lost. He asked that an expression of his sympathy be communicated to his people and said that he hoped the casualties would prove less serious on further investigation.

The ex-president is enjoying his sea trip and declares vigorously that he is much improved in health. The weather has been fine all the way.

CELTIC ASSOCIATES

HAD ENJOYABLE OUTING AT RICHARDSON GROVE

The Celtic Associates had a quiet outing last Saturday that almost escaped the attention of the newspapers. They left their headquarters at 32 Middle street and took cars for Richardson grove, where a very enjoyable time was held.

There was a football game between the Meagher Guards and the Celtics, a drill by the company, dinner followed by sports, which with the prize winners, were as follows:

100 yard dash: First, Mike Murphy; second, Dan Redding.

Three-legged race: First, Mullen and Cunningham; second, Roark and O'Connor.

Fat men's race: First, Thomas Kennedy; second, Ed. Shanahan.

Quizzes: First, Sullivan; second, Latham.

There were guests from Haverhill, Boston and Quincy, making in all about 300 members.

STOCK EXCHANGE

NOT AFFECTED BY SUSPENSION OF BANK

LONDON, June 9.—The stock exchange was practically unaffected today by the suspension of the Birbeck bank in High Holborn with a total liability of $14,283,000. Consols opened at from 1/4 to 1/2 lower than yesterday, but quickly recovered to yesterday's close.

Pathetic scenes were witnessed in the neighborhood of the suspended institution all day. Many of the depositors were elderly men and women whose whole life savings were behind the closed doors.

An authoritative statement, given out by the directors to the effect that the bulk of the depositors are amply secured had a reassuring effect and it is the general opinion in the city that the suspension will not be such a disaster as was at first feared.

30 GORHAM STREET OFF. P. O. Tel. 2701. Satisfaction Guaranteed. Free Auto Delivery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 9.—Dr. C. Frederick Kohl, physician and capitalist, was shot and probably fatally wounded yesterday by Miss Adele Verge, a French maid, until recently employed by Dr. Kohl's wife.

The shooting occurred in the corridor of the Grant building in which the superior courts are housed. Dr. Kohl went there as a witness in a suit recently brought by Miss Verge against him and Frank A. Miller, a hotel manager at Riverside for malicious personation.

The suit which led to yesterday's shooting was the outgrowth of a quarrel between Miss Verge and a chauffeur and the woman's discharge from Mrs. Kohl's service. Miss Verge alleged that Dr. Kohl and Mr. Miller had prevented her from obtaining employment.

The case against Dr. Kohl was dismissed Wednesday, and yesterday he went to the superior court as a witness in the suit against Mr. Miller.

After court adjourned, Miss Verge descended to the main entrance and when Dr. Kohl emerged from the elevator, she drew a revolver from the folds of her skirt and fired.

The bullet entered just below the heart and the surgeons at the Central emergency hospital said his condition was critical. On the operating table Dr. Kohl retained consciousness and said he freely forgave the woman for her act.

Dr. Kohl is one of the richest men in San Francisco. He is a son of Mrs. Wm. C. Kohl, a wealthy woman. His wife was Miss Elizabeth Godsey of Washington, D. C.

The older Mrs. Kohl is now in Atlantic City, whither she went from New York, after attending the Gould and Graham wedding.

She was hurled into the middle of the road and carried unconscious to the Burnham home, where she died. Kehoe was arrested and will be held pending an inquest today.

FRENCH GOV'T

IS CONCERNED OVER SPAIN'S ACTIVITIES IN MOROCCO

PARIS, June 9.—The French government is concerned over the Spanish activities in Morocco, especially in a time when France, having attained the goal of her long-cherished dream of regaining the lost empire, is endeavoring to reorganize the Spanish army and having accomplished the pacification of the country.

Spain, seemingly determined to extend her zone in Morocco, which is now limited to Melilla and Ceuta and their environs.

The power naturally in mind which might make such representations is Germany. The German note, which was reported as being sent to France, calling attention to the limitations of the Algeiras agreement apparently has not been received here.

At Omdurman, the French ambassador at Madrid is representing to the Spanish government the unfriendliness of the French military enterprise in the troubled satrapy as endangering the confidence of the powers in the maintenance of Moroccan unity since some power might declare that Morocco was no longer bound by the international agreement but was free to act according to its own will in reference to Morocco.

The power naturally in mind which might make such representations is Germany. The German note, which was reported as being sent to France, calling attention to the limitations of the Algeiras agreement apparently has not been received here.

LEGAL NOTICES

SHERIFF'S SALE

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex ss. May 12, 1911.

Taken on execution and sold at public auction to the highest bidder on Saturday, June 17th, 1911, at 3 o'clock in the forenoon at my office Room No. 2, Hildreth Building on Merrimack street opposite Central street in Lowell, in said County, all the right, title and interest that Walter Dracut said county had not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution on the 35th day of March, 1911, at 12 o'clock in the forenoon, being the same as the same was attached on messes process in and to the following described real estate to wit: A certain parcel of land with the building thereon situated on the northwest corner of Bridge street and Greenmont avenue in the town of Dracut, in said county and being lot No. 1 on plan of said town of Dracut, E. Robbins surveyed May, 1881, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the northeast corner of the premises at the intersection of said Bridge street with northerly side of Greenmont avenue; thence northerly along said Bridge street 200 feet, more or less, to the southeasterly corner of said parcel of land; thence easterly along said lot No. 2, 192 1/2 feet, more or less, to said plan; thence southerly along said lot No. 2, 231 feet, more or less, to said Greenmont avenue; thence northeasterly along said avenue 201.50 feet to said parcel of land; thence easterly along said parcel of land 45.46 feet, more or less, to the same premises described in deed dated June 4th, 1884, recorded in Middlesex North District Deeds in Book 157, Page 618. GEORGE F. STILES, Deputy Sheriff.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex ss. Probate Court.

The heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Benjamin Hirst, late of Dracut, in said County, deceased, are hereby notified that a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to said Benjamin Hirst, of Dracut, in said County, without giving a surety on her bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-fourth day of June, A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each issue of the Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Court, this first day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex.

Respectfully I submit and represents Caroline L. Miller, of Cambridge, in said County, that she was lawfully married to Edward Miller, now of Brooklyn, in the State of New York, at January, A. D. 1907, and thereafter lived with him as his wife until the death of said Edward Miller, on November, A. D. 1907, utterly deserted her and has continued such desertion from that time to the date hereof, being more than three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said Edward Miller. And that the care and custody of their child, Charles J. Miller, born June 19, 1907, be decreed to her.

Dated this first day of June, A. D. 1911.

CAROLINE L. MILLER.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex ss. Superior Court.

June 5, A. D. 1911. It is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before the Justices of said Court, at Cambridge, in said County, on the first Monday of July next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and of the order thereon, to be published in the Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be on or before the day before the said day mentioned day, and that an attested copy of said libel and order thereon be sent by registered mail to the libellee, the copy of the libel as set out in the libel, that he may then and there show cause, if any he have, why the prayer in said libel set forth should not be granted.

Wm. C. DILLINGHAM, Asst. Clerk.

Wm. C. DILLINGHAM, Asst. Clerk.
